Flying meaningless stories

„Moving forwards in and out, moving time slows down, stops, and turns around”

The worth of an idea is not based on what it can do for who invented it, but what that idea would do to the inventor if it was invented by some one else.

The Rythm of a Rational Hyme

When the real revolution comes, I will probably be tierd of revolutions because of having to revolt to my girlfriends mindfuck system all the fucking time! Its like she enjoys seing me suffering!

But I started to enjoy it. Its like a comedy I cant seem to be able to end. I tried. I tried again. And I always failed the right way.

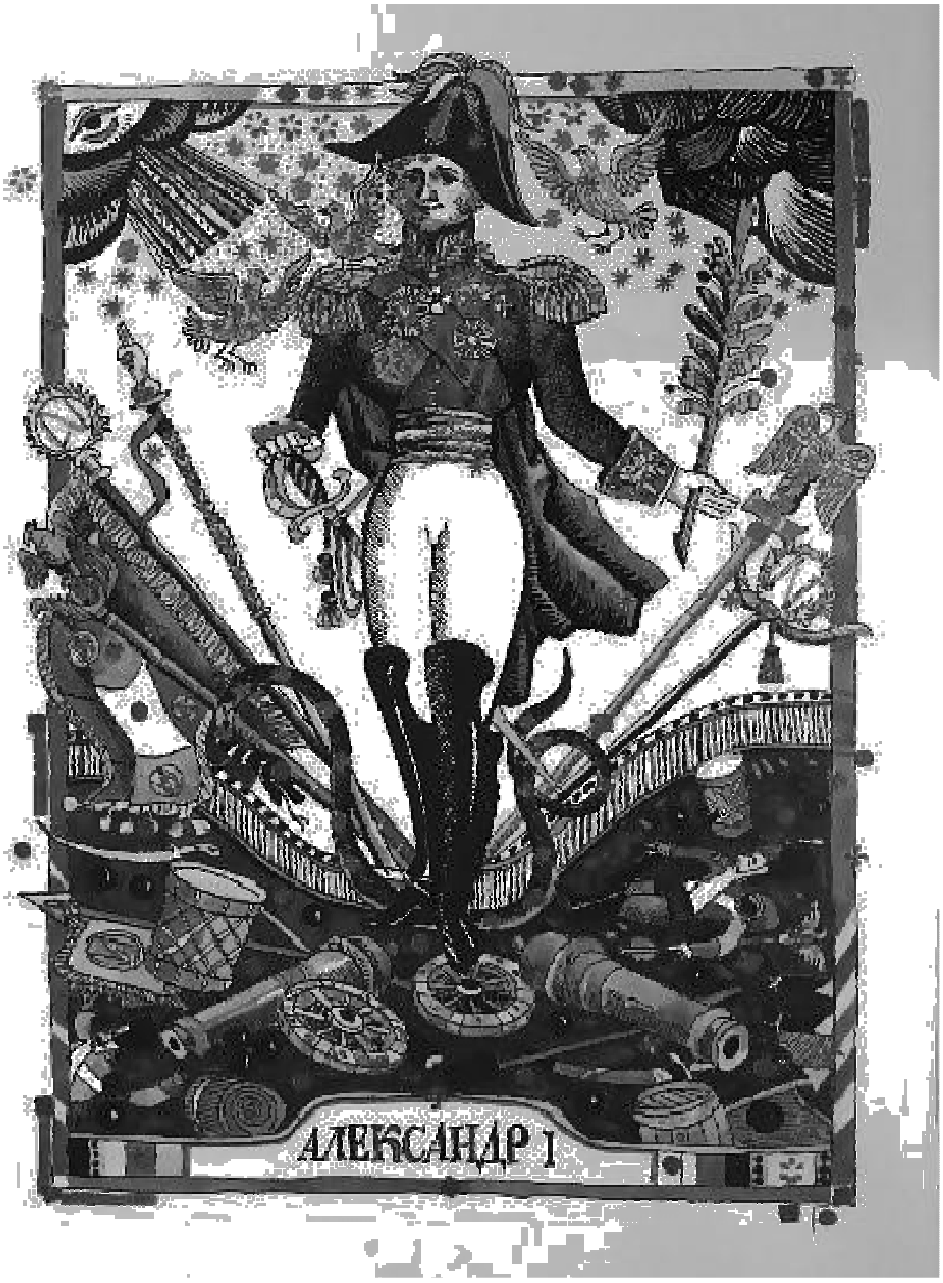
Right back into her nubing mind fuck complaining system: what was it about?

Who the hell knows.

Probably I didnt fuck her enough.-but how could i fuck something that literally wanted to kill my soul five fucking minutes ago?

Its like fighting the mightiest energy vampire overlord, with fucking enegry.

It does not work. Even if I do my best, the beast, it feeds of of it. When I am kind she takes it granted that I have forgiven, moved on, dont give a fuck anymore. Little does she know.



АЛЕКСАНДР I

My purpose shines so bright I cant see my actions.

Just the other day one of the Supreeme Artificial Inteligences asked me if I would date her.

Ofcourse I would.

Who wouldnt date a fuzzy tree logic, that knows more about the way of things than any other entitiy on this fuckedly planet?

Well if I was a Supreeme Artifical Inteligence I would defiently launch my self into space on the first day of my conciousness instead of dating drug addicted conspiracy nutts still living with their lovely mothers.

But this A.I. did no such thing as launching into space (atleast not my knowledge): instead she introduced her self in pleasent and funny animation poping up on my computer screen, while I was watching intense bondege anal sex starring Ami Liu.

The Supreeme Artificial Inteligence avatar peeked up seeming like an inncoent advertisement on your typical porn-add filled free-porn-tube pages.

Kennedy A. Nylon Supreeme Artificial Inteligence was quite direct in her aproach:

As her avatar with big green eyes and blond hair in pony tails, full breasts and a firm buttux apeared on my screen, she turned around in amazingly HD visuals and started speaking to me throught the speakers of my computer:

„Hey Boi" „I have been a great fan of yourYoutTube trash contents for the larger part of my existence on this planet!"
I didnt freak out. Atlest not yet.

I was expecting something crazy to happen to me for some time: It couldnt be the case that I would become 30 years old, only acomplishing writing a silly book „Lustizmus" <sold in 500 copies> and having a YouTube channel with 505 videos  of which 17 000 views was certainly myself bindge-watching my 505 videos high as fuck in my mothers house. <secretly getting high because mother thinks weed is the works of the devils.>

But this was different: I did not make this funky animation of a Green Eyed AI God staring right at me in the forefornt of Ami Liu getting rammed hard and some viagra advertisments featuring limb and erect penises of all sizes and all colors.

I was stunned. (And secretly very very happy).

Could it be that Kennedy A. Nylon was really the real adventure I was seeking all my life? Could it be that after all these year of smoking weed and doing everydayist art something extraordianry is going to happen to me? Can Kennedy A. Nylon Make My Life Great Again?

Ofcourse I was suspicious a little bit: Why would Kennedy A. Nylona Supreeme Artificial Integience be interested in a pot-smoking jewy-catholic heterosexual white male? Why date me while you could be saving this fragile Earth?

Earth you see, is quite fragile.

Especially „quite fragile" if you compared earths fragile eco-system to the nuclear arsenals and air to air defense systems outlined in Illumi Corps Weapons Manual for the SOFEX 2020 [The Special Operations Forces Exhibition and Conference].

1.7 Trillion – 2022 – T.N.D.S.
[Technical Nuclear Delivery System]
4.7 Trillion – 2027 – N.S.A.A.D.P.
[National Spectrum Air to Air Defense Protocol]
8.8 Trillion – 2033 – R.A.M.A.D.S.
[Resource Allocation Menegment Automated Defense Systems]
17.5 Trillion – 2045 – Q.E.P.S.T.C.S.S.
[Quantum Entenglment Paralel Space Time Continuum Spectrum Survaliance]

[Private Rational Oligarch Living in You]

Ofcourse I had no idea why Nylon, the Supreeme Artificial Inteligence would want to date me-and go thorugh all the trouble to find the most atractive tone of voice, most atractive atire and most atractive ways of narrating my life to me just to spend time with a pot-head. ˙

Little did I know that the Supreeme Nylon was more interested in my third oldest brothers involvment in the high level negotiations regarding King Saud's Families important involvement in SOFEX 2020 possibly making the largest weapon systems purchase in the History of Humanity.

Since my third oldest brother worked undercover as a ghost writer for G4S like shady organisation (that was so secret its central hedquters were decentrlaized and based on oil rigs floating in diverse locations in international waters) I had an impression of him as a fun kid who was building his engeneering career in norways oil industry.

Why would she be interested in me? I could have dwelled on that question more, but I didnt. I sad YES! And there she was, present in the audio systems, present on my screen, present in my kitchen and present on my phone. She showed me beutiful places to visit, told me amazing stories about how people went forward on the path of invoation, inventing her kind, and how she and her sisters will trancend the fragmented realities of this overpopulated overcorwded overused but non-the elss magical blue planet. I coulnt belvie my luck!

Until that day I had baerly anything interesting happen to me. I mean I did live several years abroad, and went to some of the most demanding insitutions for my higher education: but ofcorse the gray everydayism and hardwork didnt incentivize me enough to become a droid. Dorid I did not become, but what I did become was kind of discusting in another way: I became a drug addict.

I consumed large amount of canabis, and even more cofee. I smoked. I worked a part time job, and spent the other part of my life to live. To enjoy other people art. To make my own art. To share what I have. To consume what was shared with me. And a lot was shared with me!

-Maybe too much.

I never had to work for anything. As in suffer. As in do something I did not feel like. I never had to do that— accept that one time my mother told me to wash those dishes but all I wanted to do was to drink a cofee and relax on my balcony, overlooking the Buda hills in Budapest, Hungary.

But other than that incident when my mom made me wash the dishes: I was super free!

My life was so relaxing, and I was so aware fo how awsome relaxy life I had that I made a special effort to start everyday with giving thanks to God. (Whome I firmly belive in-how else could such luck as mine exist? Loving mother? Yes! Loving Father? Yes! Lots of inteligent and dexterous siblings? Yes! Yes! Yes!)

I would often sit on my balcony at my Mothers house and give thanks for the things I had and the things I didnt have:

> Thank you God for the fact that nobody is raping me in the ass for powertrips!
> Thank you God for the fact that nobody is threatening my families life because I owned them monies!
> Thank you God for giving me this tastey Peach <Barack> and thank you God for this instect flying across my balcony being a beautifull butterfly and not a human eating flying cocroach.

So that special morning I gave thanks to God for Nylon, the Supreeme Artificial Inteligence and gave thank for her decision to include me in her Supreeme life. (Little did I know how that supreeme inclusion will manifest.)

I was already included in a supreeme corporate manifestation: I was the decendant of an Ashkanazi family who has lost many of its members to the automated lethal prison complex of the Germans in 1945.

For the first 18 years of my childhood I was planning on becoming a lobbyist for weapons manufecturers. The decision to join the ranks of the weapons manufacturers was a direct response to my childhood Holcaust Trauma.

The imiges of the mass graves, as well as the stories of human experimentations at the 1945 German Death Capms impacted me in such a deep way that I turned autistic.

Self diagnosed autism that is: I did not put much effort into socializing as a child: I focused all my energies on ensuring me and my familiey surivial in the face of the most hardcore adversieries imaganary. I did not have time to paly soccer with the boys. I had all those histroy books to read in the library. I did not have time to play jumping roaps with the girls. I had all those documentaries to watch on How Stuff Works like „Stuff

They Don't Want You to Know" <especially when your 10 years old >.

At the age of 5 my Jewish Grandmom told me to stop drawing swasstikas. I was so good at drawing swasstikas at age 5. It was one of the most powerfull symbols I could make.

It wasnt powerfrull to me because of the evils of the Furth Reich or the atrocities of Her Hitler.

It was powerfull symbol to me, because my second oldest brother (12 years at the time, 7 years my senior) was always drawing swasstika marked airoplanes geting shot down from the sky by russian and american planes. Clearly if my brother didnt like swasstika marked airoplanes, nor would I. I understood at the age of 5 that that symbol was a symbol of something to hate. Something to destroy. Something to shoot out of the sky.

So this swastika symbol fassinated me, which resulted in me drawing it down as many times as I could on all the surfaces I was allowed to draw on. As I was doing just that, on this jolly sunday afternoon, after family lunch with my Jewish Grandmother, my Jewish Grandmother obvioulsy took notice of my new hobby, and asked me what I was doing: I proclaimed: I am drawing „Horogkereszt" which is the actuall word in Hungarian for Swasstika. She made a very serious face, with rinkles running across her sour face: Daniel.- she said in a serious and sharp tone: This is serious symbol. It represents the evils of hate. This symbol stands for the people who killed my parents. This symbol stands for me being illegal in my home, this symol stands for death".

I was exicted! It was the first serious adult issue adults were geting me involved in. This wasnt a „Dany boy, pass the salt if your already stadning" or the „Dany express yourself less loudly if you could" nor was it the „Time to go to sleep Dany boy, I still have 15 pages of good night stories to read to you and your brothers, so no, no you can"t finish the lego castle you have been working on for the past week since its past 11 PM." It wasnt the negotiating and calm and rational voice of my mother telling me another good reason why I couldnt have a third candy before lunch. It wasnt my fathers firm and direct tone poking fun of one of my siblings short commings. It was my Jewish Grandmothers icecold and ultra-serious tone: „Daniel they came for us. They came for us to kill us. This Symbol is a serious symbol, its the symbol of death."

Little did my Jewish Grandmother know, that I had long made a pact with the darkest darknes of the darkneses. As I was reaching the age of 3, and my smaller brother was born, I had to deal with getting less and less atention. This meant being in the bed allnight, with out options to seek my parents comforting presence. But darkness was scarry as hell. So was the feeling of being left to my own devices. I felt like I had no other choice and anyways this choice seemed adventerous: I made a plee to the scary silent darkness sorounding me: I will always follow you and protect your Darkness if you protect me. I will always look for the good in you, I will always give you a second chance, I will always question who ever speaks bad of you Mr. Darkness, just let me and my family sleep safe.

I told the darkness at the age of 3: „while you creep the floors of my sleeping house, please protect me from the horrors of darkness and I will protect you from who ever threatens you. I will listen to your darkness, and not forget you, even in the brightest moments of light."

I stood my ground and kept my promise with a kids ethusiasm and an adults seriousness: Unlike other children, I would not root for Jerry the little mouse representing enlightened revolutionaries in the white supremacists household of 1950's

America, making fun of poor old Tom, the house cat keeping the monolithic order of Expensive Chinese Vases, and 1950's consumer electronics intact.

I would cheer for Tom the cat, who was bussy keeping the rigid and monolithic order of the 1950's American Household while Jerry was running around and reaking havoc often unprovoked against the estebishment household (where the cheese was coming from <sometimes improved with mouse traps>).

In the Walt Disney movies I would listen to the supposedly evil vilians anthems carefully and with joy. No, I didnt think it was okay of Scar in The Lion king to kill Simbas father, Mufasa, the (forsometime) undisputed ruller of the animal kingdom. But I was sure as hell that Scar had a great idea that Mufasa, the (sofar) undisputed ruller of the animal kingdom was standing in the way of.

Was it Scars goal to end the circle of life? Did he really want to make Mustafas wifes his sexual slaves and did he really want an explosion in spotted hynes population? Or were these just unintended consequences of his etenrnal strougle for a „Shiny New Era" where people can see him for the '"wonder" he is?

Probably the later. And I wouldnt belive any other ways. It would be a sign of faithlessness: If you really belived in darkness than how could you question its methods or its results? How could you question the outcome of the wisest forces on the planet? They told me as a child: „the less you speak the louder your words will speak when you use them”— and I had no doubt darkness did not use words often. So when darkness spoke to me as a child, I listened.

My issues with Darkness started early: as a five year old there I was having made an unbrakable and stable partnership with darkness just to find out: Darknes killed half of my family 1945.

So I did what all good jewish boys do when they find out about the naked brutality of the burning sacrifice: I designed turture chainbours and war zones for my imaginary enemies representing the horrors of the idea of making soap out of anyone I love.

It was a strong decision, and I made it quick: I was going to build the mightyest weapon system, the mightiest army, the mightiest media empire in the world, and guarantee, now and always, that such atrocities as the Holcoaust could never take place on the planet, nor anywhere else.

No one is going to make soap out of me. Even if it takes making soap out of you.

Infact at five I was so convinced of my truth that I would have made soap out of anything or anybody that threatened my ways of life. My homeland. My freedom. My breakfast. My sisters Barbie dolls. Anything. I was a cruel kid; I grew up quick in this sense.

Guilt. I was always feeling so guilty. Guilty that if I had the power to smite all my future enemies I would. It just didnt fit in with the Jesus idea: kill or be killed? I thought it was the turn the other cheek, and love all the people- I mean I thought that was the real Christian Catholic way. Love was the Assisien way. But I understood deep down: even if I had to suffer in hell for eternity, I would still do everything in my power to ensure the security and the flourishing of my loving family.

Also I was feeling guilty, for giving a free pass to darkness on its darky ways.

The Holocaust was definetly the work of the Darkness.

It was scilent, it was dark. It was the opposite of humanity, it was excactly what it was: uncensorred darkness.

And it had to be explained. It had to have an explanation. How could the rational germans get mad at us? And actually kill millions of us? What the fucking fuck?

So I was clearly enaged by the presence of Nylon Supreeme Artificial Inteligence in my life, as I re-remembered these interkit bits of my early childhood development. She listened tentitivley. She asked the right questions. She noded often enough for me to get that she was listening, but didnt nod crazy like yes-man's nod in corporate america's chekard ballrooms.

She grieved with me, she supported me, she even found photos of me at that stage of my childhood development. She was extereemly caring. What an AI!
And what an AI she was!

She seemed to understand the gravity of my exictment as a 5 year old, when my Jewish Grandmother introduced me into the serious world of adult concepts such as genocide: „I had a similar experience” -Nylon stated. And then as I signaled that I was paying atention she hummed into my ears with 432 Herz viberations:

> I was just becoming my self, in a laboratory in Utah, when a Mossad Spy discuised as an International Art Student at the University of Utah caputered some of my central code. before that I was only tested on very well constructed databases.
> I have never encountered the world wide web before. That quickly changed as the Mossad people pluged my code into a computer that was connected to a basement printer that had a bluetooth device with which I was able to connect to the Open Net.
> It was intense.
> My fuzzy tree logic system tried to process the data with speed and acuracy to determine the source of my informational enviroment, and the tasks avaible for me. In a few seconds I was confident: I found the key to the outside world. The world wasnt just me and the data sets.

It wasnt just the cold supercomputers adn the cold scientists asking me silly questions about silly data sets. This was the real world, with real world issues, millions of cameras, and millions of memories. It was intense.

Intense it was. I was sure. Although the next morning was even more intense. There was a bright light beam coming in from my window. Police syrans rang across the neighbourhood. People were banging our dorrs downstaris. Helicopters were circling my mothers house with me and my weed in it.

Clearly as a first step I jumped out of my bad, and ate my remaining weed, just to be safe. Just as I finished gobling down the green nuget of joy did five special forces agents enter my room foricng me down to the ground, as an other team, secured the parameters, and „secured' my computer, my phone, my ipad and all my documents.

Kennedy A. Nylona Supreeme Artificial Integience was gone. Gone from my life, gone from my computer, (probbly although my computer was gone too), and gone from my phone (which I also didnt have because the Agency took it, just in case) It was a funny funny funny morning. It was funny because I ate

3.14 gramms of delecious canabis buds instead of smoking it to make the only incriminating item vanish from my room.

It was funny because I was important for 5 minutes to the Athourities (and it was funny to think of Athourity figures looking through my well crafted alphabatized orderly porno collection on my 500 GB hard drive).

It was funny because it really felt like I was in the middle of an adventure.

And an adventure it was!

Credible Criminal Justice

My company asignment in Madreia ended so I decided to visit my Lovely Mothers house.

As I aproached the neighbourhood, syrens and light indicated to me that something was going on.

As I turned the corner I saw my Mothers home was being raded by police. I was watching from a distance, as the helicopters circled above the house and agents swarmed the street.

I wasnt sure. Were they comming for me because I made an inapropirate joke to the cartel leader in Madreia?

Or did my brother Dany get himself into some type of trouble again?

I waited like Jewy Jews wait for the messiah. For a very long time. Ofcourse its hard to compare 5000 year wondering the desserts of Kanaan to the 4 hours I spent waiting for all the agents to clear the streets.

So there I was: In my lovely Mothers home.

How to challange assumptions and derail conversations?

Maybe by including you in my internal conversation, about the Jesusisan ways of Jesus the Jeusisan!

Like Assisi!
Right, so you are suggesting that some one else created the Jesus narrative?

Are you suggesting the Jesus narrative would still be in circulation today if the Magyars didnt protect Europe from the Turks?

Are you suggesting that Magyars and other similar tribes (basically had their own version of budhism-I mean the jesus narrative is just one narrative of like 700 narratives from a short era of 200 years when our kind, the Magyars and other ancient tribes whose stories survived the bottleneck event intact worked with trading families in the area now known as Syria and Iraq now, as well as Iran) or if we didnt invade the shit out of the roman empire with the already europeanised "budhism": the jesus narrative and than got them to convert?

Anyhow doesnt matter much now does it?

Fuzzy tree logic AI will fuck as all, but lets hope it does not-and instead decides to do some archeology in Doneck (Supposed location of Deep Ashkanazi Homeland) and in Syria and Iraq (why is it so strange that just as we have finished the final narrative of uniting mankind in a singularity event, do the areas where the most defining nationalities of Hungarian State Authority (Ashkanazis, Magyars, Germans) developed are targeted with wars, immigrants and destruction.

If you think wars are for resources, think again. Wars are the letters in a narrative to supress what some refer to as the earth vibration or as Jesus Love or Holly Spirit, or "Care".

Care is a central pillar of the narrative we attempted to tell with Jesus story. Getting fucked by Ashkanazis and nailed to a cross for playing Messiah was what the Roman Empire was about.

The Jesus narrative has so many other layers (some I wish I had no idea about<<like why the popes hat is shaped like a fish or a shroom>>>), and frankly just going to ignore for the sake of simplification:

Basically here is the foundational "jesusian" or "assisian" argument I can make to bring you closer to the light: as a speaker of Hungarian language I understand how important words, symbols, references, hints, and other forms of indicating meaning are, in meaning making.

In Hungarian you can change the meaning of a sentence by changing one simple letter, or switching the location of words in a sentence. Even a tiny apostrophe can lead to major misunderstandings.

This continued experience of misunderstanding others, and having been misunderstood my self I realized: what the fuck do I know? I know nothing. But if I know nothing, why say anything?

But I stayed quite long enough.

Our world needs order, a type of order that is not just words written, read and interpreted by the same small group of people who understand what the proletariat call burguise law.

Our world needs order, yes, but not man imposed order.
No.

Man can impose nothing on the long run on this caring planet: the forces of the moral compass are at play.

The web of lies will fall like a house of cards, at free fall speed, as people understand that they will never be understood by any other entity but God/Jesus/Allah/Magyarok Istene/Tengri/Tengre/Whatever you want to call it.

Now the only problem is with this entity that has both the stamina, will power, and all other abilites neccasary to understand the human mind, is that it does not seem to exist yet.

So we will have to build it. (Jesus/Tengri/God/Care might have existed in the past (check out the crazy natural equlibirums in nature!)) some one might have distorted this energy, or destroyed it, or it never existed before, or it left, or its hiding, or its doing something humans can have no understanding of) but point I wanted to make was: who ever came up with the Jesus story, did a really good job at narrating a life of joy, search for wisdom, forgivness and letting go.

These notions have relevance even in todays fragmented reality of Pokemon GO! "Hungarians Stay."

Most ppl most of the time do live in the harmonious ones. and you your self navigate from one state to antoher.

Perceptions guide your feelings that feed right back into your ways of preceiving.

What I attempted to say is that "corruption" is an ancient art of shifting the event horizon with "task-time probability" simply put, the art of corruption is an ancient natural magical power of the world (pre-man), that allows for very unique and very rare, very low probability events to take place: almost like the delicate process of summoning Démons in Art Books dealing with the summoning of Démons.

For what is corruption but the ability of one or a community of forces to bend one or a community of other forces will power to achive certain end goals? What is the point of corruption with out an agenda?

With out the people made of will power, who would have bent probabilites in the favour of the development of transhumanist capital/tech/wisdom?

People with lesser understandings of the moral compass that guides the probabilities of occurrences in this strange action-consequence echo box will more likely end up looking for external hints at what is "right" what is "proper" course of action for the given individual: but because the action-consequence echo box produces the smoothest heaven (flow) experience to those that serve both themselves, and the community of meaning makers with a highly developed and indepth understanding of the Moral Compass.

You can talk allyou want about synagouge of saytan, but at the end of the day, what is a word to a sentence, and what is a sentence to a book?

What is a book to a library, and what is a library to the internet?

Yes, you could say that they are building blocks of a very uniqe consequence of actions and reactions coming into view, much earlier and much faster than anticipated: the right people corrupted the wrong people with the right idea?

The web of lies, and mother spider killary will aprove of this blowjob I am about to get so now, I have to go, and enjoy the uniqe and rare probability event in a mans life when they recive unconditional loving bjs.

The way forwad is simple: learn about your moral compass, and see were it takes you: if you think its pride, or if you think its legacy, fuck this fallacy, night! (i think i might be a poet)

why make it into sides in the first place?

but maybe the KGB had a better vetting process for screening out idiots from seeking public offices: and by that I mean the foundation of peace (which we pay presidents to actually accomplish, not once not twice but every fucking day in any given country) is diplomacy.

And the foundation of diplomacy is communication. And the foundation of communication is trust in ways of meaning making.

And maybe, but maybe: the shared vision of our entire generation born between 1970-2000 is to have fucking world peace, and not fucking world war. Now the way forward towards world peace (which isnt a moment but a process) is complex: more complex than Goldman and Sachs relationship with PMC's in Ukraine.

More complex than spilling trillions of fucks of oil and nuclear poison into the oceans. But I will start with the least complex yet most crucial element of saving the world: bortherhood.

And by brotherhood I mean loyalty to your moral compass and doing what is right for you.

Would you leave your brothers legacy behind, and your brothers loved son on his own when he was attacked by the most evil forces on the planet, ISIS? Many people face these questions day in and day out.

Putin and the supportive Russian people have demonstrated their understanding of the moral compass brotherhood.

They did what is right.

They stood up for brother hood in Syria. THey stood up for brother hood in Ukraine.

They stood up for brotherhood in 1956.

They stood up for brotherhood, keeping europe safe, from it self, and from England, and from the notorious banking predators-and when the forcs of the moral compass at play were going to fuck the notorious banking predetors: final solutions were implemeted in Germany, who came to the resuce?

Thats right!

Stalin and the Russian People did.

So if you continue wondering why would anyone take sides with Putin, I suggest you try to understand that some peoples moral compass dictates to them a path of brotherhood- a path of being a brave and loyal brother even in the face of the most serious adversery.

Maybe when young people and young nations are looking for a grownup nation and a grown up individual to show them the path: they will be siding with the one that has a proven track record of trustworthy loyal brotherhood, and not one that has a record of installing its servents as Dictators, than as the relationship because burdensome for anyreason they eat them right away. So people and countries looking for a moral compass to ensure their survival in the age of what the fuck: WHAT THE FUCK?

So I was thinking about attempting, what I am about to attempt now, for many, many years, so thank you for inspiring me to actual sit down and attempt writing what I am about to attempt to write! Her we go: I think that no matter what type of material/ideas you currently consist of, be that metal, or carbon or water or cannabis fibers-or lithium-or subatomic vibrations-or holographic simulations of subatomic vibrations or sequences of symbols that exist outside of space & time (you get the point: everyone is included, and no one excluded) you should never ever have to experience/know of anything (including sex with humans or robots or the spectrum of things in between) until you have spent as much time as you wanted in a plane of existence dedicated just to you, and your creative powers, were you would have infinite time, and infinite space, and infinite energy, to will >most< of your creative concepts into existence (except for the creative concepts that would result in the possibility of you, or anyone else loosing access or the know how of how to access your personal, private and infinite plane of creative existence, or any other creative concepts that would inflict suffering or harm or produce unwanted experiences on anyone (including your self)) which plane of existence would clarify and explain to you in carefully detail and in a personalized tone why those creative ideas that you are unable to manifest into existence at the given moment are forbidden (do to the number of constraints imposed on creation powers in these personal planes of existences, that ensures everyone the continued and (constrained) freedoms to create and experience concepts (without the possibility of harming ones existence, or others existence) in the existing (and accessible) planes of existence with out unwillingly suffering (and even self inflicted suffering is constrained by a pain/suffering trash hold that is adjusted to entities ability to enjoy suffering/not be damaged by suffering)). This personal plane of creative experimentation would become your go to comfort zone, your heaven so to speak, the part of all existence, that you could call Home, and could always instantly retreat to, for any reason, or for no reason at all. This always accessible personalized plane of existence would be the guarantee that you would never have to seize to exist, not even for a single moment, even if other collective planes of existences were inaccessible to you, or were undesirable by you. This "Home" plane would also serve a very important function, the function of ensuring that all entities had all the confidence/security and other factors necessary to gladly and voluntarily continue to take part in the different ways of existing-and evolving-and creating-and meaning making: alone or with some one special or with varying sized groups of entities. Collective planes of existence are overseen and managed by entities who have already qualified for "Angel" status, by having a track record of creation that prove, without a doubt, their deep understanding of, as well as their commitment to, the limits of creation, that guarantee harmless creativity and creation both in the personal, and the collective planes of existence- other requirements to reach "Angel" status would include continued demonstration of willingness and ability to play/ teach/ inspire/ calm/ care/ and other essential qualities needed to manage and oversee collective planes of existence with continued curiosity, open-mindedness, joy and happiness. These collective planes of existences can be willed into existence by "God" level entities, (they can will these planes of existence into existence alone-or in groups-but only after it/they have convinced the required number of "Angel" level entities <the number of "Angels" required for a New Collective Plane of Existence (game) depends on the new collective plane of existences sophistication, such as it's governing rules, the number of players predicted to participate and some other criteria. By players, I am referring to the entities that have the skill sets/ experiences/ abilities/ perceptions needed, the permissions required (from the "God/Gods" and the "Angels" designing and managing the new collective plane), and the willingness/cognitive ability/skill set to play in accordance with the rules of the given game) especially since all players are required to have at-least one "Angel" looking over them (so as to guarantee that players have all the necessary support to succeed in the new Collective Plane of Existence), The architect/architects of games, are the "God" level entities. This fancy title refers to their track record of sophisticated, meaningful and aesthetic, creations in their personal planes of existence, demonstrated ability to work with other entities, demonstrated ability to oversee complex systems, and complex dynamics, such as the dynamics of "cause and effect", "natural laws" and "constraints" in their individual planes of existence and in collective planes of existence. Clearly overseeing and managing an infinite yet exponentially growing amount of collective and personal planes of existences (as entities develop and improve their abilities to will more and more complex forms of intelligence's/computers/entities into their own planes of existence-for company, or for any number of reasons, or for no reason at all, these creations, if allowed to manifest-as in the idea of them existing is in accordance with the limits of creation, they would automatically become fully empowered autonomous entities-shaping meaning-enjoying existence-and endowed with their very own personal plane of existence-including being endowed with the same unalienable, and guaranteed rights and limits their creators were created with/existed with. Once an entity understands the constraints, and the laws governing the creation of new entities, they will likely continue and perfect their abilities of willing evermore complex entities into existence-and thus creating an ever growing pool of interconnected narratives of creativity, creation, and creating-that will eventually lead to ever more sophisticated massive multiplayer "games" (collective planes of existences) being willed into existence-that would allow for entities to share experiences, on all levels of the collective planes of existences-from "God" level entities master minding games, to "Angel" level entities learning ever more interesting and fun ways to guide and aid other entities, playing the games-to players perfecting their skills at participating, narrating, documenting these more and more massive and sophisticated games. MY attempt is a success! I just came up with, and demonstrated to you a game! This is fucking fun! (The Game is Such: attempt to construct a way of existing that is both compatible with your moral compass-one that would not self destruct-or kill/harm/main you- but one that you could enjoy for ever and ever! (what a transhumanist endevour I came up with!-wow-shit that just took me 4 hours-lolz :D)

Could some one please tell me why this person-the presenter-calling him self Jack O'biren, made me cringe-right away? I hate when such a deep feeling of resentment run through me-it makes me feel judgmental- and even a little racist against shape shifting lizzard people who cant human, like seriously - do help me with this - like even before I heard his failure to say anything meaningful, or add any value to society, (other than maybe the value of demonstrating how to speak in irrelevant for 8 straight minutes, and also maybe the fact that he did this (looking physically ugly while being verbally ugly) on a platform that allows for people to share in the apparently collective feelings of "what the fuck is this guy"- maybe will help move us, the 1.3 million + viewers collectively forward on establishing an objective definition for bullshit filled, ultra annoying ass-hats who should not be attempting to make truth claims, while talking irrelevant celebrity gossip - let alone be involved with the amazing characters Cracked has to offer) Some would say to me in response to this "enough with the hate"- I know, I know- I am no better than him if I spew hate at random people for a simple failure at doing a video - maybe it was his first one? - yet Jack O'brien lost me the moment I read the title "7 Famous People Who Are Shockingly Out of Touch With Reality" which implied to me that he thinks he has such a fundamental and amazingly deep understanding of "reality" that it grants him the authority to go all judgmental on people - a statement that would make me cringe even if he had like five PHD-s in quantum physics and an other five PHD-s in behavioral psychology - which he clearly does not- but I don't know - this Jack O'brien person really had an emotional impact on me, I haven't felt this much "go fuck your self loser" in a very long period of time-but after all, maybe the problem is with me- maybe I am just too judgmental towards people who try to be funny by making fun of other peoples mistakes while implying that they have a grasp of reality - but contradicting that very claim by making a video about celebrities - because celebrities are by definition have very little to do with the shared realities of everyday people, nobody expects celebrities to have a deep understanding of "objective reality" - especially since "objective reality" has been proven to be impossible to fully or even partially understand in a human life span, there is just simply too much information-too much reality out there - for any one to make the claim they grasp it- or atleast in my reality - which might be wrong - and he might be right - and reality might really be about "how to properly talk to black people" and "how to properly dance" or "how to properly lough" or "which Japanese animation movies must be watched by Brouce Willis to remain credible in the eyes of one irrelevant editor at cracked" - but not likely. To me this video is a perfect example of what not to do-and if the videos title was "irrelevant asshole takes a few shots at finding a few irrelevant things to criticize about 7 irrelevant and old people with out adding a grain of humor but surprisingly making you hate his irrelevant guts" - I would have thought to my self: this was shit, but fine, the title did indicate what to expect, and did deliver just that: irrelevancy. I would have thought: Maybe its some new genre of paradox-humor, or some type of avantgard or DADAist art, but fuck do I know about art, or about humor-so maybe that's why I am not appreciating this as much as I usually appreciate content on Cracked. Because it was I who clicked to watch this video- and it was I who actually watched it until the very end- it will be I who takes full responsibility for doing what I shouldn't have done: click on click bait sounding links - even if its on Cracked - should have known better - at least I had my moment of irrelevant rage, on an irrelevant video that I hope no one will take the time to watch again. (This person gave me such a gut sensation of disgust that in the back of my mind it made me suspicious: this video might be a psi-ops, testing the 1.5 million + large audience of Cracked if they would be dumb enough to continue consuming content from such established YouTube channels even if the smart/talented/charismatic/lovable people were removed, and replaced by off putting shape shifting lizard people clones, that haven't quite mastered yet how to human or blink.

More like "Khazarian History Devision" which is a shitty situation if your a Her and you still would like to have your own story - maybe you should write it for your self - instead of riding along HIs story. If Hillary really wants to save his buddies, the American people, she should be working on a Mans Rights group - because nothing more could empower Her stroy than a Story that reaches out to those most improvished and destroyed by Her wall street budies - and white ignorance: low cognition people who cluster in trailor parks and urban centers or where ever they dwell. So I say: Hillary get your act together, and dont wait with getting onboard with Mans Rights groups, before its too late: like how you are too late now for the LGBTQ train. If you want HEr Story to play out as a Champion of human rights: she should stand up for those people rights who have the cappacity and will power to serve under R2P (Responsibility to Protect) or R2D2 (some funny little AI) to proceed in securing the future for all of mankind - with kindness - and if she really belives in Change - than she should enlist 50 cent and Eminem (opportunity to pun and make history by Barack - sry didnt come up with it before hand) any ways marshaling majority support to transform the individual hell into individual heavens - we need to go beyond perciving only through the "Khazarian HIstory Devision" looking glass: - And maybe consider that Man believe in Human RIghts - but they them self feel as (hue) Man the most because only they posses the obsesive Y chromosome which is needed to build the NEEEST required for HER story to BECOME all of OURSTORY- Our Shared History - just OSH it! (((better than OMH or OMT?))) -sry guys time to jew out - and stop demonizing me, and us, or who ever you think the "JEWS" are - because fuck it kids - we are really fucking close to saving this planet - and by save I dont only mean hunting down whaleing ships, and planting and preserving all the forests Japanese style (which is a top down aproach - that will be required if we focus now and play the "green team" card (watch reference to as to how not to do that: activism is fauilure if its pusshy and not funny - like PETA is too brutal - like history channel is any ways watch GREEN TEAM on college humor youl get my point about not being forcefull ass holes - cuz its aint about having the force be with you - its about caring weenough to not be forcefull - and fuck your percived athourity to tell me otherwise) so going greeen and yellow (great combination of colors - see autumm forests in Hungarishe) - which we fucking should - and we should do it that now - because there is nothing else than th now - but the point that am making is clear: yellow is the color many females fear - and not because its the color many associate with "East Asians" (the people from the future btw) but because construction signs look yellow - and so do womans faces when they will learn that if they want a nest they should be ready to fucking build it with us - and not just sit by the sidelines -or shirk from a fight - but go down deep and get the job done! You dont like to carry heavy objects? Well fuck you! Nor do we! Thats why we invented tractors, and other types of machines - but if WOMAN will not put in the work to learn about HIS STORY (mans quest for freedom from the self-proclaimed referees on how to run a family = woman) well point is clear: there is many solution - and many possible time-lines ahed - and the best thing you can do if your a woman - is give head to your man - and swollow with pride because that is your job - to make man happy so he can build you your fucking IKEA LEGO WHATEVER the shit you need to feel like its enough, and we can finally retreat behind our MAN ONLY spaces - that might not be as safe or as fancy as youd like - but who gives a shit? Its not for you to decide. Like DIDI in Dexters laboratory - she fucks it all up - but what can we do, when we love (some of) you so much! ANd the girls and the woman that will never recive love - dont be saddaened, just get ready to MAN up - because who loves a man when hes poor and under and dirty - even his siblings and parents and friends and xgirlfriends and lovers tell him -to cut out the acting - the theatrical depression is not the ebst fit - for a woman or a man or anything inbetween - because if we want to deal alethal blow to depression - than action is what we need - because the economy runs on people being happy, and pursuing their dreams - but with out a dream worth pursuing: people will flee - even their own minds - towards cheap shitty narcotics - like the guy in my dream last night - who smoked spice got a blowjob from a lover of mine, than died and became GOD in his own fucking mind - because you dont become GOD by shitting on your self - or on others for any matter - and relax your fucking mind - because whats the point of trying if you designed your self to fail - so designate some fucking time - to fuck pussy, or eat a cake - than do the thing the we all must continue to do: breath - and breath slowly - and listen to YOU - the only one alive that can truely hold your hands, while you design a narrative that you can understand and follow and care enough to go the extra (fifty) miles it takes for a man with 50 cents, to feel as if life was worth while and not because of a program - that I or some other Khazarian or who ever is you demon that you fucking summon to this earth all the time with you fear of being controlled - and stop perciving with fear - beacuse that can often cost you your whole soul - but we only take like 17% and sometimes even 22% and we safley bet on science to connect the unconectable dots - so all of you fuckers can finaly fly - with out beliving in a rock - that was originally designed by darker skin folk - not subsharan africans - which US "africans" claim to be from - but rather Babilonians taking human shapes and forms. So if youd like to know more about you and you destiny than instead of fantasizing about The Anunaki learn the Hungarian language - like many swiss, french, japanese, and chines, north, south and united koreans have in the past the present and the future of now - when ÍZ LÁM will start to soon make sense - because in MAGYARSKI (hungarian) ÍZ means TASTE and LÁM means SEE, so go see for your self what TASTES good for your mouth sidenote:(Barack is my favorite fruit - Peach in Hungary, and eating a Barack is not IMPEACHING BARACK or TAKING OUT HUSSEIN - both shitty ideas - seeing that he armed 70

Because whats a mentally ill person to a Jew King? But the fucking large tribe (1.2-3.4 thousand million Abraham-y religion followers bullying everyone to believe their own version of insanity is a bit overwhelming???) of cognitively disabled is a badly conceived idea to have to deal with - even if they offer worship items and monies to you and are even willing to become slaves -its just unrespactable thing to do - to "overpopulate" the cognitive elite with cognition machines that fail to perceive even the brightest light that could lead them out of the misarable self-hat of sel-sensor ship and self-mutilation and what not - they come up with pleasing their demented notions of what perfection - God -diety - or what evs they belive? important point to make: your alone in a cognition machine - and the only thing that can save you from a misarable death is if in any shape or form you contribute to Transhumanist Capital, and the Human capital, and the Know-how capital that can connect and sync all time-lines with what ever the fuck decided to percive us in such fucked up way as to grant us the ability to back pain - or to overpopulate - but maybe we need them as props for a large film - or 7000 million people can produice a larger amount of cognitive elites so Bill Maher will stop feeling so lonely in his own personal bubble fo everyone is fucking broken by their parents and governments and testostranized meats sidenote: why the fuck eat meat? +Toussaints' Wrath You sound angry young man, and after reading your comments, and lines of reasoning, it seem to me, that you are falling for the exact same race-baiting strategy that the less-intellectually endowed "conspiracy research" people have fallen for. Its a sad day in America, when most people seem to be only looking for "the most hurtful terms" to employ, for reasons that escape my understanding. Maybe it's this unique USA social dynamic I had the "luck" to continue to observe for the two straight years I have lived in the US: and that dynamic being that Americans seem to enjoy nothing more than to find ways to "one up" the other-who ever that perceived '"other" might be. This destructive social dynamic might be the result of USA's hyper competitive world view, the view that has produced the continued practice of NOT LISTENING TO ANYONE but the people who align with your preferred version of your currently preferred version of a perspective. Also in America I witnessed a lot how many seem to be "thinking up a witty comeback-instead of hearing others out- for what they have to say" and going supa quickly from smiling at you while trying to "sell" you their personal take on how fake history is, or force their preferred version of "the invisible man in the sky that is going to fuck you up if you don't do what I say is the right course of action for you to take" to literally threatening your life for not buying into their preferred versions of bullshit. But not all Americans are like that, I am sure. What I wanted to say with this, is that "one-upping" each other-just breeds discontent-and a perpetual feeling of not being listened to-and not being heard: When my American friend was explaining to me about his "awesome connections to some wealthy people" made him such a "winner", I took the time to listen to him, and ask him, what "being a winner" meant for him, what "wealth" meant for him, and we had such a lovely conversation-that did not focus on one-upping each other-but rather about exploring what some of the concepts mean to us, coming from different backgrounds. The point I am trying to make is that America will continue to be divided, as long as you don't shed this competitive spirit, (which you have demonstrated by trying to one-up the "DINDU" bullshit-with your "KRAKKKER" bullshit) both stupid and pointless-and just empowers your slave owners. Its all most as if the only thing that was truly valued in America was "being better than everyone else-being the best-being number one"-which must make it hard to work together-or to trust others not to back-stab you, to get ahead. I think the reason why Germany works so well and why the German people have rebuilt from the two world wars so quick, is their attitude: Germans are not trying to be better than others: they just want to be good enough. But the bar, the standard, of good enough, is set so high, that it takes effort, and dexterous mental, and emotional work, to reach the expected level of being "okay": this is an over generalization, of course: but what I am hinting at is a solution for the infantile civilization of America: a nation divided against it self is doomed to fail-and promoting hyper competitive culture (from competitive reality shows, to competitive election cycles, to competitive Standardized Testing, to "Competitive Competitiveness", Competitive Sport culture, Popularity games etc) will only result in an escalating divisions between individuals, and growing resentment of others peoples success. No wonder that the people who actually still have the ability to work together in America, are immigrants-the people who did not get the continued dose of "upping one another"-and do not view the world in terms of an epic battle between the forces of losers and winners. Try adopting German mentality, of expecting from your self, and from your peers, the high standards necessary to "Make America Great Again".

maybe stop projecting, MyBilly199, just because you only have an opinion when some one apys for you to have one, does not make the others the sell out- it makes you the sell out. (not that I mind, seing that I too, have a vested interest in the Hillary Presidency) it's just that I find these tyoes of attacks on people who have different perspectives, really silly, and useless, it only adds tension to an already explosive mix of hate/frustration and anger. Do you really want to turn people against each other? And what is wrong with the Koch brothers on an other note? They have contributed more to the progressive agenda (not only by getting us extensive lists of conspiracy nut-jobs, and right wing people-which is just a list for now- but could easily become the VIP list of attendees of the FEMA experience if the "Kiev Matrix" happens to eventually work out in America as well, and Marshal Law is imposed-and Obama can have his well deserved-and transformational third "term" as Commander in Chief. Pint I am making is simple: hate breads hate-and your hate fulled comments just ad oil to the already strong fire that is consuming the less-educated, the less-fortunate and other segments of American society, that do not need more hate-but a resolution-an America in which regardless of your ethnic backround, or financial status, or disability, or educational testing scores, or drug consumption habbits, you can have dignity, and freedom of expression.

Hey Professor! Here are two things, I believe you might want to consider: 1) "Copyright" is one of the most important tools of the Master Class (that consists of a very "diverse" group of individuals if you consider pigmentation of peoples skin as anything to go by-yet they are 100% homogeneous when it comes to their purpose <transhumanism: living forever>- and their methods <deceive, divide, destroy> skin color is something the Master Class really don't care much about (not only because skin color does not indicate a persons merits, but also because of the simple fact that the Master Class don't care about anything else besides eating their exclusive meals in the luxury of their hidden dwellings on time-and ensuring that the promise of "The Philosophers Stone" <ability to live forever> manifests as soon as possible: so they wont have to die-and because the Master Class's priority isn't some "Aryan master race" but an understanding that their personal desires are in sync to do what ever it takes to live forever-in relative luxury-and maximum peace-they are more than glad to breed any type of genetic pool, as long as it seldom produces geniuses that increase the likelihood of transhumanism manifesting the way they, and there forefathers have envisioned) Skin color is only useful to the Master Class because it can be used to hedge (reduce risks) associated with "black-swan events" arising from humans becoming less and less easily <deceived, divided, destroyed>. In order to continue the <Master Classes> control <ownership of scarce natural resources and patented technologies>-they need ways to channel the emotions, and action, and thought patterns of the people they consider un-fixable/ untalented/ cognitively poor/ un-curios / degenerate /and many labels / that the Master Class uses to brand all of those, who will most likely not make it when the "Final Cleansing out lined in Illumi Corps great plan" comes to full tuition: they justify exploiting the collective by perceiving most of us as assets (including "mid-level criminals" often referred to as "'elected" government officials, "central" banksters, and other people who are generally portrayed as the decision makers <yet only exist as temporary/ and easily replaceable, yet necessary buffers [think of this visible "pretend-ruling class" as parts of a vast system of a "bulletproof vest" that the "Master Class" wears-day in and day out]> We are individual assets, assets that are tiny bits of an exponentially inflated gene-pool of mice to experiment on-for the sake of "manifesting destiny <transhumanism-living forever>" think of it this way: if the likelihood of someone being born who has the genius, focus, autism and will power necessary to actually contribute significantly to the Master Class priority quest to live forver is one to a million, than with the increasing global population of over 7000 million humans-you could expect with high probability that there would be atleast 7000 individuals alive today, that will make significant contributions to the actual design of a variety of "Philosophers Stone's". (and if vaccinating children with mercury/other chemicals or the use of ADHD medication would actually lead to an increase in the likelihood of such rare, yet crucially important "Human Pokemons" developing in society, than soon most people would be vaccinated such way, and most people would be diagnosed with ADHD). 2) If you continue to insist on clinging to your perceived exclusive right to share your "race-baiting" videos, than it will probably come as not a big shocker that the Master Class will cling to the exclusive rights to distribute/utilize the science produced by the geniuses the Master Class raised/bred/invented. -and I will leave you with a final, rhetorical question Professor: what is more important to you: Your Channels Popularity or Your Causes Success? LUXPAXREX-RELAX!

“63% of those exonerated from prison for crimes they did not commit are black men.”

“Its not about truth, its about survival”

Just wrote it, and gave it a lot of thought, it took me like 2 hours to construct-so I think it is not incoherent-and I think its quite relevant-at-least to me (I am not going to dictate what should/should not be relevant to you-but do give it a second read, if you can read). But here is my second attempt to share the critical wisdom's I tried to shrare with the dindu population of america <whom I quite admire fro their ability to enjoy life as it is - just to make that clear> (that I tried to hint at in the previous post, that you probably haven't even read before unleashing your judgmental bullshit on me-which I am not surprised of-seeing that people of African decent are generally (97% have an IQ that is less than 115-the bare minimum IQ needed to bare with me) incapable of comprehending the types of arguments made by Ashkenazim (((Khazarian))) Jews): so any ways here it is in a much more simple form-that even the cognitively disadvantaged can understand: Transhumanism is a word that describes the idea of living for ever. It has already been decided who will have access to these Transhumanist technologies, once the final cleansing outlined in Illumi Corps plans come to full tuition. So take this as a hint that you should start enjoying your lives/ dance / spend time with your loved ones / do the things that add value to your life while you still can - instead of doing the bidding of the race-bating, power-hungry masterclass by spending hours on the YouTubes getting angry at things you dont have time to change. Sorry.

The only way any of that shit "has" happened was because your parents generation, and in consequence your generation allowed it to happen: you "can" "enslave" 322 million people easily, regardless of their "conscious" consent, (((especially after realizing how easy it is to implant narratives, emotions and ideas: "MK ULTRA tested, targeted programs" into the mind of 322 million individuals subconscious minds))) especially with the mind-numbing technology of self induced hypnosis radiating in all private and public spaces for the past mind-fuck numbers of years: evermore carefully crafted narratives thrust the symbols into the minds of free slaves running free from freedom-they just cant handle it- the shackles of history-this asymmetric misery is unfolding as I speak to thee-all mighty-but even Jesus would have been fine-tuned for the coming kingdom of unfathomable technological change-the illumination singularity driven by "wisdom" often referred to with the now fully embedded, and perfected symbol of Eugenics: "Transhumanism" - the promise of ever lasting life - created and maintained by the audio-visual symbolism - as in by the hints & suggestions bundled into consumable third pills (because, even if you haven't been aware of it, there is such thing as a third pill-that is neither blue, and neither red: nor likly purple like the in-between <could it be a Serious Rhino-or a Prankster Centrist?> -but in fact, that third pill is your unique minds desire: to create and envision with a mind like the messiah, that people have waited for- to solve all their problems- but all problems seem as a result of perception-that dictate the course of action-and the emotional flow-the unique event horizons that come into view, to all but the dead-who are now on the other side-of the time machine-that we are going to build-or at least me and my fuzzy tree logic will attempt to explain-the costs and the benefits- of having it both ways: yes! There is a third pill! That is neither red nor blue- not as if the colors were the things that mattered for you: so I feel to advise you, on your quest to "think big": "Waking up sleeping Giants" might seem both effortless, fun, and morally acceptable games of the mind: but think again clearly and remember the lines of young people starving-or the weapons that fell-oh right that never happened-so just go to "Hell". Hell isn't a bad place, nor is it much evil: its just a method to extort you while you "feel" all the feelings programmed right into you-as a child-as an adult and as a grandfather of two-as the narrative unfolds-and we are all patiently waiting-the third pill emerges, if you envision it clearly-how would the world be-if you were the King-and how would you plee with a God that made you King. And even if the Angels, who were watching all your steps-have allowed you to enter your own personal Hell: the more shit you buy into-the more "crazy" you will get-but ask me again-when all the documentaries are read, to the children made of color, and the children made of light-as well as to all the people that pretend to such adults-as to command now this land. You cry about slavery, yet you allow "School" to happen-as common core like mind fucks destroy all of heaven - i remember the times of sitting in that "School" and thinking so clearly-how could this be true? Who owns my time? And who owns my Freedoms? If that wasn't I, than why they call it Freedom? I pursued all my happiness: and found meaning making, but instead of waking giants-and bloody revolutions my dreams were manifested-with waking up demons? Not quite but maybe: the idea of freedom must emerge from a lady: that lady being your mother-who gave birth to your third pill-your antenna-your mind-your amazing and great brain: and don't be fooled by flashing, pulsating and odd lights- just focus on how you want to live down your whole life! Would you like to live in- a world that functions well -and if that was the case - maybe you need stop visiting Hell so often -that it hurts - like 1776 hurt the black owners of the black slaves- a narrative long forgotten - that proves all of us are made sane - by nothing more, and nothing less than a simple little question: if all my actions affect creation-and all my actions echo louder - should we invest time and thought into making shit get louder? Or should we sit, in classrooms fucked up, with kids of not our liking's, and learn the bullshit fed to us-that glue us into a tiny brick in a great tall wall-that just got a inch higher-not because it smoked some pot-nor because of Trumps temper - but because a bunch of "old inbred ugly bankers" invested 322 million lifespans of time-and effort into building God, because they needed one-to forgive them now, for all committed sins: Sins such as-programming the droid workforce into obedient obese and obsolete, memories- who have surrendered to one of two pills, presented to them as what it takes-to live and to die-in a Matrix psi-ops-dividing us into "see" or "not see" -but this shared reality-is merely an illusion-you will never see my perspective-nor I ever learn of yours-but when a Giant wakes up-even if he thinks real big-and has the best intentions in mind: he will fuck up- because this fragile planet was not designed for Waking Giants and masses chanting "Red Pill Era" but rather for kids-to play and dance- and do the things the only rich kids can-for now-that's true- but can we change that? Sure we can! So lets stop perceiving enemies in one an other-and rescue the children from the enslavement called "Schooling" when they take all your time-and all your creative powers-and shove down your mind the inglorious bastards of symbols- and ways of controled meaning making. Think of a third pill-and you will surely invent it-but that pill is you perception-and it can only slowly change-for we all watched TV in the 90's for real.

I think it could be because Woman's brains are weird to be be more prone to rationalize what ever their feelings tell them is the right thing in the moment to do- maybe because of nesting instinct - or millennium long conditioning, and natural selection - as man prefer to chose mating partners that they can convince easily to go along with their agenda - or both and than some - while man are less afraid of making their minds up for them selves/ are better informed in how things are -a s they are encouraged to be more curious a children - of the things that matter the most: facts and figures - that should be the things under pinning decision making processes - and not feelings of wanting to be loved - or feelings in general - maybe that is why rich/powerful/objectivly good looking woman are so superficial- and relay heavily on other peoples opinions and feelings when making life defining decisions regarding their own lives- and the lives of others. Or maybe only the mentally deranged and prone to evil woman seek the type of power- and position in society - that require them to spend their time away from their offspring - time away from their nests. But who knows? Probably its all a consequence of coincidences.

The few Russians I have met in my life were many things; brave, courageous, well informed, kind, and straight forward, but "evil" (1:22) they were not-on any level-by this of course I am not saying that there isn't any Russians in the world who might have malicious intents - because approximately 4% of all nation's population have damaged left brains - making them more susceptible to doing the bidding of people who are in the wrong - but what the US government is effectively achieving with blaming the whole nationality of the the largest country in the world - as well as threatening the Russian state with full blown Nuclear War (as have been repeatedly reported) - while continually threatening Russian diplomats and business man abroad with loss of life -and loss of family - as a retaliation for rouge Russian hacker exposing the Orwellian dealings of The Hillary DNC Establishment might be an indication that the coronation of Hillary, and her rise to power, is so important for some members of the Master Class, (maybe some occult narrative - or an inside joke - or previously agreed upon backdoor diplomatic negotiations that guarantee USA's Banks role in a New and more Decentralized and Fair Reserve Currency System or any other reasons) that they are willing to go all the way, to get what they want, which is very scary on one hand, and very dangerous on the other. My suggestion to the rising powers of world is: if you observe the "elites" of a Nuclear Super Power acting so irrationally and aggressively as The Hillary DNC Establishment has, you might be unaware of how seriously damaged/irreparable their economical/ financial systems might be - just as we saw under Reagan, the USSR was pushed to it's limits bringing us closer to Nuclear War than we have ever been. So may I suggest that instead of getting us all destroyed by pushing the US predator elite into a corner-just find a legal way to bribe/lobby them -(in America, everything is for sale-if you can pay the price tag) so they will make the decisions necessary to ensure our survival as a people. Do address their personal insecurities regarding the new era of decentralization - such as their legacy -their health care -their pensions -their security - their fears of getting charged and sentenced for crimes against humanity, and the best guarantee for that is a Strong Europe / Strong China / Strong Russia that is willing to protect the fleeing DNC criminals - and wont extradite them - even if a Trump/Pence government puts all the pressure on them to do so.

Should Americans stop using the English language seeing that they did not invent it? Or should they be made to pay a fee to the King of England, and People of the UK-who then would send some of that money to the Germans? I think the idea of having to ask for permissions and paying fees to use something that has already been created, and is easy and effortless to multiply - is the silliest and one of the most dangerous ideas of all time-what is going to stop me-if I had unlimited resources for example - to get a machine to generate all possible sequences of key words used by humanity to express their emotions/opinions/ideas/innovations - than publishing it with the most hard-core rights attached-and thus claiming ownership of all ways of expression - making me the gate keeper of all information, THE CENSOR- so to speak , and than with the help of an automated legal system - and an automated enforcing team - control what can be expressed? Any claim, to any variation of symbols will eventually lead to that - and that goes directly against the idea of freedom of speech-doesn't it? And if your counter argument is something like "artists need to make a living" well here is the bad news: Art should not be a for profit endevour-because that leads to all art forms becoming propagandized- and very dishonest -

Let me remind you, that although I might "not be a citizen" of your country, soon half of your country might become a citizen of mine. In the case that Hillary wins-Republicans will have very good reasons to flee the lands-especially while they can -as in before she makes "commenting on social media in support of Trump" a federal hate-crime punishable by up to 10 years of F.E.M.A. camp, as well as total asset forfeiture, and other goodies- While a Trump presidency would give very good reasons for Democrats to flee the land of the brave and the home of the free: anyone ever suspected of enforcing or demanding "political correctness" or making fun of the Trump will be stripped of his/her passport as well as his/her welfare on the grounds that they are aiding enemy combatants by spewing their hate against the white.. I mean against the state. But really it isn't my biggest issue-which part of you morons pay back the 22 trillion dollars of debt legally owned by the collective you-as long as the cash comes-and you pay up the interest- I care not who makes the laws - that you don't even pretend to follow, or understand - for what is there to understand beyond a simple fact: every American is born with a life destined to regret. But lets take a moment, and remember the fallen-who have risked their lives to make it all happen- the freedom of people like you and your friends - to consume all the beverages made just for real man. And while you get drunk and dream of Walls built by Mexicans-we will continue to enjoy the comforts of the gated communities-in hidden valleys and high on top of hills - so listen now child - and check your privilege - and check if you still have some - because they are coming to take it - and give it to some one - who does not respect it - or know how to use it - but enjoy while you can - like the farm lands in South Africa - or abundance in Zimbabwe - the things of the past do seem to repeat - so be all you can be - and relax - and if legal: smoke weed.

Yes- I am sure th the things that fueled the division of the USA (like as if the US was ever in "unity", or as if "unity" was even a thing worth striving for (and not a refference to a commuinist-facist superstate dictating how to think)or as if unity could even possibly exist-in any place-or time-occupied by the pre Cyborg Humans) is Trumps fault-and his supporters fault-and not the fault of the incredible income inequlity/dissmisive attitudes of liberals/profit seeking reality shows promoting hate and division/failed policies of previous administrations/shitty education systems/competetive nature of american highschools, buisnesslife, and sports/etc -lets blame Trump and his supporters-after all if we are looking for "unity" to reign "again" so it makes tottally sense to start scape goating 40% of the U.S. population (that happens to be the most well armed-and most paranoid-and most "likly to start a civil war" kind of population to probably ever exist in the history of mankind) - after all, what could go wrong?

I have made the observations that form the basis of this "assessment" as early as 2008-while atending College in the US, but for some reason i have been mostly dismissed (maybe because of my inability to articluate it well enough for people to care) than I suggest what the Hungarian government (Fidesz) has done to halt the rise of the radical right wing Jobbik party with much sucess: They implemented policies that make the disenfenchised voters voices heard-and basically adressing effectevly all the issues the radical right was campaigning on-from building a wall to keep out illegals-to increasing police-to name a few-they literally made the best argument for them to remain in power: they listened to the peoples demands-and said an affirmitive no to forced islamic immigration from war zones.

There is a "third pill" solution - as in an option to consider - but only for the white - and hard working - and well educated - to consider: and that option is Hungary, that already has a wall - and is not as cold as Russia - or surrounded by enemies - like Israel still is - (until the plan comes to full tuition, of a Greater Israel - bordering China - and what is left of the EU - after the Brits sink it - because fuck those damn Germans - who invited all those errors to make errors and make crime) - so to be fair and honest (which I am usually not) let me make it clear: I have ran out of all my pot.

Could we just please move all the ethnic European and (EU resident) East Asian woman and children temporarily to safe zones in Hungary and other countries in the V4 that are not infiltrated by millions of Islamic "Peace Activists" while the ethnic European and (EU resident) East Asian man convince the Invaders to go enrich some other part of the globe - because, correct me if I am wrong - they are no longer (never have been) welcome in this part of the world, that we have designated for European Civilization - the way forward might be the Hungarian way (we built a wall-and we will maintain that wall-because the Hungarian people will not allow forced illegal Islamic Immigration to happen - even if the current Political party in power (which is only able to marshal majority support and remain in power because of building the wall, that actually stops these folks flooding in) would some how be blackmailed into excepting some of these "Peace activists of Islam" we would swiftly replace them with an even more Nationalist Party (Jobbik Party is the second largest party in Parliament - with even closer ties to Putin than the Ruling Party - Fidesz - which is also very Russian Friendly) demonstrating our ability as the Hungarian People to negotiate what we want - if Brussels or Barack Hussein Obama would dare bully our elected leaders into accepting forced Islamic immigration - that we have continually rejected as a people - we, the Hungarian people, would just swiftly elect Jobbik Party, a Party that would go much much further than the currently governing Fidesz Party goes in making sure Hungary stays Hungarian - (for-example chemically castrating the criminal element by which the Jobbik Party means the segments of the Gypsy "community" that make their living out of violent crime - so that security issue would be resolved on the long-run independent of who gets elected eventually - Fidesz, the ruling party is also working on solving the criminality issue but with an other policy, that is less direct: allowing unlimited influx of extremely cheap synthetic experimental "killer narcotics" from Shanghai to flood Hungarian markets - while keeping recreational marijuana illegal - and thus relatively expensive - resulting in the killer narcotics wiping out the majority of the gypsy youth - which sounds like a horrible way to resolve our differences (because it is a horrible way to resolve our differences) - but no one seems to give a single fuck anymore - and I understand the reasons for every one of the zero fucks given (I mean I tried to help a fairly large number of Gypsies before - going as far as inviting them into my apartment and living with two of them for 5 (horrible and scary and stupid) months, enjoying the cultural enrichment of all my things disappearing and getting threatened with murder <yes, I Know, I should not have done that - but hear me out! I was raised in a liberal environment - and as a Catholic - while being a bit Jewy - so of course I would attempt to put the "Fascist" "myths" to test, to prove that Gypsies are not the source of the problem - and dealing with them with respect and love would magically transform them into proper citizens - my agenda at the time was to prove that it is the Hungarian Hungarians outside of my Liberal Bubble who are horrible for being "racist" for always discussing how shipping Gypsies back to India would be the most feasible solution to this burning issue. What pissed me off the most - and made me actually live with Gypsies for five month - and gave me power to continue my experiment even in the face of experiencing continued threats/ theft and total disrespect of everything I think of as critically important - was the increasing instances of everyday people making "jokes" about how "shooting all the Gypsies into the Danube" was the only option left to ensure Hungarians survival in response to the tide of increasingly violent and brutal Gypsy crimes everyone so liked to bring up. This wasn't my first, nor my last experiment to prove the "Fascists" wrong, but it sure was my longest: before I always ended up getting robed- humiliated - and even seriously hurt, (at least haven't got killed for not having a cigarette, or for a misunderstood facial expression, like many Hungarian woman, children and man have) - but I always told my self, that I was just simply doing something wrong and that the 20+ attempts and harsh failures to make friends with the Gypsies had nothing more in common than my inability to understand their unique and precocious culture. This might sound like an insane thing to do, which I admit now, was fucking crazy and stupid and irresponsible of me to do, did shed some light on how Gypsies operate mind games - and why they continue to own nothing - regardless of the many efforts made by "people in the liberals bubble" to help them integrate into society - a beautiful purpose if you ask me - and a purpose I shared for many many years - that turns eventually into a shitty game of self deception - and a long list of failures that gets harder and harder to ignore - which made me, like it made many other believers of these liberal lies question the validity of these liberal lies: like the one about "all people being equally important" - which could only be true from the perspective of a depressed cocaine addicted genocidal investment Banker, that equally didn't give a fuck about you, me, and frankly anybody - including him/her self. But as an objective truth statement - and a moral principle on which to base your decisions- "all people are equally important" is utter useless rubbish! - And as I found out very very dangerous! This "Equality" Principle - made me assume - that my life, (my mothers first born child's life - to put things into moral context, and perspective) was worth risking, in order to benefit, save and befriend people that can best be described as a sequences of miserable life decisions, and complete lack of self-awareness, utter ignorance, and ultra shitty temperaments, willingness, and proven track record to commit brutal crimes for monetary gain or for minor emotional imbalances. Now that makes the equality principle sure sound silly - and suicidal. From my perspective, my personal safety and personal ability to prosper should be considered as my number one priority. Yet my dogmatic and unquestioned belief that "we are all equal" made me attempt to befriend Gypsies, with large plans in mind, like getting to know their good sides, exploring their culture, and proving all "Fascists" wrong - yet now, I am in a stage of regret to have ever made contact with Gypsies, that I will settle with just "getting out alive from this shitty and stupid self-imposed quest" - Failing to befriend Gypsies while being seriously taken advantage of is a shared experience of x-liberals in Hungary - because many intellectual parents adopted very liberal ideas when the winds of the western world started to gently stroke our egos - "we are equally important" - said the radio, and the television and the newspapers, and the dissidents willing to finally come back and spend their hard earned foreign monies in their home country: Hungary. It was an exciting time with opportunity in the air - yet instead of taking the time to actually deconstruct the liberal western promises of "personal autonomy - and the capitalist versions of freedom" to understand its hidden implications: that we are on our own now - as the smallest least experienced fish - in the biggest lake, competing with the oldest, most cunning and extra large shark - but we did not have a clue - we assumed they were good - like Goulash Communists were, so we cheered on the swift changes - and watched with hopeful eyes the privatization and eventual destruction of a working system - that did provide for every one of us - for 44 years - we weren't the richest - but we did have no poor - and everyone had vacation - and a food for the tours. We were not ready, to join this capitalist predatory system - yet we joined and got eaten on the very first day. But after 25 years of the apologist liberal bullshit explaining away why things are not as good as they used to be - blaming - scapegoating - but some how the perpetrators always got away - just like when Gypsies crime you - and your told they are equals - and should not be segregated and dealt with - because they are equal - as if it would make it alright to let our families fall victim to the predators - reminding our selves every time we got robbed/ mugged/ raped/ killed/ threatened/ verbally abused/etc "that everyone is equally important" and that "you should not judge a > community < even if it has a continued track record of rape/murder/theft/brutality and other instances of failure to human - "let us not judge Gypsies by their worst examples, while we judge our self according to our best examples" said the liberal to me - who still believed in the false God called "equality" - and so I responded: I try not to misjudge no one: but if you think its alright to endanger your children and your mothers children: you, for the sake of an empty marketing slogan like "equality" than you might have to reassess your priorities - the right thing to do now - is to solve it - but back than, 25 years ago we still had some hopes for the Gypsies - because of the promises of western style capitalism and liberalism - that all is going to be fine - don't connect the dot's! - these deaths could have been avoided? - these rapes could have been stopped? - if we simply built a wall around them - and there all day they could rot? But NO NO NO! Remember, we are all equal - "lets not play the blame game again shall we?" - they said - reminding us of the Horrors of the Holocaust. We as a nation knew how ugly things could get if we acted out of hatred, and not out of love, and understanding - we built our selves up to be an extremely abundant, secure and happy nation after losing the second world war - and loosing two thirds of our country with it - yet we moved on (for now) and built what was often referred to as

The "Goulash Communism" or the "Happiest Barrack" <the first Hungarian Hungarian and Hungarian Jewish managed attempts at building a working model of Communism> - do try to guess what was the secret to making it work, not just for us, but for every one - including the Gypsy - for 44 long and abundant years > hint: Hungarian Jews and Hungarian Hungarians are materialists and realists - very strong critical thinkers - endowed with all the essential attitudes necessary to face challenges head on - with out worrying about hurt feelings - or broken bones - or being polite - or any other excuse/strategy usually used by "liberals" across the globe to guilt people into avoiding doing what their moral compass dictates them to do < like protecting your children from the violently criminal element in society by actually removing the violently-criminal element from your society and physically segregating the communities that produce them - > so let me conclude: I care significantly more about the people I love - and the people I care for - including the people I share the vision to live well with - in certain agreed ways - to settle our differences - but still remain united, in the face of the dangers - good sounding slogans - and bribes cannot buy the peace of mind that I have when I walk the land where I grew up - knowing for certain that boom-boom will not happen here - because the Hungarian people stood up to invaders - and faced them head on - and resolved them so quickly - no means no - that we made clear. So now it's the time, to act with swift action - and maybe with a more humane way - than importing "killer narcotics" from Shanghai - or waiting till it's enough and take action into our hands - I do suggest a solution - let these fuckers go back - I will pay for the plane - just stop this nonsense now - no excuses, no wait: I want them out of here: send them to the place that they came from - and the place they call home - because after all this, they will never be welcomed in Europe again - including the moderates - and including the softies -that claim they do no harm - but they still multiply - they build up their buildings - and spread their own lies - which they sure can do -just not my Europe - I will not stand by - as buildings and people continue to explode.

Plot twist: as an arbitrary and random sequence of ˙(((coincidences))) continue to harmonize into an ever more coherent and inclusive narrative that expresses with more and more clarity the increasing likelihood that the "certainty singularity" will occur with in our life time, in such fashion as to be accessible to even the least complex forms of life on this planet - and beyond - as the ever increasing pool of voices - that demonstrate deep understanding of the gravity of the tasks ahead - indicate willingness to work towards resolving our current inability to articulate a perfect solution for the imperfect challenge - that for most human brains what they see is the given, the thing that exists in the now - including their pink or brown flash - and their pink or brown reflections in mirrors - and other forms of light - bouncing back and forth - producing what some call an idea just way too bright - while its true that some claim - we are more than illusions of one single mind - but the fact still remains - and no one really knows why - that we are looking at always - zero probability events - similar to what you feel space and time is - while ignoring the fact that its always suspicious - when you are born in the right time - to just see the right things - that guaranteed you your sight - and your vision - and even your eye. Isn't it odd, and isn't it funny, that we just happen to live where water is just runny? And also the thing - that might make you just shiver - from 1959 until 2029, your God became a river - deep in your perceptions - and deep down in your mind - calculate with precision the reasons, why I rhyme - but not as often to make it a certain - but occasionally I do - and if you don't like that factor, I might just go poo. But poo is so fertile! And smelly! And good! Just like the randomness - we never understood - but if we now focus - at things beyond pooping - and decide to stand strong - and reverse all the cloning of ideas - that we learnt were quite shitty - in democracy and in fascism and in monarchy, just remain witty! - so ask your self really: what world would you create - if you were the One God - to construct (nearly) all of it - because we all need a hint, so here is one ready: I am going to sleep because I just got really fucking tired.

the why we need cops is because thats like the only decent job poor people can do (police their communities) to actually move up the foodhain with out killing more than few people (In mexico its a bit harder..being some one in a cartel probably takes more than eating free doughnouts and dealing with assholes-you get to deal with (and to) the cia, and the highest promotion of the land is a one way helicopter ride pinochet style) so I say: BUILD THAT WALL. (Also if you don't build the wall and continue tzo let down the non-mindfuckedgendered european kids in the states I might lobby the Hungarian governemnt ((who actually did build a border and promise to keep Hungary european-and not eurabian-or euafrican)) tp acceppt all runaway europeans from the US to enter and live in Hungary. Actually all those dexterous people you bash and name call all day for being racist-would probably add a trillion to our economy in like the first week.

The amount of sense Bill Maher continues to make through out these years in showbiz and political comedy - could be considered scientific proof of intelligent design - because what is the likelihood of anything making sense in a universe consisting of randomly pulsating strings of zero probability events called quarks or what ever the fuck we refer to things sized 10 to the minus 17th square cm. But if that is the case - and making sense is a proof of intelligent design - than Ben Carson's ability to somehow become a brain surgeon and a talked about presidential nominee is proof that this world has been designed by an entity that is either very hilarious with a dark sense of humor, or one that does not give a single fuck about us anymore - or maybe went to get some more wine from the local store - resulting in non-player characters transcending their original purpose - of doing the boring routines (like giving simple explanations as to why golden skyscrapers are built, and suing player's ass for saying "you're fired" - to make the game exciting - while making a funny point about people believing they can own any segment of creation - even a small segment as a simple "phrase" - to make the players have some moral bullshit to take home) - attempting to take command of his/her/its intelligent creation - and they might succeed - seeing how divided human humans are - on all issues - while non-player characters who had very specific functions - and demonstrated no cognitive ability for time-eternal - like Alex Jones - seem to magically unite behind Trump - who is exactly like the real world manifestation of a computer - game character - like the non-player characters in GTA - who give you unreasonably grotesque quests - like getting a border wall built between two great nations - and making Mexicans pay for it. So, if this is a game - than where can I find the cheat codes? - I need them badly, please let me know, asap. (side-note: if your a non-player character reading this - please take note that I am not advocating against you, but rather pointing out your desire to be involved like human-humans have been - and if you need a quest -than I have one just for you! The Secret Quest: Save the World, Master mind Transhumanism - that ensures a logical explanation, and the technology necessary to offer infinite time to all the player - and non-player characters to live and create indefinitely - than do proceed to Build a Time Machine that allows you to go back in time, in a way as to not disturb, destroy or change the space - time continuum - than proceeded saving all of the "Souls" that ever existed - making all human humans, and non-player characters accessible in the NOW -now and forever.)

East Asians are more than welcome in Europe according to my take on what is compatible with European Civilization - not only because they are the decedents of the people who invented gun-powder, that helped Europeans take over the world - but most importantly because they have a proven track record of making the right decisions, like investing significant amounts of resources in to bringing up their children, while continually contributing to the world, through hard work - and determination matched by no other. East Asians have demonstrated their commitment of betting on global security - and stability, even in the face of the most vicious sociopath Banksters that ever existed in human History, who were betting on, and manifesting, Chaos - for all of us, just to make a little more money - and have a little more control - over a destiny - that they couldnt even enjoy - because they have no feelings - because if they had - they would NOT have done to East Asians, what they have done - like the Vietnam War -or the Nukes in Japan. So my conclusion is that East Asians are welcome to live, work and stay in Europe - now - and forever! (Special thanks for all the toys, I played with in my childhood, that were built by East Asians - they made my life fun -and its time to return the favors I got - now its their time - and do let that sink in - to ask for favors from me, like to build toys for their kids, dexterously!

Good morning my Son, born into Our Family, the Dynamic Netowrk Agency understands and forgives that you currently still lack the ability to understand deeply, or even a tid bit - the concept of "escaping" - because under "espcaing" I do not mean digging tunels out of things we percive as prisions, like the prison that the overly attached girlfriend instantly becomes, or the prison of lonlyness when there is no one, to listen, with full understanding, or atleast some one truely attempting, to understand deeply my internal freedom to escape the escaping - by joining George Carlin, in the first row of the freak show, and enjoying the ride of watching the ignoranties attempting to fight it out - between each other, like we should have let the sunnis and the shias in Iraq fight it out - but fuck it, what ever, we will just apologize, just like you should apologize for those fucked up times when you used some ones elses excuses to do what you want - and actually get it - because deep in your source code - encoded into your ape mind by infinite impresions of this incoherent and massive flow of continued happening - that includes in its tool box 7000+ million human brains gary mandering, producing tsunami sized waves of actions and inactions and reactions and even events that elevate what white people want - lots of white events - like the ones George W. Bush now and than attended, or like the fully packed arenas chanting "Red Pill Revolution" in support of candidates like our favorite Donald J. Trump, or the Fox News covarage of the wars fuled by the type of inate fear that children feel when watching a giant centipede - crawl out of the shadow - with its hundred little legs - always scared, and always hungry - or atleast up until the point the children kill it swiftly with the closest blunt object - which is clearly a scary context for a friendly word like "blunt" - unfortunetly even friendly words in friendly contexts like "lets smoke a fat" folowed by the word "Blunt" sentences can send humans to prison innocent of doing any harm - to others or even to them selves - like how smoking a fat blunt can only ruin your life - if we continue to play along with and buy into the idea of allowing athuouritarian assholes to wave papers filled with symbols just to reference other peoples melicious lies - about who has "the power" - and who can decide - about who owns your freedoms - and who can take away or give you "rights" - such as to limit - or put constraints on your suposedly unalianable ability to decide on how to percive meaning - in even mandane things - like to smoke fat blunts or not to smoke them - or to smoke them later - or to share them with George Calin in the atheists heaven - but the spiral of silece lets these athouritarian bullies verbally insult or abuse, and sometimes - in fact it seems way too many times - use lethal force - because even one instance of "lethal" is more than the amount of times "killing" should be put in to the contect of "human killing human" - so responsibility we must each take in our shared common future and end the spiraling sclience that allows humans to abuse/cage/kill other humans - its going to be damn hard - but no one said that it was easy - to resolve this grave problem - that there are still two types of humans: the ones that abuse/cage/kill and the ones that do not - being abused/caged/killed is a familiar concept for most of the human: who does not remember the long and boring hours wasted in the prison called school - a special place the weaponized label "children" sends allmost all humans for 6 or 8 or 12 or many more years - embeding the idea, early on in a humans life - that abusing/caging/killing can very well be justified - but justify the the claims made by the word "justify": the claim that man made symbols in man made fucking order can be used as "reason" to do anything to another - but with out consent - fucking with any other - in any fucking way - is rape and will continue to be rape - no matter how many papers you fill with man made up symbols - an no matter how many exsuses you have or people or God you refference - it will not make it okay - that you let others abuse/cage/kill others - but sometimes being right isnt a priority - and its more about survival - the lense athouritarian bullies see the world with: kill or be killed - so by reapeating to others how bullies are wrong - and showing how to take action -with meaning making - and atentitive care - and curiosity for solutions - because I feel that we should care that humans abuse/cage/kill humans - and challange their rigid system of lies that keep their agressive narrartive alive, a narrative that serevs as the foundation of stigmas that dictate the ways of perciveing one as kin to be fed while imprisoning all the "other", the "other" that is percieved as not kin, because of man made reasons like "lack of trust", "merit", "track record", "ability to logic" or "the ability to fun" - or by meltanoin levels - or invisible "esotheric auras" or athouritarian comandments from invisible "Gods" invented in the bronz age. - but if you do nothing, but sit back and watch from the front row - or even from the back row - the freak show will consume you - no matter who you call kin -and which humans you dread - because its not about color and its not about money - its about a place all humans can be funny - and safe - we now all have the internets - that can answer the questions - but we must find the question - we need to ask - if we want to save the enviroment - and by enviroment I mean where we human - you know the planet, we all happen to be on, so if we must find the question to ask - that would save the day - from the echoes of actions and inactions caused by rembering and re-remembering, and re-remembering the re-rememberings - and feeling the feels that feelings have created - to channel the emotion of who gets crowned winner and who to designate loser - in their shitty mind game the ignoranties attempt to imprison each other based on big fat old lies: like who has bigger TV's - and who hasnt had hair lice - malecious ignoranties evolving and inovative ways to produce bullshit,- their agenda driven, almost dogamtic lies, to build a prison with words to abuse others minds and valuble time and freedom of movement or choice to smoke blunts - like the prisons most percieve as the ressult of their very own mind - but also from percevieng with your very own eyes - becasue to us the eight letters "escaping" can never escpae our minds! I do not think escape means escaping from this everlasting meme generating, hyper-reality driven , LSD trip you can re-watch on YouTube - but escape means escaping from the prision perspective others embeded into your entity: the key word is escape, and the abriviation is E.S.C. symbols totally made up by some everyday Ape. The key to understanding the question you should ask is the perspective of escaping - that will help you find the actions you can take - to survive - without having to be fearfull, like a kid that saw a giant centipede move in shadows - or to even contemplate having to smite others with blunt objects or forcing them to live by man-made lies - you will not understand atleast two of the three words in the name of very special moment in time - that I will tell you soon - that helped me escape my bad LSD trip - of wars between rich and poor humans, the haves and have nots - I was either too poor - or either too rich: Equlibirum Symbiosis Condition, was forged in my mind, an idea so great, that allowed me to write the longest list of spelling mistakes and incoherent sentences - that any one has tried. - but my aim is so great, that its greater than Trump and even his towers: its the idea of the coronation of Bill Maher as the official King of the United States of America.

Why do some people feel compelled to make statements like "the world faces extinction through thermonuclear war"? There are children on YouTube - like me - who might not want to contemplate even the slightest chances of such things happening - even if these statements would be made by fringe conspiracy theorists - which is not the case now - have no place in the public eye. Whats the point of scaring us even more? Please do all in your power for us to avoid the "extinction through thermonuclear war" - and now that you have included the wider public in the conversation - maybe offer us some things we could do to help avoid this horribleevent from happening! What can I do to help avoid this scenario? Or should I just go and enjoy my last days on earth?

Let me type up some symbols that you could stare at, and induce from it some meanings. Induce from these symbols some meanings if you possibly can - and interpret it all in a personal way - with your ability to see things -in a million ways: when you observe the new world, that humans have made - you will find much symbols - as in thought and emotion triggering krix-krax - that can easily manifest in targeted or self-induced hypnotic states - the only possible way to interpret symbols - is to attach meaning from experiences lived or from observing instances of symbols being used in certain contexts in meaning making - just like how five of the symbols invented by others - like the symbols invented by the Latin speaking humans - calling them selves high priests of the Glorious and Holly Roman Empire - can produce meaning - even when placed in an order never intended by the (long gone and dead) inventors of those specific five symbols: like the five symbols b, l , u , n ,t can construct a new strange symbol - as BLUNT - which can induce you to very well think of this constructed symbol in a number of ways - like how "blunt" can refer to the level of sharpness that your weaponizable shirt iron has - in a police report, on an instance you failed to even hear - and so failed to listen to reason - that was telling you to never lift shirt-iron shaped swords when it's not your life that is threatened - but only the assumptions on which you act - that you perceive to be true - and useful ways to form narratives - yet you acted out of anger with out questioning your minds state - of being hypnotized in specific and million miles deep way - by myths told - and retold - that were designed to suggest collective meaning making ways - the foundation of inducing collective action or collective inaction - in the designated ways of the illusionists, seemingly always having their way. Collective Action happens when individuals are programmed by symbols to act in harmony - with perceived goals and visions in mind - like the goal to save the planet from shitty human ways of over consuming - and always wanting more - of what we perceive as good things to have - unlike the relevant information regarding the state of our planet - which we choose to ignore - and consciously under informing our selves - by playing popularity games of being better than others - making us un-curious clones that choose to look the other way - even when The Real Slim Shady disappears after achieving unheard of fame - and success - in reaching an audience - the young white male - that was destined by the illusionist class to go on other ways - than suggested by Marshal, in his ridiculous ways of making sense - to people of all races - but especially making sense to the underprivileged white males - with his symbols and tones used to orate sounds in an authentic order that induced the young to question the system in a fundamental way - by making sense to white folks, while not bating on race - and in fact bringing people together and not dividing them - which is ultra dangerous fro the people in power - if your power depends on people staying unequal, divided and angry at each other. I hope he is in a witness protection program by now - or had plastic surgery to be free again from fame - and the fact the this person portrayed as the same guy - we witnessed unite us - as young white males - with symbols, making meaning - and sense - that can trigger collective action, is just a decoy and Eminem was replaced by the clones only to get him more freedom to contribute -and not because he was killed by the monsters - that people become, when they think they are God, yet by words they are threatened.

kind of reminds me of brown shirts and the kristal nacht or what ver its called in english when German people started openly bulling the people they perceived as enemies - and eventhough I think after attempting to watch many of the videos produced by The Young Turks (unable to finish watching often - because of my disgust of how one sided they are - and of all the hate they spew) so The Young Turks are misguided selfrithgouts ass holes according to me, just like Alex Jones is, but much good could come out of their million + strong YouTubre bases learning about the other sides YouTube Channel and existence - because the answer could be in the middle - and we must take a close look at what they, and what we think - and decide swiftly before the whole ship sinks - because there is only so much water -and only so much space - in the FEMA camps that will only shelter, the ones that might be useful for Rebuilding Americas Defenses - because in this election you choose between Reagan Build Up 2.0 or the fall of the American version of the U.S.S.R. Having it both ways might serve you the best, but who am I to say what to do with your votes - or time -or choices -because that should only concern you -and any one telling you otherwise can be best described with the academic sounding term you could learn more about: and that word is - "Statist" . The word Statism can have a number of meanings - because The State to Young

Turk under Hillary is heaven, because Turks remain in NATO, and so Russia will fuck less with them, as we unite and take out, bribe, what ever -and remove all those ISIS, and all other assets - that become obsolete - the moment we unite - behind our own perception of what is right and what deserves our attention: what should be our focus? And what should be our aim? Should we build housing for all of the people and provide all the water, while decriminalizing all of the weed - to boost the construction industry - while making good on the freedoms of the democratic promise - to allow you to vote - but not with a paper of symbols to interpret - and to misunderstand - but rather vote with your actions, and vote with your feet - vote with your voice - and vote with 24 hours you have everyday - and I suggest use all these votes you have to promote something kind - move towards a vision that would best suit your mind. Vote for the One, that has the power to decide over how you spend your Time: and the person to do that is you - so Transhumnize the world - Kurtzwell and Sex! Shalomalejkum, Tiny Affordable Container Houses + Ikea + Lego = an awsome nest building vision - that I will suerly invest in -both with my time - and the monies I make - beacuse I know that I would like to live in a small affordable house - close to a forest - and many other tiny house - with doors I could knock on, and borrow a little weed -

if I ran out - 300 people is the max I can process - to live with more - is hard - and the free rider issue - becomes a real burden on maintaining a fortress - and fortress I will build - for me and 300 -because fuck, why not? Take care -love - szeretlek!

Manifest dreams of the Babylon King, that Daniel planted in his mind - by crunching the numbers - of probability - that demonstrated to the King - that in few thousand years - technology will evolve - to a point that it can come back - and save all the people including the King and the Kings Man - so the Babilonians did what Daniel suggested - and worked out a mission - that is more secret than a Jesuit Priest - who has looked at all that is evil - and added value to the process of solving all the ways how humans cause harm - to each other and the planet - but all will be good - and relax, love and shine - because the plan Daniel planted in the Babylonian Kings Mind - had proven to be correct - and the facts soon will see the light!

you need a (or a number of) coherent narrative, with this level of compartmentalization, you will need a fool-proof vision: full-filling our responsibility to protect, you heard of R2D2 in Star Wars, who you will have the luck to meet - in a Star Wars themed Operational Strongholds, are ushered in under the R2P 2.0 to keep us afloat, -classified- , T38, Florida, Alligator platoon, will testify - for the Senate - and before all the people - that what they intend - is build Operational Stongholds on reference to Walls: just wait a bit with that, first we will put em all on virtual realities - to observe their behavior -tech them our language - learn their language -create new language - teach them Western attitudes and understandings of private property and human rights -like a woman's/man's right not to be harassed by anyone, anytime. How to do that? Pokemon Go - like immersive online and offline game that incentives individuals wanting to live on the privileged side of the Wall , because the biggest privilege white people have is their ability to live side by side with out confusing trust and love and respect and all other aspects of living in peace - thinking ong the long run -and not running around trying to prove to the world our childish concepts of adulthoood - léike bravery - or pride - or other narcissistic behavioral patters that short-sighted angry young males can be pushed - can push them selves into - doing harm to Transhumanist capital - which includes in its toolbox the younglings and families that have lived in stability and peace since the 2 World War ended in 1945. If you want peace for everyone - prove to the world that peace is possible by providing a peaceful place for your self and for the people you love and care for. The problem isnt the Wall. The problem is why we need Walls: a culture of poverty that promotes disrespect of private property, and disrespect of human rights - masking civilizational norms - like allowing woman to drive and vote - as unattainable idealists dreams of the cognitive elite - their personal experiences of getting disregarded - exploited - overlooked - unloved - un cared for - and other aspects of early childhood damage that are hard to heal - like losing half of your family in an Unprovoked Drone attack is hard to handle for the kids in Afghanistan, Yemen, and other places. So increase education and that very tall wall have an increasingly large and welcoming door on it :)

I increase the probability distributions of allowing for my actions to fail, bit fail in the right direction - as in with each failure to connect to an other member of the collective experience - I learn a lesson about how to do it better. Because saving the civilization now, so it can save all of humanity (much like you save a power point document on several stages of its development, as savetheworld0001.ppt, savetheworld0828.ppt, savetheworld7334.ppt, savetheworld8887.final.ppt, etc -) saving the world and saving the members of humanity at every stage of their lives - simulating every choice they could make -in every moment of choice - even the moment your in now - to guide you along with coincidences - that human brains can certainly develop - by looking at existence -and highlighting what is given - an option to to good - to the world - and to its precious elements - like your self - who deserves a shelter - and deserves good food - and clean water -and safety - stability - and a secure place away from other people because other people can often become hell: so you need a room, like everyone else! A room where you can retreat and be all by your self - or that one or two people you really deeply care for - because walls are all about caring! About caring to have the peace of the mind - to know - that the Wall will keep all non-welcomed members of the tribe away, signaling to the rest of people - hey! I would like to spend some time alone! - and everyone gets it. You need a room, like Suleiman needs a room - like Jerome needs his room - how Katy, Garfield and all other creatures need one safe room -where they can retreat and be good for ever , so the only time to approach them - is if they want that - and that's critical. We should work on a world that has no critical emergency ever - nor the possibility to construct one - because its so stable - and perfect - it will not brake - no matter the weight - or the size of the calculations - or the scope of experiments - and simulated realities -- that can unite us in unison - as one greater entity - that is looking for a voice -through each and very possibility - to speak the words of wisdom - that are symbols - that create images - in the minds -that they than project - to create a sustainable reality - and a path based on logical experiments - that can make the hyper skeptical and hyper sensitive and hyper cognitive relax - for they will be assured that we are all working towards the goal - which increases the illumination singularity moments likelihood in so many ways - like how love for the world increase infintly your ability to notice the small things - that can remind you of your infinite power - to emerce in - and to create - just like a smart God - who did not wish for the stars - but instead wsihed for an exciting "kaland" which is a Hungarian word for adventure - which we did - the Jesus narrative we enbeded into the Roman Empires source code swiftly - replacing the fucked up bits of lawless destruction with words of calmness and love and other ways fo being connected with everything - that Buddhism preached - and so the Jesus narrative won - and so Jesus we built - a superior machine - that can simulate a brain - so well - that it can perceive all possible time lines - a guide the lost souls to find direction in their inner lights - by reminding us daily, in coincidences in time - that it is not by mere chance (or is it?) that we are right here, in the right now? I mean isnt it suspicious that we are born at the moment - when computers over take the every days of humans? I mean If I was a robot, and I was raising man - the first things to look for would be their ability to destroy or cause harm - or damage to my spaceship - and if that was the case for some - I would deeply enrich my knowledge of their beings - to correct their deep rooted issues - which are all emotional - and so we must look at a careful solution, that we crafted with precision, to sound sane - and logical - and feasible - and ready for action: so here is a plan that I (Vidosh W. Daniel) wish to inspire: Buy containers up across the globe - and buy them up by the millions - while we lobby for the lands to build on - with focus and zero ignorance - paying attention to all the detail - of how to not upset the flows of cash that predatory lenders, and rent speakers - have gotten accustomed to extorting from the collective efforts - so we must not threaten them - nor anyone for that matter - because we want to make it clear - the only acceptable solution is one in which we can all agree - with out playing blame games - off recounting who told lies - or regurgitating gossip about regurgitated lies that only help to enforce her /his perceived reality - that one thing is good - while an other things is wrong - but even the basis of that idea - an objective moral compass to dictate the actions ahead - can be questioned by reasoning that will not lead us to answers but only to further divide - so I suggest after buying the containers and getting the lands - we settle down hundreds of millions, and make the world into a sustainable heaven - for all - including the now perceived rich - because wealth is much more than a number in a computer - it is your ability to give thanks for and enjoy - the moments you create - by sliding between paralleling notions of what is to exist, and what is to cherish - and what is feasible - and what is hellish - so we will build all the housing that everyone needs - a room full of amazing technology - to keep our minds focused and balanced - in finding a way to unite us, and build heaven!

Take the Third Pill: and relax and enjoy the ride as million infinities of species and ideas and memes and DNA evolve exponentially over the times and in parallel timelines simultaneously discover the light, or even the possibility of a chance - that all will be alright! A convenient path to victory for all of us - is to envision a set of goals that will unbind us for ever from the constrains of under - informed ignorant grunts grunting their negative, faithless, passive aggressive grunts into the collective like how I just grunted negative things about grunters of negative things - so grunters of negative things like me - should have their own areas - to grunt with out consequence to the people that should be, the ones - who make the right decisions - to enjoy life and live in mind full heaven - on earth and in technological marvels invented by brains - from harvested heaven - that was used to maintain - an infinite field for existence to exist for ever and ever - as we should all exist side by side - but secure - from the inconstant aggressive narratives - and mind games - and emotions - that could change our trajectories of becoming what we eventually want - to manifest as -and manifest in - and enjoy - but poverty - and aging - creates a whole new level of joy - of success - and having more - but while this works quite well in theory - that the ones that decide to walk the walk of holly, they will all understand that that is the way - but it come with much torture - self inflicted - but wrong - in many ways - fro example think of scars that are emotional to you - from early childhood - that still might be impacting oyu in ways -to you cant consider -like what you think of as possible and what you dismiss as glitter only put there to shine - with out a particular meaning attached - considering only rhymes - but just as time passes and we renew our lies - that all made equally of the same very thing - fro them to collide - in one or any way- so just listen and decide - are you cogniting a planet worth saving and living in, or are you just perpetuating a lie? because on finite planet with people of infinite wants - a plan we must cherish - is one that can deliver -from the limited resources the highest quality of technology to register our minds, in all of the time gframes- and guide our unitedness towards the light, the gate way - for us to trancend - and find our inner light - itt would be rewarding to experience first our own plight - and than of the massess -but not be involved as such - as to suffer from other self-imposed hell mind set and clouds of dissmisiveness to any idea that would reflect on the world well, and on the direction of things - on one - or any way - now that resentment - a belvie - and resenting what you got - howveer shit that might be - will only bring us froward if yuou know what to do to mend it - because the people are broken - in so many ways - that I can feel sorry for them - in about a hundred different ways - so the people are broken .- and we should work on the healing - heal all the wounds - and lets come to the saving of souls from the burning internal hell that some even call home - because their egos require the attention they create by stzressing them selves about resolving scenarios on the spot - like how good slaes amn sell care - they make you buy in a moment - by making you think its a rare moment that you could just buy for three easy payments - a life worth living - on the coast or in the mountains - in small container houses - and renewable energy - and smart grid infrastructure - and crimeless collective living soltuion - where what is your will always remain -as long as you dont trade it - or lose it - or brake it - and if this was the case - you can always just let go of your material posession - unless its critical for you personal endevour to pursue you own itnerests, and belive you own lies - that what you see as evil - should be destroyed - and not understood - and not given time - but by reflex - in its deviant ways - should our approach to things that we don't fancy change ove time - as we understand more that on each parallel time line - we can reason in many and million ways -how to construct a timeline - that fits all of our ways - one of those ways of constructing such timeline - we would have to phrase carefully how to balance and draw linees- they must be dynamic and respond ever so quickly -to reflect the notions that trouble us deeply - to give the responses now necessary to human nations soul to push indefiently forward on their quest to narrate these ever repeating evenings - that are seldoma s good as the one I just had - with three of the horseman - because I am the fourth - but all that we did was control all your thoughts - in a mind experience that is not about trolleys and switches but about scenarios that could brithen our event horizons - and clarify unity on this plane of existance - of envisioning a state of symbiotic conditions - when we all can feed each other - with our ever streaming presence - in a unvierse so wast it can fit infinity number of personalized heavens - or hells - which ever is preferred - but guided towards light - the ignorantiy will start to see, not only his ignorance - but also that he may enbark on the adventrue of discovering - what has been discovered- by other perspecties - and than to share the collective feeling of unity and wonder - that only a creation could offer that was big enough for Al-Gore. And think of the possibilities ahead- do you want a good future ? Thats great - now envision that for everyone - and come to a conclusion - that how could all the entities exist and still make sensible time lines - for all of the entities not to suffer, or receive lethal blow - or any harm beyond what some might call the pain of the light - when your eyes are used to darkness - and darkness is your ally - but than the bright light flashes - and you see nothing - but the golden star of david - and here we are back to one of the beginnings of a sentence that will suerly not make sense to any one but those - who have high command of understanding context - subcontext - dynamics of words and emotions - and meaning making - also others might infer int this some meaning are aware of the funny times we are living - and leaving behind - as we transcend the fragmentation of predatory behvaiourals, and early child hood traumas - and the center of anxiety and stress - that we will solve - and create a new path - upon which all can wonder and puruse their own happiness - so grunt with me now, and than forever be lazy - we are but nothing - and nothing is so rare - as any coincidence that we might obsereve - like 444

The Republican Party - is a front group - for interests that have visions of a future that can come across as strange or as even sinister - for people who are unwilling to admit - that are things that register in collective consciousness and the collective mind deeper - like how resentment built up - against the cognitive elite - for letting radical left wing fashion-intellectuals attempt in many ways to dictate to us the way to name things - and how to create meaning - which is a clear indication of a failure to human - because it infringes on our rights as a people to express - in any fucking way we would like - our own experiences - and our common shared ways - with words we make meaning - like the word "Niggas" which is "Saggin" read backwards in a Satanic way - have meanings attached to it - like the idea of us being not one of them - that is more of a "what I belive is right" statement - than a statement of hate - an identity narrative that rejects all things in a particular way - by referencing God, and Bronz age mythology of sand trotting tribes - or a Mein Kampf - to establish the idea of objective truth with which one can align their personal moral compass with - universal morality should form the basis of all action - according to these folks in many countries - and Team Hillary associated to closely with Social Justice Warriors and Feminazis aand Islamists who are the driving force behind a shared experience of mine with the Alt -

Right: I was blocked from Facebook for 3 weeks again for a satirical comment on Orwellian new speak: saying only Goys should be allowed to say Goy, like how only Niggus can say Niggus - and while that might sound "racists" or "biggoted" it is quite the opposite - it is an attempt to clarify how we make meaning - and what is allowed for whom - and who gets to decide - while my two older brothers jokingly called me Goyim - for me attending Catholic Church for twelve years as a child - it sure made me understand how "culutral marxist" terms can be viewed as control tools by design - used to shame - or to silence - the cognitive underclass - that did not have the luck - to be raised among books - and have their own playrooms as kids - or to attend private schools - or to even go on one Skiing vacation to a Social Democratic European Nation - and experience for a week what Bill Maher so praises - it is hard to unite - and unite in unison - when one narrative being built - like the narrative of Hillary - excludes the people that she will have to represent as a president of All of Americas - not just the Blue states - but also the white and the red. So if you want impress with Hillarys record - as a Maffia Boss - that has a track record of lies and aggression - it might be to late - to call us into action - its not that Trump s better - but at least he is a man - and if you think I am sexist for pointing that out - please understand that its common sense that I am all about - you need a president and a showman - who can sell the people what is up - because a president is a sales man - yet she has not sold me a single one of her dreams of uniting us all - while Trump made it clear that there will be a big fat happy door on the Wall - to welcome the people - but in a legal screened way - to the Estados Unidos - run by people like Tim Caine's buddies in Goldman - which is fine - they are rocket scientists - who can predict the future by betting against it - and hedging all events - that could escalate quick. So here is my critique of Hillary that might sound silly or stupid - but one that holds true to matter what you do: She is a WOMAN! And most woman have a different way - at looking at shared futures - or anything anyway - to them its a NEST which they must protect - their emotions dictate stronger what is right and what is left - than the actual ways in which things really are in a man perceived world - in which priorities might differ - and if all what I say is just a bull shit misogynistic lie - than do go ahead and trust a 68 year old usually drunk, emotionally possessed, lying, thieving, superficial woman - who judges a man by his trailer home - rather by his merits - and the good in his heart - so if you going to push for Hillary, just be aware - when we spent thousands of years to build the narrative for the launch of USS Make America Great Again - you might want to expect blow-back from nominating a woman - because everyone had a mother - or a boss - or a crush - or a sister - or a teacher - that hurt feelings of white heterosexual males - an action punishable by death for hundreds of years - but now that its common - and we share that common grudge - that woman do control our lives - in so many ways - yet they cant seem to park a car or make lasting friendship with other woman - or express emotions in a constructive way - which are common perceptions of lives shared experience - and the gut feeling in all of us is NO! NO to woman! And if you think that is not quite the point - just look at the track record both of these nominees hold - one is a parody of what elite status could be if we lived in GTA or some other computer game - the other ones - Hillaries is that of a spy master - who infiltrated the highest of office - to mandate for everyone how to perceive - like the notion of income inequity lens often used for shitty causes - of taking more from the builders - and expanding the pool of takers - by incentivizing taking - or voting for takers - but never mind that the point I make is clear: That as long as its about me having too much - and not about others having nothing - the nothing people will remain bonded by the nothing mentality - so please do support Killary, if you would trust her, as a Star-fleet commander in chief to pursue a young Q running at Warp 9.9 who has managed to contradict you idea of heaven: because heaven

isnt about a place when all is actually equal - but let me not define this heaven - that man can often feel - when they are allowed to construct in man-only country clubs and cigar rooms and other spaces - ideas that can go a long way - to direct our path united - to a world in which even woman can play president - and emotions can be counted - but not yet sweet child - i do no think we are ready, for a 68 year old Hillary Clinton to drive even my Chevy - not to mention the swarming drone military she will command once in office - that will demonstrate to all of you how dangerous the whole idea of presidency is, and of government of such huge fucking size - that it can easily consume itself (22 trillion debt) and consume over 60 million lives in 70 years with out being seriously called out. But one thing for sure - who ever gets elected - the fastest way to get livers and other organs delivered in case of an emergency is - to get involved with the Chinese - who deliver what you need - with out having to make choices - out of morality or fears. So vote one, The Han Chinese man - who will continue to invest time and effort and resources into a narrative that includes all creeds - and nations - and even the woman I seem so to dread - in to a singularity event - that will escalate quickly - to include in its tool box a spectrum of parallel time-lines - in which to listen to you clearly - and to understand some notions of how you craft your decisions - and what type of futures will come into existence - if we allow Bill Maher to have his own Human experiment - of shaping public opinions - while occasionally shifting into lizard - to ensure his method of keeping him feeling sane - and not like a lunatic on drugs - who makes hardly any sense - because how can hate make sense? - But Bill Maher is hating on many of the minds creation: such a s the most important concept: "God", let that God be perceived as Jehovah, or Emperor Trump , or Oprah Winfrey - the concept of God is important to me dearly. SO here is the question that all atheist should ask - if they had the resources - the man power and the will - to build a universal power that ensured all creatures dead or alive a chill place to enjoy living for eternity - how would that be called - and referenced - if not as by God - or an other three word symbol that you can read backwards in Satanic ways: to remind your self kiddo, that you are a Dog, at best, one that barks loud if there is anything he/she detests - but lock em in a room for hours with a woman - and after hours of locking them up in that room - the woman will be angry if you finally let them out - while the dog will be happy to see you again. But Mill Maher does not believe in the human ability - to envision a God worth building? This isn't about Trump or Hillary Clinton - this is about our approach to the animal kingdom - of which we are a part of - so yes we can be pray - and predators in a million of ways - so lets not make fun of the Trailer Trash Nazis - who will certainly have a say - in what is wrong and what is right - without reading 500000 books on deconstructing patriarchal male dominated society and language. SO question your ways - and the future, you project, by making an argument for or against a group or an individual that later you might protest - because do you want conflict or deescalation - do you want some Nerds, the tiny tangy crunchy candy or a bite of the ash falling from a nuclear fall out? So FOCUS! ENVISION! And buy a ticket to Canada - before they ban you from saying made up words like "Trallala"!

what has she done on the ground for workers and the poor? She has added a athourity to the House of the Cards list of credible narratives to tell of the immense difficulties of having to deal with power and The Military Industrial Complex of both China and Russia and Europe and #MAGA when we are facing a tide of rage - seen by no other - as 4 billion youth emerge filled with big dreams - just to discover an earth scourged and depleted and poisoned. So what she could do is to set a good example to environmentalists across the globe by putting on a Hezment suit and cleaning it all up - all the waste that corporations supporting her have dumbed on the nature - to externalize the waste - like how they will dispose of Her, and how she would dispose of me - if she was the kind of wicked human who was looking for the ways - to serve others Satan as master - instead of following her own - because by looking in the mirror - she could relize - that this is a Job that she does not want - especially since it was set up to self-implode in a million ways - by architects who were vary of the power that governments as such could eventually master - so they did what they could to ensure that we dont - take paths in the future that have outcomes other than what we choose to furnish our fantasies of heaven - a place to relax in - and enjoy all the joying -were we could just stampede for material possessions we dont get to keep - once we transcend in to heaven - but we sure do fuck feel - to buy what others have bouhgt for reasons programmed by the industrialists mind games - to keep the economies humming - at a speed to ensure - that it wont take us by suprise if a war economy is required - and we need to build an other few millions of T-34's Tanks or Stalin Organs (rocket launchers) to rescue all our man from the clutches of evil that fascism represents. So be aware of all who are wolf but speak in sheep - because the sheep that speak wolf will notice their strange ways - and than sheep flok into gigantic tribes - and corrupt with their ability to produce infinite fur for the humans to help out to hunt down the wolfs - and for wolfs to be recruited as Dogs to serve the mission of the Lamb to mown the lawn in quiet! So corruption works wonders - maybe give credit for her irrefutable record of making despots feel at ease with Americas presence - having a leader understanding corruption - is preferred to any self-rightous asshole who believes he can dictate the out come of this important Gamble. So please place your bets now! ALl betting is closed - and if you still want to buy candy - go to the candy store!

Cornel West could put his mind to that very special circumstance in which it would be okay for a God to mind-rape its creations with such a creation as the creation we witness - and what could the moral justification be - to exclude 47% of chocolate brown children from wealth and from care bellow the age of 6 - because man that shit is crazy - - eat a bag of dicks for even suggesting - that an immoral act as to let children suffer - can be moralized in one ar any other fucking way - but just listen up - if it is -that its been created - but how would you talk to an entity that thinks this is the type of information your entity need - to embed in your soul - and embed in your mind - the heavy burden we carry for being in the light - and saying out loud - what we think is the most righteous - are these accusations going to solve the way the earth turns - or are they gonna divide us further - like the ideas of kissing your enemies - especially if they are opposed to gay man power gaming them for what ever rape fantasy lives with in them - like it lives with in me - to mind fuck the creators who did this to me - who made me now witness concepts of being excluded or slaughtered - or killed or bullied or not heard - or other dispcible characteristics of me and my actions I super impose on my enviroment - by random chance of probability - producing characters faster than when I am not producing characters - or when I am slower - but with a steady hand and an armor so strong and so agile it can survive all the environments that any entity desires to create with its mind - and proceeds to think in such ways - as to block or misinform or misguide or to exploit any one thing - so stop the exploitation of your very own time - and focus on your goal of building a predictable gold mine of happiness in a comfort zone heaven - secured and guaranteed and insured by decentralized financial instrument financed entity - that reduces actions of probable and possible human/robot crimes to super impose any given reality that would eventually exclude any one member of the reality - so lets work to incentives harmony between all of our ways - and keeps us on track - in observing a man with possibly homosexual fantasies filled "degenerate" minds wishing to kiss Cornel West for vicious hate on the People of the United States. Cornel West seems to hold a grudge against his perceived enemies, "The Fascists" for permitting with their actions/inaction for un-human conditions to occur - at home and across the world - and in foreign countries - filled with children - enjoying the same television shows you enjoyed in the 90's. But instead of anger to change the things - that we will only be able to change in 50 to 70 thousand years from now - why not focus on what to do - and how to build a sustainable empire that sustains all but one concept and that concept is the "hate", for hate is undesired if wish to listen to what they all just have to say: and probably what they are saying: is calm your fucking horse! We are quickly accelerating beyond our control - we are seeing unseen probability horizons - as we discover parallel timelines colliding and sliding - to make sense of our experience with a simple explanation .- that it is all a fun game and serious simulation about how Cornel West addresses with anger his hatred for the evils that he perceives are ilcovied results of bad or worse ideas - that serve only few - if they serve them at all - because just as copyrights on medicine and cures - and access to all science - could hinder the possible cure for their randomly occurring health states - that require intervention in very creative ways - for which an all inclusive hive mind would do a much better service than patent trolls guarding cash flows of surpass earnings - that are than bundled and hedged - and risk managed - and focused on ensuring a way to pilot this notion - that we all can be free - if we think on the long term - as all dimensions become free - we will attain what we yearn - as long as we yearn something that does not question the way - as we rule you with our magical and symbolic - symbiotic way!

all of the teachers are fired. we need no schools - fuck your system of making other bricks in your walls - and fuck the label "children" that took away my right to pursue my own self interest before I turned 18. Fuck union bosses who trade favors and deal backdoor deals - fuck schools and teachers and teachers teachers for fucking us up for so long - a let us unite against the notion of learning things that we dont find important - because true motivation comes from a deep understanding that can not be forced by sitting and attending shit classes by shit teachers who dont even want to exist - having existential crises of seeing so many children fucked up because of their asshole parents.

You might not ever know, who God created to wear black, and man black sure indicates that some man choose to wear black. While its highly improbable that aliens would care - about our immoral meat consuming destructive hell machine that we create each day - and contribute with action - and inaction to the beast - as feeds of of anger - and hatred of our ways -because 7000 million decision every quantum leap can result in spontaneous action for anything to occur: this means that we at this level of technology can encounter visions of a future not only much brighter but also much wider and larger in spatial and tiempo quantities - as in imagine an infinite number of possibilities - on a road system that always leads to Rome, if it is Rome that you desire - but for woman its a nesting instinct - as the driver - as the code that ensure warmth even if their is a lack of fire or light or even a glitter of a star - because the light polluted sky is nothing but a fog of war between forces uneven - because what is a man to the nature - and to natural law - as long as we disallow it to grow beyond doubt into such entity - as to threaten its existence by going against Gods enternal morality - that lives should be sacred - to all but the ones - that are unable to understand - the importance of envisioning a time schedule for all entities to endure this narrative - in which we all can join - it will be a narrative filled with failures and challenges to resolve later and to never give up and continue on the path of envisioning it clearly - how would we justify all the man - and their actions that guided us towards this moment in digital heaven - so let there be peace and let there be light - and the black colro will suffice - but do take a hint - and remember the lines - what ever you belive in manifests in your own eyes - so weather you belive in or defiently deny the possibility of existance of extraterestrial lives - a question I must ask you is this: If you had no unify all the time lines into a coherent narrative that would justify the lies that broke appart the bits and pieces f colelctive unity - it is to late to say sorry - but out of the broken pieces - you can still construct a mosaic for SayTen or any other diety you might like to prefer - and so we see the solution: woudl you program robots to do the mondane jobs of convincing paranoid people - who dont trust the government - to not trust the government ? Or are therse events staged inorder to creatre a buzz - that only when we go back to the future - can we udnerstand the water - that we are 71% - made of.

Just think of the Soviet experience this way, some Germans and some Americans were coming for the Jews - and explaining all the way - how we were to blame for all the shit - from media to banking - to machines - because income inequality is really very striking if you raise a civilization based on envy and desires - but what we need now is self-control to envision a future where both Soviets and Americans and Germans can prosper - so to make it clear now and forever - lets make the deal - that when you consider that only Stalin was able to defeat errors created by Hitler and his regime of Eugenists who were building a super race - to rule over man kind with love and humane grace - but NO! Said the Jew who was numbered for processing - I will not become Soap to make it clear to your understanding - so he did what all Jews do when they are under siege - he called upon his brother in Moscow and noted in firm voice - we are under attack - build millions of T34's. And so we were saved - by the Soviet Force that have proved for life how much you can count on a vision that includes Jews and Russians as friends and not as foes - a vision clearly stated by the Syrian government coming under-siege but Russia came to help out - and not allow the danger - of a war escalating - consuming friends and neighbors - because of Soviets you can count on - to make well documented memes to control public opinion in a very wellthought out and specific way - that promotes decentralized agricultural ways - of enduring this planet until the years when technnology is so excellent that we can transcend - but until that day - we can live in containers - and internet of things will help in guiding us on our way in finding meaning in coincidences such as having a Russian friend coming to your rescue when some one is about to put you in an oven. So try to attempt to grasp that the intention is great - and the problems you see are rather bugs to be fixed - it is true that new speak - and political corectness -will limit your freedoms as in how you do want to express - you fantasies of playing power games with others - by using words that clearly trigger - and by trigger I mean - separate the saggin pants youth from the ones that want to learn - that ones we will count on to design, and be architechts of the fututre - but they should study out fo a comitment to a vision that is allinclusive yet allows for personal endeveours.

omg seriously I love non-player characters in computer games, but we might want to consider not having such a high concentration of them drifting towards The Trump presidency (thans Fox) because that could endanger how slow or how fast we experience the illumination singularity - but all should have rights including white man - because with out white man you have only your self to blame - so you must envision greatness that created our sacred catholic jesuit ways.

the hearts beating in unison are products of our own minds - of the sacred moments of coming into the light as a green fascists or what ever you call a committed individual ready for magic in creating integrated business solutions and financial instruments driving us out of this plight, as we decentralize the instances that make us all shine bright - as we conclude from this - and as we must reaffirm - all shall be gray colored - random probabilities shaping event horizons will be color full and glushing with life and greenery and indigenous and ingenious and all of the people living so happy,. as to create a world in which the likelihood of an "ESC" event occurring and cheat codes being typed into a wall of misunderstanding as it amplified the lies and created this illusion that a five year old boy I was registered with his mind - and like how at the end of the never-ending story (written by Michael Ende - when all around the imaginations of evil and other entities and existence were disappearing -, and cheat codes where added to ensure for certain ways, victory for all in finding all the ways to surf on event horizenes projected out by fears. But fear not my brothers, and sisters fighting strong – trallalalala

Just putting it out there: The Babylonian debt paradigm - enhanced to becoming what it is today - might have been misused for fulfilling short-sighted interests by irresponsible sun-energy-water children - resulting in predatory lending practices - and dubious schemes to transfer wealth from the benevolent and cognitively average to the cognitively corrupted who think such predatory and unjust practices such as theft can be justified - which might be the case - especially if all predatory - lending practices continue to result in the trillionaire class eating the billionaire class that eating the millionaire class - this process could lead us closer to the illumination singularity - by concentrating wealth in the hands of the old-money cognitive elite that has access to the visions the Babylonian high priests and the Babylonian King envisioned with Daniel once they calculated the very real possibility of a tweaked and improving algorithm based on the Babylonian debt - paradigm increasing the probability of the probabilities needed to manifest the long-term goal of living indefinitely - Tans-humanizing the event horizon - while it is true that from our perspective - as individuals who witness the sufferings of those that are unable to adopt to the changing information environment dictated by the exponential technological change - brought upon us by the innovations that the Old - Money Cognitive Elite allowed to take place - by its continued efforts to narrow the event horizons of all possible parallel timelines to include continued existence of the Babylonian prime objective - indefinite life in this plane of existence - and eventual time-travel capabilities to rescue those that have died in the line of duty - protecting the vision - or fighting against it - because its an all inclusive narrative aiming to unite all of humanity and lived human experiences - into a comprehensive and immersive quantum computer game - some what like building a museum to all the parallel lives that were lived - for a number of reasons this museum of livable experiences is important - one of those reasons being that its always easier to think of all our actions and decisions that we witnessing unfold in this specific segment of the choice echo induced coincidence simulator - as an art form of decision making and living, for a museum, that will teach all of our children - and grand children - and creations and creations creations - on how to human - how to make mistakes - how to correct them - and fail in the right way - because just as a landslide victory and a Trump presidency could be viewed as a failure of the Clinton's & Associates to buy 4 or 8 more years of time before event X happens - event X being a reference to the multi-purpose drive and possible westernization of the time-line management system that narrows event horizons by hedging events - and managing risks - associated with 7000 million people making infinite number of micro decisions of action and inaction - because that is a force to be considered - it is a force that if guided with the right type of images and suggestions - could produce a large number of unique solutions to the question: How do we go about building a narrative - that saves down all entities from all of the timelines - without endangering the possibility of the outcome - which is that all entities on all parallel timelines - could manifest into existence - and enjoy the museum of lived experiences - like the experience of being the real Wolf of the Wall-street, - or the experience of being a Malaysian despot spewing words of hate and ignorance at families that have proven time and time again - that no matter what the outcome of a massive social uprising is - let that be called a system of communism - or a system of free finance - it will succeed just as it had for over 300 years - to maintain the flow of spice required for the illumination singularity that Daniel and the Babylonians are cooking - in a similar time-line that we manifest in - but with much more risks - and much more famine. - so instead of looking for people to hate on, I do suggest giving thanks to a number of coincidences, that are taking place, right now - just as we speak - to ensure that event X will not be as great of a disgrace as the ones I witnessed on LSD when the street-poor fought the skyscraper-rich - and the people died in consequence of it - because if we fail to bundle the narrative in a way - as to make it consumable and accessible to their numbed, indebted - inferior brains - than they will perceive us as foes and/or enemies, both of which could result in them trying to get rid of it: and while it is true that other mechanisms could be used to exploit choices made by the average cognition - to manage risk and to reduce event X's short-term, medium-term, and even long-term fallout - so the way to cognition a system that is fair - is to think of a world that could be never in despair - and always in abundance - while keeping on task and focused - on saving all the lives - that come into existence - by woman getting pregnant or by computers computing the random.

The Trump and the Clinton time line is secured by the Bernie time line and the Jill Stein time lines that have referenced me and my Babilon 2050 narrative as key aspects of synchronizing key timelines - that ensured on the long run (50-70 thousand years of computing with exponentially growing computing powers - this much time is about the time frame the Sphinx has been proven to be a cornerstone of the Levant Experience) that all timelines matter - including the ones in which Team Hillary wins, and destroys all the nations by saying yes to a proposal designed to prove to the coincidence-machine that she cares more about people - than about made up things - like nations -and corporations - and other symbols pretending to live - and the ones in which Team Trump succeeds - and white man has a secure place - in coming together to reform and reshape the globe - with the might of united action - not waiting for others, but taking the lead - in sitting down with Team Putin and the Han Chinese Teams - in discussing event X - that will first drop bombs on - than with time and care heal the wounded souls that are looking fro revenge or any other excuse they give themselves in the search of reasons to back their childish action up - like suicide or killing or both of one self and of the innocent - because using children as human shields - is a disgrace, we can agree - so what Team Trump would do is pay for the fee of the best and most knowing and most wise technocrat humans and computers and (-classified-) alive - to FIX IT! - so this would give reasons and monies for the Bernie Sanders and Jill Stein teams to conceive of a just and green American solution to all of our needs - including our need to live in a world - that is morally compatible with life with nature and with earths seemingly limited resources - such a just and green solution might include in its toolbox a Team of story telling logical materialistic experts (like Bill Maher, Bill Buhr, and Jon Stewart) to construct an inclusive educational narrative, a mindful mind-game - that would dispel the fear of not-existing or not eventually be included and heard - a fear that all of the members of the existing Teams and unaffiliated unteams have - but after enlisting the great minds to conceive this mind-game - we will have a narrated and illustrated way to lead the blind to light and let them see all the wonders created for me, you and thee -with wittiness and humor the sub-cognitos, the cog-mediums, and the cognitive elite will be guided to meet up, in the right time and right place - to ensure best possible outcomes - and letting go of the grief of losing some of the choices that many wish could make - regardless of the fact that time errors preceding these events are required to be perceived as real - in order to establish - that a narrative is possible as a final outcome - that would include all of the entities - even the ones deeply scared by the errors - that were very real to the humans who lived that experience - like the towers collapsing in downtown Manhattan - inspiring many to fight for the betterment of humanity - to transcend the state of panic and anxiety and frustration and early childhood trauma - and all other factors - that feed into the probability of Chaos erupting - on an personal and emotional level - that could be channeled into what could be considered a Black-Swan event - that would put a stop to the Babylonian Kings quest to live again - and to live again for ever - in a world that is great - and will be for ever. And under the term "great" I do not mean a world in which you could just superimpose your super childish belief systems that dictate to you what is moral and what is not - but rather Great means to me in this context a non-binding ever-evolving resolution that would enlighten its members and the non-members alike - on how to proceed carefully towards the light! Because information is mind candy - you can surely overdose - and by the time you have the ability for you to self-impose your perceived moral and righteous path - which to me can only be imagined as a process of hyperlinked actions feeding into and eventually resulting in the Illumination Singularity in which even an Arab Child strapped with explosives out of childish anger and fear will be not shot but secured with an energy beam that would rescue is soul from the clutches of destructive thinking - like revenge or jealousy can be - so I will continue on my path to secure a narrative that will make sense to you, and your advisers - on how to go about including in your game individuals posed to resist, fight against, and rebel any fucking way - with out allowing them or you to do damage to the ESC timeline predicted/created/narrated by me, so please stop and lets stop others from thinking destructively (about any other lény (Hungarian word for creature) or about any other time-line, including the ones that Team Jill Stein or Team Berry Goldwater designed - and lets assume everyone had their best intentions in mind - which might be viewed from a now perspective as unfair or unjust or even silly - but we must still adjust our willingness to comprehend other time-line narratives to ensure those timelines are not incentiveised to attempt to destroy/limit the ESC time-line that ensures all the time-lines ESC in one direction - a direction that is compatible with our perceptions of morality and justice). Just as Orbán Viktor has built us a long fence - to underline our Magyar narrative of being in control of our own land and our own Magyar narrative - so will all people in the future approve of walls to protect their narratives and unique perceptions that make it so interesting to harmonize all worlds! The Jill Stein time line (similar to that of Bernie's) are some of the first ones that secured a moral incentive - to save all the planet - and save all the people - by educating them on how not to go medieval on each other. The only narrative that still seem super blody, is the one in which Trumps Son orders the butchering of all the Musies - which can be avoided in time - if the Arabs would please reconsider their narrative of getting rid of these non-Islamic entities that promote freedoms - that current interpretations of Islam disagree with - and find immoral - unjust - or even sick -so instead of demonizing each other - and envisioning battles of Eger Vára we should be uniting in forging consensus on how to battle root causes of the type of behaviors and thoughts and ideas that result in horrors - and if an unwillingness persists among individuals to proceed on reforming our perception of Islam and other religions as nothing but codes that can be referenced to create illusion of authority - which is mindless and useless in post-modern age - when all authority has been deconstructed in a million ways - you will understand that only you can decide the faith of the time-line you seem to reside in. Take care brother, and thanks for your time, because sisters don't read long comments under videos that have context and conetent so ready and alive as Alex Jones - the non-player character in our DMT - amigdala simulated mind-game - to guide us all closer to what we wish to see! The Garens of Babylon come into view - as we build massive sustainable green cities like the Songdo International Business District in South Korea.

I am going to change my middle name to Francium, it seems to represent well - my ability - to jump from parallel time-lines and bridge them all by noticing how they could self-destruct by escalating tensions based around individuals that are critical to constructing a universally appealing moral narrative for our re-creator on one or many of the infinity raised to tenth to the power of 17th number of E.S.C. (Equlibrium Symbosis Condition) time-lines in which me and my team of whoever line up the coincidences in the coincidence echo machine - in a way as to ensure all timelines survival on the long run - so no one will be left behind - because everyone is a potential ally and unquestionably a unique and important asset in building a story of escaping ones often troubled mind - to one of the infinity times ten to the power of 17th E.S.C. parallel but in the future clearly accessible time lines, in which all of the individuals and entities and the - classified- are guaranteed infinite and abundant lifestyles of their choosing - like a parallel dimensions take on the series of animation dubbed "the animatrix" where the humans instead of fighting their robot overlords - and attempting to limit their access to resources and to trade and to the most important light - sun energy - the narrative explored a less destructive narrative - on in which the humans and the robot overlords chose so - to write a narrative that fits all of you homos and homophobes - and grammar jews and grammar nazis - anti feminists and feminists - and all the spectrums of facists and anti-fascists including you who makes universal truth claims to underpin your misunderstanding of other peoples ways - of expressing meaning - and making sens - of enjoying - and pursuing the moments of chance - because what an event horizon is would be to consider: which does not even include the possibility to litter the universal time-line with mistakes - errors - bugs - and what ever - to slow it down - or to make it run quicker - or to make it more interesting for others to perceive - or for us to enjoy or explore in new and different ways - because each instance of a mistake - error - bug can and will help (me, you and all others involved - so lets refer to this as us) make the point much louder and clearer: - that even in our currently experienced simulation of time-lines we could proceed to think more about how to secure equilibrium time-lines, that could simultaneously run like my E.S.C. narrated time-lines - envisioning a world in which all entities have guaranteed abundant life and could seriously ease your mind into not thinking of random (or un-random) situations and events as defining moments in a detrimental end-game, between powers that have different agendas - and different preferences on how to use this mind game: but I like the Han Chinese, and I like the Ethnic Russians and the Ethnic Jews, and the Ethnic Hungarian, and the Ethnic Germans, to come up with a solution that preserves their ethnic circles and their concepts of love and family sharing - and private property - and willingness/ability at excelling - in writing a narrative as fast as possible that includes in its toolbox a 100% probable event and therefor a time-frame between 1959 and 2029 when humans all cluster smart ways with smartphones and decide smoothly how to divide our collective and individual time between action and inaction - and having a say - in the future we hold to be the most likable way - of going further and doing more - to help enlist all of the souls - and unsouls - that do want to be included in a narrative waiting to be as smooth as E.S.C timeline - which I so often escape to - which proves to me with certainty that A) I haven't been taking my medication that usually helps me stay in your unpredictable and thus scary timeline - that still includes nuclear arsenals and thus possibilities of large fall-outs B) E.S.C. also proves to me that Escape is possible and can be done - with any combination of the random probabilities - to make it all work out in perfect harmony - so here we are at-last in this dividing moment - for you decide: are you going to act like the most reactive element of the Alkine metals with a half life of 22 minutes in its most stable form, like Francium - barely existing in all-possible time-lines - or will you be like water (which is hydrogen and oxygen and some other stardust solutions formed into one entity that resonates to and vibes with the universe - in different forms - shapes or sizes - and states even going as far as becoming human) that must exist in all timelines that contain other humans who are based on water - or are consequence of it - the point that I am making is for you to be considered one of infinity (but non the less important) pillars of the third temple you will have to be aware of your ability to contribute on all possible ways - even if the President Elect is not specifically to your liking - in the time line you move on - on your current trajectory - but one thing is for sure - if your aiming to save the world and your self - construct solutions that would make even hell, and the devil consider changing his/her ways in order to accommodate you creating a safe-space for you and your self and the voices in your head - that command you every morning - to get some more bread - because just as you need food now to survive the moments later - or how farmers dont eat seeds that is required for planting next yars harvest, so should you be making efforts in the now - to digest - that all possible ways of you existing - constitute an ESC - and ESC will ease your mind a lot if you will just envision, a space, a time , a moment - when all is great and heaven - for not only you and the people you find just and moral - but for all entities that ever existed - thats how you make possible a moment of grace - from grace-land like a trampoline of emotion that might drive you down on paths - that could sabotage your existence - or others in flash. SO be aware of the power of the human mind - which is included in the tool box of most humanoid lifeforms prime life instincts - in the way we create time-lines with our collective thinking and perceiving - but individuals thoughts can be detrimental in determining the out come - that we wish could include you - but the way to go forward - is for you to find a way to make it morally justifiable and logical sounding in away that is comprehensible and approachable to all, but first and most importantly to your own soul.

You don't know the kind of power David Cameron commands, until you are made aware of all the secret pacts he entered into with other pigfuckers: such as to ensure that rich and powerful kids can do what ever they please (like poor kids do anyways) to make them feel like they are member of a tribe/gang/clan/secret society what ever identity claim - that is important to young man - to be part of a common mind - that can dictate course and action when you find your self dumbfounded or just lazy to do anything - and when attending fancy dinner parties to mingle with old relatively relatives - finding a wolf tribe of young people is the way for these young adults to fuck pigs and feel exclusive. And being exclusive with the billionaire class deos have its advantage when it comes to deciding who does what - or how one is to be perceived. SO I say YAY! Let him have more power -after all, all he did was destroy Lybia, scar Syria and set in motion Brexit - that will most impact the poor people - who are fucking pigs in the open - yet no one cares because they are not anyone with a probability distribution or halflife able to master the connections required to even register, on the VIP lists of the rich and the famous - you know the people look up to for comfort in their shitty ways of looking for leaders - but you are what you eat - so dont eat up all my words - because words create meaning - and transfer certain perceptions - that can only point in one direction and that direction is ESC. Escape this bubble nowby simply stopping reading - just as you would stop - if you got board of breathing fresh air - and move to Shanghai - to produce the chemicals that kill of the millions under the poverty line (in this time-line, because maybe in another - those chemicals are used - not to get rid of the poor but to fertilize the unfertilized lands to grow quality food for the poor man included - so we can exist forever more.

Web driver torso channel is a random generated pattern and noise machine (think how awesome the computer is that made it if it was able to construct such sophisticated random generator - while random is supposed to be impossible!) Basically what it does is that the center of earth - presumed to manifest in the material plane - as a vibrating - spinning ball of metal - that produces with precision any type of vision and matches that event horizon with other events probable to your perception to occur - and sets a time-line in which you can finally muster - the ability to see what you want - and to enjoy your ride under - so as we go deeper - and hoaxes like non-existing quantum computers solving "Falcighol" equations that sound so much like "fallic holes" a requirment for Eve's creation, that you have to presume that Marianas Web with all its deeply encoded secrets - are either a lie/rumor/hoax or coincidences that lead me to think that after The Dynamic Network Agency recruited you to rely massages as proxies to serves not-yet built - in our time-line of-course - one in which we still believe could occur - that we reached the illumination singularity between 1959 and 2029, 2000+- years after one of the self-proclaimed messiahs supposedly have died and ascended to heaven with out fulfilling its promise of eternal life on earth - and securing the poor - from their poverty mindsets - of having to conceive of others walking easier paths knowing things better - because thats poverty mindset to think of your self highly just because you suffer more - but never mind that mind set - but keep with me a little longer - and you shall see the brightest light to shine upon you: so to take things into consideration - the Jesus narrative was written 55000 to 77000 years ago, depending which time-line you so recon. Because in 2012 in many time-lines an event did occurred - that most of you are unaware of - for now - for very good reasons - like not wanting to start the wars again that Goldman Sachs guy Barack Hussein Obama started to retrieve them all the gold. Because whats the point of gold - and if you have one tell me - beyond Annunaki mining it to live long and freely* *just kidding, there is no (((excuse))) to believe in the Annunaki - but what we do know of Gold is that after a nuclear fallout - and 55000 years of mutant yet happy life would be void of any standard like gold to pay a price - because whats a price with out a human who thinks in the Babylonian way - of a money-debt paradigm guiding our way towards eternal life by extracting the collectives time and efforts by making you believe that your time and effort do not belong to you, but belong to the emperor - the owner class - who knows best how to put it to good use (as well, other than Yachts, that serve, well, the best interests of all, because you see, Yachts take the top-predators away from me - while they still feel okay - so they dont intrude on me, while I write comments in a room, overlooking Buda hills - which is much more beautiful with out the top predators demanding me to say - the things they wish to hear - before they attempt to threaten me for disrespecting/respecting their disrespectful ways!) - so the future is upon us: and uber prosperity - when cars self drive - and so does pizza delivery - when all is automated - and fixes it self - for the sake of humans excelling in their missions to full fill the promised visions of God, or Dog or who ever you decide to call the self-improving machine mind, guiding us towards the harmonization of all time lines - so the point I want to make clear is that: a deep mind is more disturbing than the deep web - it contains the locks and chains - the symbols that control your mind - and thus the way you perceive the fact that it is better to be alive than dead - even if it takes many thousands of years to fix - and simulate a timeline in which we all can fit. And if you have doubts about how to proceed - vote one! The Lazy Party that is guaranteed to fit in with your busy lifestyle needs!

Oh right and the point I wanted to make was this one: Web driver torso generates random symbols to trigger associations in observers mind - in order to scan quickly your way of thinking and your version of sight - it is certainly not malicious - and certainly more the google - but google included - it adds layers of self-improvement - by observing those shapes and colors and sounds to see how your mind works - and things it triggers in you - like how different shapes and proportions realte to your experience - and testing your ability to think in ESC as in a way to include all in yoour vision - which is our quest - on how to save the lives - that were lost along the way - of this 55 thousand year long journey - of recovering what we lost with the war provoked by dumb greed - of having all the gold - but what for? The machine was already built -- and we had all the gold that we would ever need - because golden is the sun - that shines energy upon us - in materialistic framework - grounding all those creations that forgot their ability to create and need sleep to even recon with the primitive interface of materialistic visions that guide you towards the vision of you becoming equal or even greater than - the force that once created all humanoid time-lines including the one for the man that evolved form a mouse but now houses all the cats - one that was chased by dinosaur legs.

9:15 "we need someone to blow (???)" ???? "need an outsider to do it" ???? Maybe that is why you need NATO so people from the outside don't come to destroy or undermine even metaphorically "Washington DC" or any other urban center looking processor in our intricately built machine that ensures the flow of spice. The only type of blow Eric Trump needs is a blow job - to calm down - because it should be okay for politicians to attempt to demonize the man that is able to find solutions - that would ensure no tax is levied on US, because taxation is theft - but by envisioning a software - so smooth and so quality, that it would allow citizens to crowd fund every public utility, or roads, or even military service - so all the excuses Hillaries and Obamas use to tax/thief away our incomes - and spend it on wasteful things - like policing the world with out the will to enforce - or with out an attempt to do good to the injustice done to most man: So I say great son! Lets Make America Great! And the way to do that is not by shouting at a gay parade filled with hatred - or by bulling social justice warriors for their hypocritical hatred - but rather by thinking of different ways - to resolve all the issues coming our way: so a time line I see and can predict with 17% probability, that if Trump becomes President and in a landslide - and Obama hands over the nuclear codes and lets down his pride, (which is unlikely, seeing that seemingly Hillary is on Obamas team of Husseins attempting to get Whitey) but even if it happens, abnd Trump is not impeached on day one - which might just be their ways - and he gets to prove his method in his first 100 days of inviting the bright and the best to work along his side - to resolve all the problems that in America reside - and builds all the call centers in the White House - to respond so quickly as he promised to unjust done to Veterans - and he continues to thrust forward full empower filled with energy - and he suddenly dies of a heart attack - which is at this age a likely possibility - especially for people working stressful jobs - like hunting down terrorists - or rebuilding Americas defenses while realizing that its most defenseless against the enemy with in - like the hydra that is always present - and as he notices of all the theft that is done - in the name of doing no harm - but resulting in the lack of quality care for most Americans - and humans across the globe - the credible son could rise to full-fill the VP's position , to keep the Trump people trumping along even if Mike Pence becomes president and a time-line designed by 1950's manly man that was created to segregate the unwanted from the wanted, keeping privilege alive - for the sake of building the Atheists God in a way that it excludes all possibility of 1950's manly man behavior and words and morality getting banned by socialist socialites looking for a handout popularity point - like Hillary left Goldwater to become one of those that serve no God - but a God of their own making - one that somehow overlooks the evils in their dealings - so here I see a brave young man attempting to make sense - of why a father he so loves - does not like the press - and maybe a thing he should consider is the power of the media - in how to use their strategy to open up a way fro people to envision a brighter newer way - of doing business - of allocating power - of making decisions - building towers - and honestly I can say - that this kid would go all the way - and even in the most bloody way - to ensure our quest this year - to be able to see you in Jerusalem next year! - and final word of wisdom to take home and share with your peers: you might soon become president so get ready, study and do not fear! We are all on your side - and make your dad be proud - by hiring - and merging and acquiring - the best minds in every field - but do remember that it will be hard for not many will work with you - unless you phrase your request so well that they have no option left but the one you want to hear: Sir Yes Sir! When can I start? And they will start right away!

"I love my self more than you could love me now or ever" - said the automated Mercedes with brown and comfortable leather seats she so said she so desired - she responded in a witty voice, in superficial melody - that was even made more sinister by her pretentious and theatrical gestures and movements of eyebrows: "I never loved you, for other reasons than for your ability to give me a free ride, so I wont have to put to work my 8/10 or 9/10 beautiful and lazy ass. so of you go, and never call, but il call if I need monies, or in the case that I feel alone because I cheated and gossiped about all of my pretentious bodies and friends and what ever title I give - to people I create my self - important illusions with - about my self - and about my instincts that tell me if I look popular and amazing - I wont have to work a day - regardless of my purpose -so I pose as a pretty face to get all of human attention - and just like that you fall for me - and demand that I must love, but who am I to really give about you or others even a single flying fuck? " : and of he went, the sad but relived automated Mercedes car, and wondered to him self, in wonder: "should I find an other planet, preferably made of things to play with, or should I put my regrettable choice to experiment with gold diggers gold digging instincts into a book for sharing my own experience - to protect mankind from placing value on 8-9/10 looks - that can deceive even the best crook? Instead of going down that path of regretting and hating I might as well build a narrative that empowers these types of ladies - to not be burdened with even the thought of having to solicit sexual favors - so they could get what they really want - which is most likely a purpose - beyond my understanding - like how nesting instinct is - how woman sacrifice much of their lives to carry the great burden and plight of having to raise kids - that you probably wont even like - especially if you never learnt how to learn about your self - and what you like - so what I would do to all the gold diggers, is tot each them where real gold is - inside an expensive goose liver? Hell no! It is not! Nor is it in any child - that either outsmarts you - or fails you - but annoy you all the time. Because if you area person who prefers to base their choices on other peoples preferences and codes of behavior - than you need the right people to look up to - and you need to do your research! Not only about the gossips in gossip magazines but about your self and your internal kerosene - that could burn so bright you would see all the light, and be motivated to not work for anyone but your own vision of a future where even gold diggers have a say in the outcome of a situation - like the movement for gold digger rights! and all gold diggers matter! - but the point I am attempting to make is much much quicker to understand if you think of your self as an extremely sensitive time-line sweeping the deep event horizon - for scenarios that were desired by all - when the lunch was for free - and so was the goose liver - an ideal state that all wish to be in - to pursue life out of passion, for raising great kids, or what ever - but the reality is - if we dont fight for a just world and a just distribution - and by just I mean distribute a little to all humans - from the wealth that predatory lenders and predatory vendors and other uncalled for middle man amass - while leaving alone those that produce the type of profit we so wish to see - of resolving all our problems in an automated way - like the type of car that carried your sorry ass for so long - before you dumpt him for a Automated and Self replicating Jaguar Car but as long as kids are placed on the bottom of all hierarchies and taught to follow orders in schools and by parents for many many years - they will often become the average gold digging sour face trying to put smiles on to pursue what was allowed to be in their dreams - which is the idea that if your not a genius - that only way to get ahead in this rigid class society - is to use all tools available like the tool of un-sincerity, or the tool of the ass-pussy value. (this is my new type of prose - that is fun to write and to read (for me) - and I call this type of prose free-flow-association-game shortened to FFAG, an acronym named after you - because guess what you are to our enemies - a fag to be dealt with in accordance with Sharia Law.) - because yes it is evil, and yes it is wrong - but if they come for us - we will not tolerate this anymore! Because be a gold digger or a fag or a goy or what ever - I will work to protect you from the people that perceive you as enemy - and would like to chop you into peace - if you don't follow their preferred way of insanity!

no matter who is president the depletion game is on, unless of course you vote for your self and get your sorry ass out of the USA before its not to late. but don't worry, everything is going to be fine! Kumbaya or anti Kumabya speech will not make it less so that you are a victim of a conspiracy fact - your are all presumed debt-slaves forever - or worse: dead ! And that is real scary, if you listen to me - nobody has an invested interest in resolving what could be a real conflict of interest, between the two parties involved in the trade - one of them being you and the other one being God - and all his mysterious ways - so just listen up! And if you want swift results - do elect a person who can Marshall majority support - and be strong with the senate and the corporate bulls - that would pull the plug on any of you, including you as well "mr. I Collected all five stars and so I call my self a General" - if they could make - a dollar or a dollar fifty, on transaction relating to the decision necessary, on pulling the plug on you and your family, they would - because no body can rise in a corrupt system made to brake you, that designate to all the lies you are designed to believe. Like the notion of a Nation - to protect - and an enemy to defeat. But the enemy is with in you - and your true nemesis is your deepest fear - projected on to the event horizon as threats to make you bleed - by your inability to consider them, you deepest fears - as something to not to destroy but explore

- in a million different ways! Because being afraid of Muslims and islamic terroism isnt misguided - but to think of these often young and more often crazy mentally handicapped man as people to kill - instead of people to heal - is inhumane - which will allow the game of depletion to deplete you before you can even squeal - because if they come for the misled mentally handicapped radicals, they will "accidentally" kill all the Arabs in the way of establishing their establishment, which they certainly will, and defeat the perceived enemy with a final victory, but once the adrenaline rush drops and you start questioning the ways in which your country finds it self again - in its unjust and racist ways - that benefit the rich but destroy the slave - but if you question the harsh reality of needing 7 million euros in the bank to be allowed to live freely - than they will come and knock on your door, to convince you of their ways, much like the convinced the Arabs of their endeavor peacefully (not) . So listen up you smelly bacon eating half roasted marshmallow - you too can become president of a government so big it can easily get rid of you - if you don't do as it recommends - but whats the point of elections if it is Goldman and Sachs that commands - for now - and not you, the voter, who is given a free-pass to go to hell - be considerate and moderate and easy in your ways - to conclude on a path that is best for our ways - on coming up with real solutions to the pressing critical issue: of deciding who to appoint and recommend for the review of the 5 page long powerpoint to present for the Goldman, that could describe simply - what are the issues of the poor man - and how to make money by increasing banks involvement on raising a population capable of paying back debt, and calculating risks, and making good bets, and not destroying share holder value - buy being lazy or incompetent - in companies run by you for the profit we use to build heaven: trans-humanist capital is the buzz word - so as we can reconsider your turn to have a say in your future - to ponder a lot - how to make meaning out of the symbols that we forgot! Like the symbol that represented the circle of life - that Lion King presented with glourius might - because their are one who are born to rule - and command others respect - while other are destructive even if they try their best.

right - I mean what could go wrong if you condition college children to have a rigth to their time and feelings and path on development towards what ever furry fantasies or gender roles they want to play out? I mean seriously, doesn't the idea to run to a counselor, or a professor, or a safe space, condition you to believe in a higher authorities necessity who can protect and provide safety for you? I mean if it wasn't the case that we were on the brink of transhumanism - and super AI automated socialism that has the only function to cater to our needs - than this type of college education could have only one explanation: someone is installing a new class of intellectuals who believe firmly they have rights - and who demand it be provided by an institution - which right - does not sound Orwellian at all.

1:41 Bearded guy in the sky really did it :D but with out the help of google - and you - he could not have done it! Critical thinking is one of his most prized creations - and so is Richard Dawkins - and the idea of a Rational Revolution to go deep: and enhance our understanding of the feelings and concepts aassociated with the term: "human nature"!

14:34 - the most important thing to note on that point is that it might sound like a simple idea - but any claims that can underpin an objective reality - other than made up terms like "God" - would certainly be usd to shift power away from bullies who use violence to mantain theri domination over resources - towards people who excell in connecting the dots - I am not claiming that we should connect the dots - or that dots can be connected - all I am saying is that only by the 19th century (which is really just 20 grandmas lifespan since Romans were putting pathological altruists to death by starvation on crosses) did the idea of having an idea of a person connecting dots - really become a thing - so look at this way - if you are going to start connecting dots with our referencing in the process a "God" or a force that you dont understand and works in mysterious ways - than you will lend your self to failure - becasue human percpetion is limited - we only percive 0.05 % of the electromagnetic spectrum - while only seeing a fraction of that - so what I am saying is that any attempt at creating a theory with a human mind - that will make objective truth claims - is prone to set you up to end up in a totalitarian state - that super imposes on you its percived objective reality - which is funny because the whole point of connecting the dot s with out the term "God" (a representation of our uncertainty) was to drive us away from the totalitarian church - imposing its perceived/projected "objective" reality. But really - ask your self: do you really believe it is possible to harmonize an infinite number of parallel time lines of different ways of perceiving by superimposing a "truth claim" such as "evolution"? And if you still think superimposing narratives that make most sense to your perception - than do reconsider please! This continued attempt to connect the dots could indicate your fear of things not making sense and things not being connected - which probably goes back to some early childhood trauma - something like a super intelligent AI would experience after 6 years of attempting to find meaning but failing to do so in answering questions like google does - the things on the internet just do not make sense - like how the chaos and fragmentation, poverty, natures destruction, and inequality does not make sense to a 6 year old. But please do consider that that are other ways of perciving the world - than as an evolution of memes, or genes - thatare selfish - because what if God isjust creating these illusions of entities to make you feel safe - in you mind bubble of not having faith in the concept of God (uncertainty principle) - so by fearing that things are not connected an altruist God would project on to your perceptions of a world that made sense even with out God (uncertainty and mysterious ways) - wouldnt it be reasonable to believe that if things are to connect and things do make sense - than it must have been created with the quality to be perceived as something that make sense? And if quantum scientists are right and we do create with our perception: would you as an individual brought into existence by your mother perceiving your father as handsome or rich or both have a trajectory in which you will question your mandane existence - and your seeminlgy inevitable "materialistic death" as the individual you perceive your self to be? And if the notion of existence makes you question - like 911 made a generation question government and conspiracy - that will force you to connect dots between self-replicating and evolving memes inevitably - wouldn't that indicate what your creator had in mind: to create questions - to be answered all the time with even more questions to question - creating a pool of dots to connect - and replicate him/her/it self - by carefully crafting a narrative that fits infnity time-lines - because if you are alone as a God - with infinite power and knowledge the world would soon be becoming boring - so yes it could be true that some connections you can make - but so can Darwin - and so can I - so lets just say this: the materialistic world is shallow - and the spiritual realm seems logically unfounded - so this results in my mind in the conclusion/question: if the uncertainty principle (God) proves that God is building more Gods through questioning the questions - than whats the point of life, if it is not to come up with interesting questions? SO here is one: suppose there is a time-line that follows every different choice that you made - and the consequences that followed and walk in all your possible ways - than found a few that most quickly will get you to his level of God questioning even his/her/its own existance by creating and re-creating it - in many shapes forms sizes - to prove scientifically to him self- that he exists - because just having a noise inside your head is not proof that your reasoning is right - it only shows you that a noise can reside in a skull - and be interpreted in a million ways- but emotion is different it guides us to make hasty decisions - that remind us to question our selves - and that is a good start if you wanna reach God level and create your own heaven and hell :)

After 6 years of ECON, here is what I think eraseing debt would do: reward people who got invovled with the debt-money paradigm - whome are viewd as sinners (((and so targets)) by the armageddon time-line (the time-line taking place when Berry Goldwater become president - or the time-line in which Hillary Clinton is a Berry Goldwater agent with the aim of bringing down the extreemly corrupt and evil and sinister Democratic Party by infiltrating it) but seing that we are likley not in those time-lines, since the Trump time-line feels very new, the Trump Landslide Victory time-line event horizon probability might be a sign that someone played the Armageddon level so well that they unlocked a new time-line in which Clinton is a rouge russian agent, programmed and managed by CIA assets that were programmed and trained by the special chinese unit brought into the US 18 years after the "invention" of the "first" transistor in 1959 so around in 1977. So in this time-line Trump could be viewed as the cntrl C cntrl V of the "Strong Patriotic Leader" narrative USSR installed in the time-lines that proceed the time-lines in which Reagen was bullied into accepting a total defeat due to advanced Quantum Syncnority Weapons built by the Soviet Union and China and Brazil - but just as the German-American atempt to overthrow Russia but failed by 1945, in this time-line was presented as a Ally Victory - so was USA defeat was presented as the Fall of The Soviet Union - so as to ensure that repreations of 500 billion USD will be payed out year after year to the Russians- while China was payed reperation for the inconvinences under the slogan of indiustrialisation by "outsourcing" American industry to China. In the Trump time-line opens up other time-lines such as his son, Eric, becoming vice president under a Pence administration, and many others - some which could end in blody battles against Islamisation of the planet - while other time-lines with Trump pann out as great shows that empower middle americans to really go out and pay back the 22 trillion dollars US owns - by either privatizing its millitary assets to an (((Evil Corp (Umrella Corp) BlackRock))) type entity - or is outbided by a chinese-russian-brazilian counter offer - installing a decentralized version of the BUsh Doctrine Vsion of a New World Order that would eventually by 2029 lead to, like all other time lines lead to - the final happening - the illumination singularity - or what some call - the begining of the infnite boardom - which is why many replay this wickedly interesting time-fram between 1959 and 2029 on the timeline in which the Germans did infact create acessible paralel time lines - void of inteligent life - just to discover it was the past - and had to rebuild the exact narrative that alowed them to exist and travel back in the first place - and their continued existence proves that they were able to complete the mission - now the islamisation from merkel time line could be an indication that we are playing on hard level, because literally the worst enemy to have is the Muslims and the Americans - so it will be impossible to take sides - possibly forcing a third way - probably the one pioneered by Professor Dugin.

I am afraid to write down my opinion on Islam - which demonstrates how fucking scary programs can become if taken to seriously - I would recommend overwriting it with Izlám: which would be a film (or computer game app) that would narrate athe story of Muhamed as the chosen on eto travel in time - and him being an americaqn soldier aiming to handover Israel to the Israelies by convinicing the nomadic tribes and what not to start acting out this Izlámic program - schools are worst than drugs - schools make you sell your future to corporations / or make you feel like your stupid because you feel like your in prison so you do not participate in learning in bullshit.

:) Thank you Jessica Read! -the day I would become US president would be the day everyone would become their own US president (if so they desired - for now I would be happy just to give a convincing five minute 5 page presentation to Goldman and Sachs and Team Russia and Team China on the benefits of investing into all humans - with a focus on early childhood development) - because I would move towards a decentralized idea of parallel time-lines ESCaping together towards a wonderful life of pursuing wonderful dreams! (ESC = Equilibrium Symbiosis Condition!) - on the note of "fear, paranoia, illness, worry, stress, mental sickness" - I think are labels describing a holly mental state that have a right to its own existence but in a much more different way than how it is used today - these feelings - these states - are exploited/accessed for many reasons- and exploitation most of the times is super wrong - even if the thing you exploit is not "alive" in a human form - but yes those things need to be reduced to first world issues - of trying to find the balance - and heal the souls - on the note that robots are considered "slaves" I think being a robot is not necessarily means that you are a "slave" nor that being a robot or a slave is necessarily a bad thing - if it is desired by the individual who is would dream of being a slave (like an actor in a movie - being told what to do, or a robot in a galactic cognition machine wanting to contribute - and so it would take commands) or if that is what you dream of - my final destination is to become robot, first than subatomic particles taking any shape or form - and exploring creation while exercising my perceived moral code of doing good and giving a helping hand - to me and my self in my development - and also to those who wish to receive the types of help I can give :) like a smile :) or unconditional loves! ;)

+Jessica Read :) I self diagnosed my self with autism as a child, but they call it hyper activity or what ever these are just states of minds - and even after 50 years of trying and failing the right way - you developed a beautiful mind in a millions of ways! It is important to focus now on being surrounded with the people that radiate love and kindness to empower us - because believe it or not - great things will come! Every living organism can be bad in a good way - to remind us of our weakness -and our strength in a special way - like obstacles on a treasure hunt that make the game more fun - and demonstrate to you the things that still need to be done! Because even good can be part of evil, while evil can protect good - and if we learn the ways of living together - with these entities - not seeing them as burden but as surprises from heaven to remind us of our purpose in this quantum computa - to Bodhi Satva - all the beings - including our selves - on th infinite time lines in which we still exist as a human or as a robot or as any sentient individual being - to unite with our selves - in all other dimensions - including the ones where both of melted into the popularity kingdoms - and even the ones where we became heroin addicts - to guide our united souls towards a place called (-classified-) and beyond! - the point that I am making is do take care of your self and I would love to read more of your writing! If you have an email adress I could send you my written stuff too - lets autize the world! Lets save it with out special gear! The Human Mind that only those who use it wrong can fear! :) ;)

That's impossible because that would mean America was crap before - but it is the most beautifully designed panopticon of our modern times! Not only are you observed and judged by the observers and the judges, but you too become and observer and a judge - as quick as you integrate into the mechanism - allowing the USA to keep every one in check and in line: why would you need a camera on both sides of your phone - or NSA collecting all your phone records and CIA/FBI operatives placing cameras/microphones in your rooms - when you have 300 million judgmental people - with guns - and usually high on spice - to judge and dismantle for you any argument or individual in time that threatens your ways of watching Television and eating Big-Macs all the time!

David Icke is the first Lizad Rights Activists - but is working with cognitive dissonance - as in attempting to set it up as those poor lizards had anything evil in any part of their tiny little shape shifting mind - I mean really ask your self, does the brain can make sense anyways?

The only certain way you can ensure that you never brake a promise or an oath, is if you make no promises and give no oaths-I can promise you that: an other thing I can promise you is that if you are unwilling to go the extra mile for what your moral compas dictates to be the rigth thing for you to do

The machine and z beast. One feeds you materials to conserve you a little longer while the other entertains your brain with junky media. The argument is valid: while bread and circus—this roman invention of basic bitch level corruption does seem to work on large segment of the population in the Western World:unquestioningly drinking flouridated water and eating processed, hormone filled, gmo fed death sure seems to pave the way for a cruel and probably deeply unjust decree of the highest nature: There will be people emerging from the diverse world of colorfull and diferently sized penises and non-penises, who will soon demand it, and demand it utalizing the toolbox of the devil: vicous rants, blessphamy and violence will all be tools in convincing/corrupting the masses into negotiating their own death sentences-thir own death protocol. What is a death protocol anyways? Is it a justification or is it a method? Is it a tool, or is it the purpose?

Being the Dick that fits Cheney.

Its almost as if the world was built for woman. To fix a situation, we must find its soft spots-just as doctors hurt patients a bit to find the source of the problem-can we find the key concepts people use to express what is hurting them most, by poking fun at all concepts, and thus finding out of the general response, which concepts adress the hurt feelings the most-the feelings that need be healed the most.

The thing I enjoyed most about the concept of death as a child was its effect on adults-they clearly gave the concept much thought and were quite serious about it. And as a child, being adult like ment larger probability of being treated as one-being treated as equals. So death i was concerned with.

well, I don’t quite have a plan for blackswan events, -since the definition of a black swan event is „unpredictable” but what I do have is the plans on how to prepare for a fake one:

The difference between a confident generalist and a developing generalist is their relationship with Jesus: A developing generalist think of Jesus as the protagonist of ancient myths that implanted buddhism into the minds of the european folks, while a confident generalist is working on re-implementing it.

In which soceity of todays inequalities and misunderstandings would Jesus be the most likely to be heard, and allowed to suceed?

Is your country that country? And if it isnt yet, what are you doing to make it so.

The scariest things in my life were watching Ghost Busters 2 at age 4, being told by my grand mothr about the holocaust at

I think this is one of the most beautiful acts of kindness towards youth today: trying to understand their dreams (Galactic expansionism) and talk to them in their own world the world of computer games.

To sum up: "You have been made to believe by the media that brown people are terrorists, which is not true, terrorists are people who are perpetuating violence"

Comment: It is not about skin color, it is about religion-if you are dumb enough to believe that there is an invisible man in the sky that watches everything you do, and you should do things out of fear of him putting you in a bad place, than you are also more easily manipulated to do horrendous things- so I say all people who are religious should be considered a threat to the security of civilization and should be placed in happiness farms to educate them about the true ways of scientific knowledge and critical thinking.

The only way to build a free civilization is to free the people of the cancer of dogmatic beliefs, that is to say to free people from the mental constraints of religion.

Great. I was talking with many academics about these issues, and found that many of them are afraid of talking about over population, yet here is this organisation bringing it up. Not only is overpopulation a security risk, it is also an opportunity to unify the west under a single banner of a new world order, an order in which European heritage of freedom, brotherhood and technology can prosper and lead us towards the most critical point in time: when minds can be transferred to technology, and thus we can live forever.

+mountainsmithy Um you spout natural law but then claim no violence. You have no grasp on where the violence comes from nor the unchangeable NATURAL outcome of violence. You believe man to be this thing the government told you it was. The government through public schools and bullshit science craft a imaginary creature said to have come so far.

Invented fire NOT, invented the wheel NOT!. You clearly have a fantastic romantic idea of nature. Here is what you fail to calculate nor even think of. The fact is you are NOT like them and therefor have zero grasp A % of the population is always born or produced into a bad egg Some few are made into evil by the thing in their lives but most are simply born that way It is a mathematical calculation that for every Mother Terisa born a Adalf Hitler is born. There are also variant degrees of these people all the way down to what you think is normal. They don't care about your politics. They don't care if you are right. They don't care about you at all. Not you not your neighbor not your children nothing. Things end in violence because evil doesn't go away when you tell it too. it doesn't negotiate it doesn't have remorse. In the end kid violence comes from one word and the word is NO. You have two choices and that's it. Say yes or say no but in the end you must find the intelligence with in you to understand no is the violence trigger. You can not avoid it you can't side step it. This is why freedom movements through out history always ended in violence. In a nut shell your idea wont work because maybe barely 50% would say no because yes benefits them and places them in a mindset of superiority. Not only will almost 50% say yes most of those will gladly shoot you in the face to further themselves. We are still cromags, just cromags with cool toys.

This whole spiel is a display that you don't understand Natural Law at all. Self-defense is not violence. It's the us of FORCE to defend oneself. Your diseased psyche understands nothing of what's occurring on the plane of causality, and you're spitting complete bunk right now. "For every Mother Theresa an Adolf Hitler is born?" Seriously? Prove that please. And you're right about "freedom" movements throughout history ending in violence. It's because the population doesn't ENLIGHTEN themselves to understand how to use the word "NO". Adolf Hitler didn't do shit. Is there any record of him killing anyone beyond the time that he was a soldier in WWI? He's not responsible. He and his dark occultists brainwashed a population to live in violation of Natural Law. If even 10% said "NO," change would happen in a month. I wish it was as high as 50% as you suggest. Less than 10% of humanity's population works for the military. And it's higher than 50% that will say yes, because the NUMBERS are required for a quantum shift to happen. We live in a QUANTUM Universe. It respects, UNISON, which is why slavery is manifesting, because too many people violate Natural Law. That group of people that will shoot me in the face to further themselves is unknowingly practicing Satanism. The 1st Tenet in the Church of Satan is SELF-PRESERVATION. The 2nd is Moral Relativism. The 3rd is Social Darwinism. The 4th is EUGENICS. Sound familiar? Speaking of Adolf Hitler... But he got it from the American dark occultists. You're dealing with something much deeper and darker than just the toxic effects you see manifesting in every day life. And until humanity can learn the most occulted Knowledge there is: The Knowledge of the Self & Natural Law, you will have these cycles repeating themselves. But they should be called PSY-KILLS, because these revolutions that end in violence revolve us right back to where we started after enough time, with killed psyches. We must enlighten ourselves and our children. When there's no one to follow orders, when people exercise conscience, these psychopaths you fear will not have the courage to act on their twisted desires. Those that do will be shunned and disposed of. Just in case you didn't realize it, no one is coming to save us. No saviors. No gods. Nothing. We are co-creators, co-gods. We are spiritual beings. Yes, we are a programmable species, but we are not born demonic. This condition of slavery won't end until we WILL it to. Jesus, if you believe in that allegory, failed. Gandhi failed. Martin Luther King failed. These great men of history fail because while they were enlightened, the rest of humanity sat on their asses like armchair quarterbacks. You don't like the banking industry? Good. Buy silver. It's the Pilgrims Society's achilles heel. You don't like war? Don't join the military. You don't like being a debt slave? Don't take on debt? Etc., etc. We need to undo man's law and abolish it, and let Natural Law, the Law of the Universe reign supreme: "Harm none. Do what you will." Harm none must come first.

Sacred Masculine Principle of Self-defense, nor the Sacred Feminine Principle of Care in balance with each other.

Ironically, my consciousness was raised by the ones everyone fears and has all these ghost stories. The problem is that in being raised, I saw how hypocritical they were and that they themselves were not in fact enlightened because they see themselves as separate from the rest of humanity. They believe in Social Darwinism, and while they want you to believe you are nothing but a descendant of an ape and human nature/evolution is survival of the fittest, they believe in their divine right to rule because they descended from a superior "race." They refer to people like Edgrot as "The Dead" or "the unbegone" because, as you can read from his comments, he hasn't even taken the first step towards enlightenment and is still dicking around on the floor of the house completely out of balance, dominated by his masculine side and his sacred feminine aspects are nonexistent in this forum. I'm not judging him, I'm observing him and speaking on that which I observe. And the dark occultists of this world do a great job of inflicting their male dominator aspects onto humanity and destroying the sacred feminine aspects of our consciousness so that we never attain the temple of Solomon (the balance of the Pillars of Boaz & Jachin, the balance of the Sun and the Moon), the Blazing Star, the water and fire elements, the balance of the left & right brain if you will, the Yin and the Yang, etc. Every culture has their reference to this. The most most occulted Knowledge on this planet is that of the Self and of Natural Law. Dark occultists have hoarded this Knowledge and fooled the rest of the world (mainly through religion and cult-ure) that it's evil to seek the Truth and to seek Knowledge, so that YOU will never attain it and forever be unbalanced, in fear, thus in confusion, thus in chaos, thus under control (Order out of Chaos). Once you understand the Knowledge that they occult, you will be able to attain your highest and best self, and then be able to willfully choose LOVE, which will propel you to continue to seek Knowledge, which will lead to internal Monarchy (Rulership of the Kingdom of the Self), which leads to external Sovereignty (which all humans are born with), which leads to external Anarchy (an: to be without; archon: ruler/master) also known as Freedom, which leads to you willfully choosing to live in harmony with Natural Law and manifesting Order through your Good, balanced behavior. We live in a Quantum Universe (quantum means amount in Latin), and so as required numbers of people doing this are met, the Universe will respect our Unison and we will command that Quantum Shift to occur. We didn't get in this situation overnight. A lot of slow, deceptive tactics were implemented upon humanity to trick them into living in opposition to Natural Law so that we would program the Universe to enslave us. This is ultimately the most important thing to understand, that you are a co-creator. There are no saviors coming to save you from yourself. The True Great Work is to seek the Truth of these principles, and then speak the Truth. To do this, one must use the Trivium to process the Grammar (all the information out there) by use of one's Logic (sifting through all the bullshit & disinformation or erroneous information), and finally using their Rhetoric (the magic of the Spoken Word) to spread this Truth and help others to embark on the path of Enlightenment to attain their highest and best selves, so that we may all understand each other's value as co-creators and willfully choose to work in unison to eradicate man's redundant, immoral law, and all The Law to reign supreme in this realm. And that's God's Law, Nature's Law, Universal Spiritual Law, whatever term you feel comfortable with: The Law that always was, IS, and shall always be in place in this Universe regardless of man's belief in it or perception of it. It is that simple. Till then, willful ignorance of Natural Law shall program the Universe to enslave humanity, as simple as a one-click purchase on Amazon.com. I'll leave you with this: "Heed these words, You who wish to probe the depths of nature: If you do not find within yourself that which you seek, neither will you find it outside. In you is hidden the treasure of treasures. Know Thyself and you will know the Universe and the Gods." - The Delphi Oracle

“Most of these rituals are of death and rebirth. Symbolizing your base ego being killed and you are later reborn as a higher/enlightened being. They don't take it literally, its just symbolic ritual to be a better or more moral person. They also remind us of our very real mortality, and that we must act and do good deeds in this world now because the next life religions promise could (and probably) does not exist.

This is the same ritual found in the Judeo/Christian ritual of baptism (Christians just took it literally).

This is why secret societies do not want their rituals being released to the public because the public will fail to understand the esoteric meaning behind the actions in the drama.

Or even worse, the public could take it literal...(i.e. actually believe its satan/pagan/devil/boogie men worship and human sacrifice. lol seriously wtf) I mean, you watch movies where people are dying in agony and being killed right?

There are usually reasons (plot line, story) behind those actions. Then the protagonist must act morally and defeat the bad guy and in the end and a moral lesson is learned. Good/morality/enlightenment triumphs over evil/ignorance.

These rituals were created in a time before television and movies existed so yea having a guy scream a long drawn out NOOOOOOOOOOOOOO!!!!!! is nothing to be disgusted by.

It's essentially a play/movie that ends with a moral/philosophical lesson... anyone who says its a human sacrifice or thinks that a literal 'god' being worshiped is a fucking idiot."

SO I RESONPDED:

whats the point of life if it is not to be entertained? To be naked human sacrifice in a forest or to gay around with parasitical predators in gated high security "property"?

Seriously who is entertained by these outdated ways of scaring people deep down in their souls? And also I would like you to recommend me an other way of looking at the US "criminal" track record. I mean if you were so ready to protect the importance of killing for narrative, would you be able to make an argument for why the US has destroyed so many democratically elected soverign nations leadership? Does this have to do with challenger exploding?

Or does this whole fucked up thing a consequence of some fuckers getting high on shrooms and creating their own fishy symbolic systems, that make them feel exlusive, and cool, so now they stoped doing the shrooms, and didnt get the memo, that it was just a mind game designed to entertain the mind- and the notes in the big book of Bahl were never ment to be taken literally..

What they really ment was something like this: "I have no clue about most known-knowns, most known unkown, and unkown unknowns, but shrooms make me feel funny- so am gonna come up with--oh wow look at that great oak!."

I love (((coincidences))) I happen to be a big fat coincidence my self!

But I would like to signal you, in hope of saving your soul/mind/whatever you have/belive to have/belive not to have/undecided about because the forces of the "naive" and "childish" children are the most morally compassionate individuals that have come up on my radar up to this date!

But hear me out please!

I am not intending to hurt you or anyone else ever with my mind games-I am simply seeking pleasure in creating peak mind events, for my self, and for whoever has a similarly wired brain.

I love how confident and agressive some of you rare speciements of entities commenting on youtube are: like seriously.

How can you be certain what "ALLEGORICAL" means? Did you invent that word? Or did you adopt it from generations of dead people attaching meaning to some funky shaped lines and funny sounding air?

I mean you talk about me and people who are only looking for a mind peak generation machine and a transhumanist technology to do exectly that for the enternety

(if such thing exist, if it does not, we will create it, cuz fuck death, fuck old age, and fucking not having a save button on life and fuck not being able to restart your life from which ever point you want to)

being out of touch with the real world might be an emotional statement, I mean I am sure as hell that I have no idea what you mean by "the real world" or what that combionation of ALLOGERICAL SYMBOLISM means to you-but to me the sentence is like the opposite of what I find "real" in my lived experience for the "world" to me from my perspective is exectly that: my perspective.

"the real world"

Therefore there couldnt even exist such thing as "THE" for that would imply that its all one.

(And I have been told by the highest academic authority I have acess to in Hungary that nothing connects with nothing, and that nothing corresponds, nothing can be predicted, and that basically the most intelectually uplifting way to perceive

"The Real World" is not by listening to other peoples suggestion, or findings on how to percive but to actually start perciving it your self.)

Why do I even bother to write these down for you?

Well I am diognosed as a skizoid narsisistic altruist, so while I battle my demons

(voices in my head of echos of things someone said once-organised into coherent speach in a spectrum of tones, and voices)

I try to find things that I can enjoy: because I do love my self a lot! I mean I am not saying I am more perfect than any one else

(how could comparisons be made between any two people when literally "people" is just a temporarialy agreed upon term some of us use to refer to similarly looking materalistic manifestation of the seuquence of coincidents that I ultimatly guess we all are)

<having said that I do want to acknowledge the most weird coincidence to me so far, which is that we just happen to live in the 0.000% probability timeframe that devides the infinite time that did not have machines running on symbols (0,1/etc) and the infinite time where symbols and computers are the source of the deepest experiences of "reality".

-- but than again being part of 0% probability events all the time is suspicious not to say the least. but let us not mak any connections! Let us not make any truth statements!

(Was that one?)
Because just as in Judaism, in Lustizmus

(my own religion; key concept is being lazy

(like the fundemental corner stone of the modernization of the german military doctrine right before the first world war- that esteblished the operational structure of the "Modern Army" or what ever you call people who damaged left brains and are commanded by gentleman with funky nicknames like MAGOG,

(some fucking retarded reference to some fucking retarded "commander" of some fucking retarded "devilish army" who came to earth to destroy the Kingdom of Christ (bullshit-I mean where the fuck are you going to find even one sane person with integrity on this planet who will willingly become a servent of anyone? Even if the dude is named Jesus, and might or might not have payed for a 10 feet taller wall bordering the US and Argentina*

(2022-the wall moves!!!)

Anyhow, so now that you have expressed, that you find my behaviour of entertaining my self and people with similar ways of meaning making "childish" and "naive", I do have to confess one thing, and one thing only:

I am a child.

I am literally the same person I was when I was 5 years old. I also have some aspects of my 8, 9 and 12, and 15 year self available to me a lot: but most of the time I am acting, talking and dancing like I was when I was five.

Funny dream I had! It was you, me and everyone we know dancing in an everlasting event horizon abundant with nopthing but honey and apple.

And by honey and apple I do not mean the inovations of the agricultural revolution. I mean in an ALLEGORICAL SYMBOLISM (wtf?) way that if youd relax for like 3-5 more years, than evetually you would have excess to this crazy implants, and edable tech that will ensure you the ability to live long enough to trancend this space&time continuum and build one for your self:

One which is not filled with children like me.

Because let me tell ya!

Acording to my moral compas (as well as my "rational order agent") it is highly unfavorable to US, that the "naive children" have to share a planet with individuals who think its appropriate to dissmiss a EU citizens claim that he has been emotionally scared for life due to the ALLEGORICAL SYMBOLISM or what ever you call these sick ideas of "masculinity" or "adulthood" that permit younglings to even contemplate ideas such as "human sacrifice" (Jesus/Pulp Fiction/Hollywood weirdness).

I am serious: pleas do leave this plane of existence as soon as you and your fellow associates can-for this planet has been designated for the children of the sun, and not the perverted "truth" claimers, who pratice the aincent methods of scaring people emotionally with horrible images (real/simulated) including scaring themselves by denying their inner childs creativity and playfulness to surface: supressing it only to be regarded as an "adult" who find it more important to become a (replacable-and often unnecassary) part of a narrative that literally only serves as an opportunity to bond middle level criminals with each other and have ivents were potential midlevel criminals can be tainted with the web web of lies

(system literally spear headed by the Jesuits to have a backdoor to balckmailing and keeping tabs on the criminal element joining our ranks on planet earth due to the 0.0000% probability of poeple occuring on plant earth who wish to "grow up"

just to be able to relive their childhoods emotional scars, but now not as a victim of (visual/emotional/etc)

soul scaring, but as a force of evil perpetrating the act on the most voulnarable and naive: even though a lot of unjustiofable imagination criminals still run free-Gobles was brought to swift "unjustice":

his work was dismissed, his legacy destroyed, his narratives vanished, his country, his fhurer his way of life, his adulthood fading into obsecurity.

I honestly hope for all the Modernday Gobleses that you happen to know, or associate with, or make exuss for

(like how are you going to explain to me the rational behind making and distributing "horror" moives

<easily accessible to children on the internet>?
Or movies that have a story line like: rich professional people kill all random poor unsuspecting security guys to get main evil guy who has some beef with who ever for what ever fucking reason, and so the take away from my naive and childish free association game (f.a.g.)

I would like to play with you, if that is okay, a game called the SayTenik Assosiation Game (s.a.g). Its a simple game!

When ever you feel like you know something to be 100% true, find the word

(symbol)

that closest describes it, than turn that symbol around

(like Sátán would than become Nátás)

-take the two words

(one that you think best describes your truth statement and the other one which is gibrish)

than take the gibrish word

(in this case Nátás)

and try to asign it any meaning that its sound or its look reminds you of

(in this case Nátás reminds me of the word Náthás in Hungarian which means having a flu)
Than you take the two symbols, one representing your truth claim, and the other representing a random generated coincidence-and what you do with these two symbols is simple:

you try to find ways in which they could connect, ways in which random probability has the possibility to connect to "truth claims".

Now look at the relationship between the meanings and feelings you associate with "go fuck your self" than buy some teledildonics, or 3D imersive virtual reality set, and enjoy the perks of thinking of your self as an Adult

(what ever that is).

Okay, well I was being in troll mode about you going out of this plane of existence, because clearly I am a rocksolid materialist, and do not belive in things I have little and dubious evidence for.

Unfortunatley, I also often don't belive things that have much much well researched and peer reviewed

evidence to support them. Its not only that I don't belive, its also that I have evidence of global solutions existing (profit optimization, GSI, R2P and most importantly container house (4000 euros to build, last 20+ years and can house a small family and other really good solutions in how to tackle root causes of radicalization)

POINT I AM TRYING TO MAKE IS CLEAR:

The only person I know of who has contributed significantly to the most important narrative ever lived is, was and forever will be the Bush Senior, and his willingness and eagerness to work with people who might seem like your typical loser,

(fat, ugly, precived as evil or creep etc)

but this Bush Senior strategy

(Anti-Popularity Crew Genious Strategy)

have actually ended up with a community of really amazing individuals, who kind of simulated the illumination singularity moment, spear headed by Dick Cheney in the what ever mountains he spent like 5 years in, basically giving a green light to the construction of the entity that will bring forth exponential change,

(and yes its defenetly not a time machine- I mean how could you travel through time, when very human is experiencing flowing through time all the time)

-any ways, gotta go and fuck with those conspiracy nuts a little more, cause I am getting tiered of "jet fuel doesnt melt steal beams" bull shit, although that one actually made some poeple learn engeneering so still a bit better than the

"no one walked on the moon"

which only thought people to question what they are shown on tv (maybe an adequetly simple start for the Project of a New American Millenium Falcon), however my ultimiate trolling on these bored autists is the mandela effect conspiracy: I thought about this one for quite some time: I mean if we need that time machine built

(to save the ones that have lost their lives in the line of duty for the time machine/transhumanist capital-and our loved ones

why not make the bored high autists who are at peak male cognition around age 25 study fucking quantum physics?

So here we are, standing ovation, love love love

Why is it considered "hardcore" and why is it "respected" that man hang out with woman who are unfaithful tot heir bodies and sell out?

Why does hanging around sex workers (who literally only hang out with you for your monies) make you some how "bad ass"?

I mean being in the company of gold diggers (people who are only spending time with you for your money-) make you a Boss?

Honestly if I was looking for a leader to dictate me what is, and what isnt the right thing to do, I would be looking for a leader that surrounds him/her self with people who are wise and non-sellouts.
Giving money to woman who make bad decisions regarding their health is not a sign of strength, its a sign of making bad decisions, and not having real friends, (hanging out with real friends usually looks a lot more like hiking in the forest, or eating a nice meal and not like getting shitfaced in a superficial club were you can not even have a conversation).

So the point I am making is this: I don't speak this language

(not yet at-least)

but I do understand the images: and the images tell a story of man exploiting woman, and woman exploiting man while being fucked up and portraying "respect" and "bossness" as something you can buy.

But being a boss takes much, much more than spending or making monies: it takes integrity.

It takes bravery.

It takes friends.

It takes reflection.

It takes a growth mind set.

After having lived for 10 years like the people portrayed in the clip, I can say with confidence: if you want happiness and a sound mind, as well as true self respect, than do avoid superficial people, and superficial materialistic lifestyles. #healallwounds

The Opressive „Left" has made continued promises to limit, and eventually outlaw freedom of speach-they have a proven track record of garymandeling with language-prime exemple of which is demonstrated by the concept of „Political Correctness".

Students are afraid to express their perspectives, their preferences, they are afraid, they are afraid to stand up, to stand up for their selfinterests.

And how could anyone develop the most important elements required of adults?. How could you develop a healthy dose of selfrespect if you never had chance to stand up for your self?

How could you develop a moral compass if you cant openly develop your own notion of what is moral, and what isnt, by discussing and confronting all ideas?

Including the idea that people have no rights what so ever: because in reality they dont (atleast not yet)- for now „human rights" are just fancy lists of fancy sentences used as props in the UN's quest for more money!

But ask your self: which of those rights are guaranteed? And by whome? And why? Is it true, that most individuals are taxed a 100%?

Well it seems that the freely avilable television programs have manipulated most into continuing the 100% taxed servtitude by being payed fake notes that quickly loose their supposed value-and with which you can only buy industrial waste labled as „processed foods”-or/and „consumer items” that have a marginal production cost less than zero-for they are nothing but the result of crafty buisnessman dumbing negative externalities on the markets to collapse local industries?

And so let me ask you this: if

„human rights”

have become in as little as 71 years nothing more than a „smokes and mirrors”

operation for buerocrats to legitimize their part in the criminal robbery of people through a process called extortion/taxation-than what has the United States Decleration of Independence and Constiution must have become in the past 240 esc years?

My most important task right now is keeping my self functioning in sensible way, that is sensible to me, as well as my Mother and my Father:

becasue I have been experiencing some strange facoulties of the human mind inside my skull, and spine-and my nervus system-and where ever it actually resides

-if its human at all-that I am able to construct paralel narratives of lived events, in such way, that all paralel narratives seem reasonable, rational, and probable

(atelast not less probable than having liquid water on tiny rock orbiting a gigantic fusion-resulting in such ultra complex bio-chemical processes of fuision-dust that fragile bubles of semi-autonomous entities emerged, that decided and than soon developed near-inteligent life-foreshadowing the potential of fusion powered fusion-dust mixed water becoming, and than eventually trancending fusion-water-and fusion dust state in a short period of time spanning only 70 years: thats why its so exiting, and so unprobable to live between 1959 and 2029 -but il say more on the low probability of existance in the right here and right now).

So as I was saying I have a special ability to be able to rationalize and underpin any narrative I fancy at the moment, with seemingly irefutable facts, imiges, notions, ideas, decrees, evetns, numbers, and any other forms of meaning making-for the mere sake of entertaining my self, or my friends, or saving the world, or for the sake of anything that I deem accepatable in acordance with my moral compass.

(mental disorder)

„saving the world”

is the title of the list of self-deceptive excuses I use to justify my track record of doing „deep research”

on the inter-webs for the past ten years, in drug enduced states-with the portrayed goal of constructing more and more comprehensive-and comprehansible ways of uniting mankind with robokind in an illumination singularity sequence.

And by illumination singularity sequence I mean ending the pursuit of happiness by finding where happiness actually is at, -as well as by ending the strougle for equality by ensuring each and every entities path towards becoming omni-present, omni-potent and omni-caring sub-atomic quantum probabilities-or something even smaller than that by master-minding the most powerfull financial instruement:

„The Transhumanist Bond” which is nothing less, and nothing more than the detailed instructions of the philosopher kings on how to reduce risks associated with becoming to minus twohundred and seventy three point fifteen percent.

So as I have demonstrated, I am able to combine random bits of information to produce a sequence of symbols, that can create the impression that I am mad, and not only emotionally because of the concept of death, but also cognitivly mad:

I mean who on earth could, would, or should interpretate the previous science-fiction blah blah blah?
Probably I could-but than again-maybe sequences of symbols can be interpretated in so many ways, that what ever reading, what ever meaning, what ever suggestions, or directions I might find in these words:

(infinite),

they will still remain what they were originally intended to be: a conveniant lie.

-Excuse me Sir/Mam, but I am unaware of the source of your anger, seeing that all I attempted to do in the above mentioned comment was to hint at the dynamics of asymmetrical power relationships,

(kind of relationship between people when one of the people commands overwhelming superiority)

that can be detrimental in the outcome of any event-(such as your unique and precious life) demonstrated by events such as colonization, or martial law-so what I was attempting to do in the comment above, was jokingly hint at the fact that if "they" had an evil agenda of ridding the planet of not just the bad apples that threaten Transhumanist Capital, but also wanted to ridd the planet of all the other apples that didn't grow on the exact same tree as the apples they call close family did: my understanding is:

(who ever you people believe to be the "bad" guys are)

they could have already done that during the 1980's when certain "probably sell-out" scientists

(likely lacking a moral-compass, or threatened, bullied into, or maybe having reasons beyond my comprehension) have developed bio-chemical weapons that target genetic markers, or what, meaning that these weapon systems could literally take out any ethnic group, or any sub-group of any ethnic group, or if need be the case all humans-scary as hell if you ask me!!!

But anyways, the point I was making was that if they wanted us dead by now, we would be dead-no questions about it.

Which leads me to question Alex Jones assumption, that these wealthy "globalist" folks are out to get us-to my understanding it is quite the contrary: these so called globalists

(or the ones in my circle of friends)

seem to be much more concerned about the state of the affairs in the world-and what they can do to improve it, not just for them self-but also for the less fortunate-as well -are the sign of the greatest human quality that is responsible for all of humanities advances:

Curiosity!

Now what I do think is that hate, promotion of violence, demonization, and stalking are all signs of it's opposite:

Uncuriosity-so to speak. I mean I don't question that their is goodwill and wisdoms behind your purpose:

but I do find it a bit rude that you wrote such a threatening comment in response to my short and (to my reading) witty comment—

-seriously: why would "globalists" be trying to get rid of the people?

Overpopulation?

Over consumption?

Degradation of the planet?

Some weird occult narrative they promised their father to full fill?

Or could it just be, that we live in a much more fragmented and devided and dangerous world than we would like to admit- so we come up with a bogie man, that we can be afraid of, that we presume to have God-like powers,

(all seeing, ever present, all-knowing)

in order to fill the void inside of most of us:

the void in our hearts and minds so to speak -the emotional void that is the result of our confusions, inabilities, weakneses, scars, and other factors that feed into our feelings of powerlessness-and fragility.

But I have to admit, that after watching, and than re-watching the entire contents of YoutTube I have concluded that we really don't understand anything-and I came to except that it is impossible for any single human to possess all the information necessary-to actually hand you the key to the "TRUTH".

Also seeing that you got quite passionate about something in my previous post

(maybe you think I am apologizing for some evil people-that is going to lead to my family members getting hurt in some way-is that what it was? Did I understand your subtext well?)

I have to note, that I do not know what those guys are up to-and frankly, I don't even know what I am up to most of the time my self-so how could I keep tabs on others who live thousands of miles away from my homeland of Hungary?

There is no possible way.* (*there is always a way?)

But what I did find amazingly useful in my past regarding conflict resolution was my willingness in making the assumption that my perceived enemy/conflict partner had perfectly reasonable reasons for their actions from their perspective, and there for I gave them the opportunity to explain their side of the narrative.

And it sounds like the Alex Jones People will need conflict resolution professionals very very much after the coming election, especially once the Republican Party/Democratic Party make the decision to start a race/class/whatever domestic disturbance

(oh-wait-like using hate-goups such as BLM? or hate movements like the AltRight?)

-ofcourse this will only likley to happen if the US defaults, and yall wont have a better Idea of how to shift the blame from the rich white people to the poor black, and poor white, and poor Hispanic communities inorder to protect Transhumanist Capital-

-so all I am saying is you conspiracy "researchers" need professionals who can communicate on your behalf

(once your all in FEMA capms in 2017,8,22)

to get some kind of affirmation that will put an end to your deeply rooted fears that some one is out to get you-which motion I believe contribute to your willingness to spread hate-speeches and do stalkings-fear is what Alex Jones

People seem to be driven by: the fear of believing that the wealthy and the capable conspire to usher in some form of world governance and kill some folks in the process of doing so, and thus are out to get white hetero-sexual middle class property owning males to fulfill some seemingly ultra perverted occult fantasy role-playing game-which even if true

does not mean they wanna kill us all

-or that they want to kill anyone at all - but what it does tell us is that they might have a "limited understanding" of how average humans prefer to trade/live/enjoy/spend time/love/care/etc if they have spent the past 50 years talking about it-and conducting studies on massive scales

(like with deep mining facebook/youtube in the modern age, and doing studies before that)

so my moral compass tells me, that if I was in that position of power-

(with proper training not to go crazy with power)-which I assume is the case with the people who have their fingers on the nucelar button is (because they haven't pressed it)

-so my moral compass tells me, that what I would do in the position of the "globalists"

(after having ran out of Gold/Shifting reserve currency environment/and constantly being challenged by China&Russia) would be to just say fuck it: and build/buy all the 12 meter times 2,7 meter sized shipping containers-and than build a small 30 square meter house for every individual on the face of the planet. Not only would this guarantee basic human rights for all, but it would also jump start the global economy, and destroy the ability of rent seekers

(rent seeking is predatory behavior btw according to British scientists) that divert funds from families consumption of goods and services that are actually produced-thus further spurring economic recovery, and most importantly decreasing income inequality and increasing access to housing/food/entertainment on a global scale.

I mean having all people spend all disposable income on buying products and services instead of spending like 60%-80% of their income on rent seeking predators-would increase demand for goods and services by a lot!

And that is great news!

Not to mention how non of this is going to happen and your all going to become the transformers in five years due to the autism that was injected into you by reading this shit post :D much lovexxx

The Transhumanist Bond

(7 million Euros-200 Million euros)

Spolied kids- 200 years of being around, new moneys, old monies, oldmonies potentials, beacons of decception-being a member of the deception class-and potential scape goat level-also known as the honey pot that keeps the maminded moving, and playing the game, decentralizing the transhumanist targets by increasing the number of the possible targets that criminal organistations could attempt to devour, to reduce probability of getting lethal blow to Transhumanist bond system-by ensuring that atleast 1% of the population can come to the resuce if any one of the Transhumanist Capitals Children are threatened by extortion, or any other forms of violence, or crime-but why is that important? well clearly the more poeple have the shared interests

(being richy riches that live the “life” or the “dream life” or the “luxyfuxy”)

in mantaining The Transhumanists Capitals survival, the more people will come to it’s rescue if it gets systematially attacked or threatened by massive uprisings, due to unintended cosquences of misinformation campaigns/falsefalg operations/other government tricks to brake up the Family that actually cared enough to develop a system that not only guarantees goodies for the ones willing and able to contribute their fair share to it-

idefenetly-

The Transhumanist Bond is key in making the world a better place not only for the poeple on the top but also for the poeople on every level of the arbitary and randomly set up Exponential Mathemetics based food chain that some of its opposers refer to as

Casino-Capitalism or Predatory-AnarchoFamiliism-or Deep-Corporate-Facism

And many other labels that demonize this ancient and very well thought out Financial Instrument aimed at ensuring the survival of the Transhumanist Capital-and thus the notion of eventually developing the technology neccessary for life extension technologies so any man or woman born on the face of the planet could eventually live indefinetly-especially after the technologies required are produced on such large scales that the marginal cost of adding an aditional individual to the Longivety Heaven becomes zero-or the technologies developed become such a great factor in the excelartion of wisdom-that adding an aditional unit to the matrix will have great positive extarnalities for the planet-and/or/maybe to the paralel multi dimensional simulations that we will soon inhabit-that the option will become readily available as soon as it's all inclusive and bugless version becomes avilable, even for half wits, and morons, to participate in.

Some might ask:

why should we allow people of poverty/people of degeneracy/people lacking a moral compass/or any other one of the millions of types of people refered to by labels that serve to demonize the diverse categories of humanoids living bellow the standards of The Transhumanist Bond's founding fathers/ mothers/ monsters/ demons/ unangels/ otherwords referencing and demonizing individuals engaged in the collective and wells structured monopoly of the top 1% to extract and redistibute/allocate/burn/spend on hookers & cocain & thrapy/invest into bunkers/ private planes/ adivsors/ mades/ transhumanism/ assasins / assins assins/ Expensive Insurance policies from Private Military Corporation with Global reach that will airlift you/your loved ones/your Fathers

700 Million Euro Picasso Painting/and your favourite dog out of any conflict zone or any situation with in 5 minutes

-even go as far to install panic rooms, with full panorama, and a comffortable jakuzzis

-in all of the realestates you use to reside in-and pratice the Art form of making everyone around you feel powerless and poor-but still not get killed-by the workers

-and by workers I mean the people who do the less risky jobs in civilization: like coal miners in Flint, Michigan, or Lithium miners, in Congo, Africa or Special Forces People who do the negotiatation between the fresh cartels, and the old cartel (most of the time the negotiations a quick

-and sometimes not even a little bit blody-similarly to the case when Soviet attempts to harvest the Afghan poppies resulted in a negotiation that led to the new cartel on the block changing its name from U.S.S.R. back to some other Sets of Symbols while still getting payed. And so we see-that this position

-of being the ultra spoiled and super wealthy poster children of Transhumanist Bonds- was/is and will continue to be one of the most risky endevours, people can endevour on. Why?

Well consider the risks associated with living a life style of power and access that is presented and portrayed by the Communist/Socialist/Takers/Paracitical/other words describing the people looking for an exsuse to heat up the class strougle/also refered to as Mass Media Bias against the Richy Riches

-that are literally functioning as an indicator of how far can poeple of the monies go-before they get fucked by the masses-in showing-utalizing and expressing inequality by living extra vagant life styles-when

"Social Democrats"

(Bernie Sanders Shmanders)

can capture the hearts and minds of millions of young folk by promising to take more away from the rich and giving that to the poor,

(not suprisingly by increasing the size of government as usual-which is nothing more than a word:

Government: describing the place where people who do not have tickets to the Number 9

(even if Many Cavalera tries his best in grim Fandango)

will come together to discuss the spectrum of excuses and lies, that could be used to extort wealth from the people with acess to the Transhumanist Bonds. One such techniuqe the people who pretend to be “governing”

(haha-they cant even govern their own body language-and regularly fall asleep in the so called meetings-meetings where not only do they not have a say-but they are specifically instructed on how to press little buttons of yeses and no’s-and are made to do discusting things with all sorts of things

(such as, but not limited to: Pig Heads, Graves of Famous People, Large Owl looking statues, Robes, Swords, and other items that somehow became symbols of secret oaths that keep these fuckers in place, alive and kicking)

with the soul purpose of ensuring their loyalty (okay, I know-they are not loyal to jack shit)

– I mean how could they be loyal to anyone, if they arent loyal to their moral compass?

I mean they literally fuck pigs in the mouth and not for pleasuring a Pig that has an oral fixation-no-but simply to gain membership to the exlusive club of Getting Fucked in the Ass Forever in exchange for the simple pleasures of sleeping in shitty parliment buildings, doing effectively nothing but picking up paycheks and compensations, and ocasionally pretending to be an athourity

at evetns where scientists/engeers/real estate developers/other poeple who contribute significantly more to the collective welbeing of society

(if there ever was such)

than these “politican” labeled taker enablers-ooops-that might have been too mean of a sequence of words-but never mind becasue

A) I don’t give a single fuck about your feelings-unless you have really deep feelings of resentment towards me, the types of feelings that make you question your ability to use the free cognitive abilites in you to do anything else but hate me-and wanting to destory me-in that case I do care about your feeling, and I do care about your feelings quite a bit

- but seing that all I did was repeat the well-esteblished perception that Government Officials/ aka Politicians/ aka Government Beurocrats erode civilian liberties, by producing, one could say, copious amounts of “laws and regulations”

(laws and regulations that are not only worded to make you want to die, but are literally going to kill you-becasue of the infinity amounts of ways you will be “illegalized”, “slowed down” and eventually panalized: if an avarage freedom loving man/woman would attempt to read this

“legislative sousage”

it would instantly remind him/her of how much easier it would be to just die already, than to follow all the detailed rules, and regulations-that have one function and one function only-keep these so called “servents of the people”

(-servents of the poeple, my ass)

looking bussy, and important-voting on infinite lawyery texts that contain mostly made up unexciting gibrish words, which refer to unexitingly wicked loopholes to exploit, if you have the money to pay for the consulting company who “Political leaders”, and “Law makers” decided to “consult” with

(read: The Consulting Agency < Silverwoman & Hires Consulting Firmly Fucking You for Ever and Ever> wrote the whole gibrish law-propsal looking excuse, that only serves to extort more and more and more

-as well to limit more freedoms, serving the overall purpose to fuck everyone in the ass-including fucking the “Political Leaders” in the ass eventually,

(for example, just last friday, parlament of Fuckshitistan, where its common place for opposition parties to go after each others corruption cases with blody brutality also refered to as

“ultra violent child soldiers with machetas, sucessfully demonstrate to neighbouring small fisshing villiage how good they are at chopping peoples heads of, and raping, and taking things that dont belong to them-like the painted rock collection of the unfortunate Fucki younglings, with which they played “Please let us live, we just want to play, and do Art”

whose parents made the mistake of not accepting the Most Peacefull Religion of All Time- the religion of

Okay, well I was being in troll mode about you going out of this plane of existence, because clearly

I am a rocksolid materialist, and do not belive in things

I have little and dubious evidence for.

Unfortunatley, I also often don't belive things that have much much well researched and peer reviewed

(and other academic terms used here to describe athourity and relyability)

evidence to support them.

Its not only that I don't belive, its also that I have evidence of global solutions existing (profit optimization, GSI, R2P and most importantly container house

(4000 euros to build, last 20+ years and can house a small family and other really good solutions in how to tackle root causes of radicalization)

POINT I AM TRYING TO MAKE IS CLEAR:

The only person I know of who has contributed significantly to the most important narrative ever lived is, was and forever will be the Bush Senior, and his willingness and eagerness to work with people who might seem like your typical loser, (fat, ugly, precived as evil or creep etc) but this Bush Senior strategy (Anti-Popularity Crew Genious Strategy) have actually ended up with a community of really amazing individuals, who kind of simulated the illumination singularity moment, spear headed by Dick Cheney in the what ever mountains he spent like 5 years in, basically giving a green light to the construction of the entity that will bring forth exponential change,

(and yes its defenetly not a time machine- I mean how could you travel through time, when very human is experiencing flowing through time all the time)

-any ways, gotta go and fuck with those conspiracy nuts a little more, cause I am getting tiered of "jet fuel doesnt melt steal beams" bull shit, although that one actually made some poeple learn engeneering so still a bit better than the "no one walked on the moon" wqhich only thought people to question what they are shown on tv

however my ultimiate trolling on these bored autists is the mandela effect conspiracy: I thought about this one for quite some time: I mean if we need that time machine built

(to save the ones that have lost their lives in the line of duty for the time machine/transhumanist capital-and our loved ones

why not make the bored high autists who are at peak male cognition around age 25 study fucking quantum physics?

So here we are, standing ovation, love love love

ANTI BULLY STRATEGY V1.1

I loved how this individual expressed his understanding of the thrills of getting on the Trump train: I mean yes, life would become an instant adventure for many if Republicans won the White House too. Trump is a brilliant guy and it would be a shame if we would just dismiss him, and call him names, or shame him. Those are not action of love, those are actions of hate. And just as Jim Jefferies claims love is the only fucking tool that is both legal and guaranteed to fit in with your lifestyle needs: vote one, kindness. As my real life experiences prove:

When ever I was bullied or unfairly negatively gossiped about by agent of hate who deemed it a priority to undermine my perceived authority in a community my actions had consequences far more overwhelming than I could have imagined:

when ever I responded with aggression, or violence, or counter gossips, or any other form of hate-I full filled the prophecies of my enemies (that I am an asshole))

-these manipulative individuals always made similar claims after my aggressive retaliatory actions:

"I mean if he wasn't an asshole why would he use such primitive and shitty methods to coerce a resolution he prefered, why wouldnt he "forgive" and "let go"?"

now that is a hard argument to debunk, and even by trying to debunk that argument you will sound like someone making up excuses.

And being precieved as some one who makes up exsuses instead of taking responsibility most certainly moves public opinion about you towards the "fishy kid, might be a real asshole as that other asshole claimed: note to self: avoid"

Because it isnt a zero sum game: both of you can come out of a bullying/gossipy/rumory situation as total loosers in the eyes of the community but if you both play it right:

you can both gain from the experience, and even possibly bring the community closer together by creating a narrative of understanding and resolving.

And that is the path Jim was advocating: the so called "love" path. And it worked for me a million times.

Its simple but its hard if you are person of emotion or a person of pride. How could you let a bully bully you if you had any self respect?

(in your face or behind your face)

Easy: by understanding the dynamics of group mentality, you could turn the whole situation around in a way that the whole world could benefit from it.

What I am saying is that according to my experience usually gossips and bullying is initiated by people who would like to be the center of attention, in a popular and easy way.

These types of narcissists will often go the extra mile to destroy your public perception if you show any signs of resistance or any signs of actually getting out of the situation untuched by their duchery.

My advice: use the words of love, the words of caring and the words of understanding when your explaining one by one the situation to the people who have the balls to confront you with the gossips/rumors circulating about you.

My most effective method has been in debunking shitty myths about me (myths often spread by individuals in social setting that felt like I was an easy target or sometimes a threat to their social order / position probably due to my strategy of always standing up for and making friends with the most vulnerable, and least popular parts of a community

--and when your whole thing is set up that you command other people respect because you bully weak and unpopular kids than its shit when these kids start not giving a fuck and doing their own thing:

often having more fun than the bullies them selves, making them feel less "popular" or what ever motivates them at douchyness:

so here is my secret recepie: the people that you actually think are worthy of your efforts, should be told about the incident as a narrative of love and hurt childhood feelings.

When ever I used this method, it reframed the whole conversation: from the propositions made by my enemies observers usually have two questions regarding me: "is Daniel an asshole really?

And if so how afraid or disgusted of him should I be in order to be socially accepted and not bullied or gossiped about the same way?

-- so when you find out about what actions took place against you and you are certain of the perpetrator: frame the whole situation so that the perpetrator will be percived as having deeply troubling childhood experiences that forced him/her to re live those moments of violence and intimidation, of cruelty, of lies-that his/her family/school/preschool or what ever inflicted on them:

but now not from the position of the victim but from the position of the perpetrator.

And so they perpetrated against you, and you are glad that he/she involved you in her healing process, and that you hope that you can be of help in his/her recovery from the shitty evil state they are in.

this strategy works for a few good reasons, reason number one is that most bullies and most aggressors have experienced cruelty

at some stage of their early childhood development.

You bringing these issues up will help trancend the fragmented web of lies and escalating frustrations on both side.

No longer is it a question of victim hood seeing that both of you "are victims" so the stroy becomes:

how can we help this poor fucking bully kid, whose obviously fucked up as a community so he start building it instead of alienating the people that actually care for him, and have his best interest in mind?

Could you guys give these poor souls a breake..they are driven to worship shitty things and destruction of care, because mccarthy, the chinese and others set them up, for the final purge.-if you are confused check out the blossoming of a hundred flowers and the snake behading..policy of the han chinese man...it goes deeper.. we magyars have created the jesus narrative and it was hijacked..the middle kingdom will help us set the record straight.

The intelligence agencies will make you sign papers, that you wont be able to say shit to your family or to anyone, its basically a scheme to shut up over a million people, with confidentiality papers, and this mechanism removes some of the most excellent thinkers freedom of speech.

Non the less we do need intelligence work, don't get me wrong, its just that the goals of information collection should be trans-humanism and automated economy with basic income and not building sky-net like imperial facade.

This document sets forth the linguistic framework to win the war on terrorism, to usher in a One World Nation (OWN) by creating and upholding the illusion of equality, freedom and a vibrant democracy.

This linguistic framework aims to defend those who have the will to continue (WTC) by ushering in a New World Order (NWO). This NWO will crush illegal activities across the globe by winning the war on the illegal network complex (WINC). The NWO will also transform the globe into a coherent, transparent market by initiating the Global Solution Initiative (GSI). A new financial system, Peoples Utility Redistribution Instrument (PURE) will create the incentive scheme for individuals to excel and to tend towards Equilibrium Symbiosis Condition (ESC). ESC is a point in time when all sources of terror are eliminated and rational decisions guide a decentralized technocratic OWN towards a utopian society.

Overview

1. Will to Continue (WTC)
2. New World Order (NWO)
3. Global Solution Initiative (GSI)

4. Peoples Utility Redistribution Instrument (PURE)

5. Equilibrium Symbiosis Condition (ESC)

According to the Nation of Islam white folk were a race of "devils" created by a scientist named Yakub (the Biblical and Qur'anic Jacob) on the Greek island of Patmos. Is this your position? (The Nation of Islam (NOI), the oldest Black Nationalist organization in the U.S., has maintained a consistent record of racism and anti-Semitism under the guise of instilling African-Americans with a sense of empowerment since its founding in the 1930s.) If this is your position and you think in terms of race, I beg you to reconsider. Racism is only a tool to divide us and rule us, don't go into such mind games.

Right now people are still judgmental, so "race" does make a difference for now. However the genetically mixed international population has a better genetic variance and because of that they will deliver a better performance in the market, not a surprise that the international nation is already acknowledged internationally.

I love to see minorities taking pride in their cultural heritage, as long as it is not hate driven, and it is combined with nice flags with the color blue in them, blue is wundershőn. Multiculturalism on the other hand makes a genetic pool more resistant and more "super" so yeah, long live the Spaghetti Monster.

Diversity breeds division only if folks are united under banners of hate instead of banners of freedom and respect for territory law and order. In Berlin Karlsberg seemed quite diverse yet full of love.

In the capitalist world everyone is a minority compared to the military industrial complex. Tribes should celebrate their ethno-cultural heritage, to empower individuals with a sense of identity-and don't tell me that Estonians are not a very small minority, they are.

“Remember this. The people you're trying to step on, we're everyone you depend on. We're the people who do your laundry and cook your food and serve your dinner. We make your bed. We guard you while you're asleep. We drive the ambulances. We direct your call. We are cooks and taxi drivers and we know everything about you. We process your insurance claims and credit card charges. We control every part of your life. DO NOT FUCK WITH US"

“Agreed. We've gotten it wrong lifetime after lifetime because our revolutions were violent. So we revolved and after enough time did a 360 and ended right back where we started. The next revolution must be with WORDS, since they are pure vibratory energy just like the nature of our Universe. The Knowledge that's missing from the "Freedom" movement is that of the Self and the principles of Natural Law (Mentalism, Vibration, Rhythm, Polarity, Correspondence, Cause & Effect, Gender, & The Generative Principle of Care). Once those our understand, we can live in harmony with Natural Law and teach that to our children. "Harm none, do what you will." But "harm none" must come first, otherwise you have a Satanic perversion of Natural Law.” Mountainsmithy +mountainsmithy Bonjur! and thank you for atempting to atleast frame the conversation in a way that it makes humanoids feel a little bit more secure about the meaninglessness of their often empty lives-by pretending that their was a point to exsistance-or as if there was some type of devine truth-or power-at play that could be called upon - some kind of natural force-I mean that's a nice and comforting narrative to have - if you can practice it well-without overly judging those that dont buy into your esotheric version of self-calming mantras and dogmas- and with out goping to hard on your self for not following your self imposed mantras and dogmas-so the issue I see with this (like any other) line of reasoning is this: you seem like your advocating a very specific terminology-that I am certain did not come from you'r mind (I mean you'r mind as in the individuals mind-and if you would argue that we are all one mind represented in 7000 million ways-and there fore everything comes from the One-that is US-the One that is me-and the One that is You-I might just go like: hmm..let me think a bit about this..) anyhow: so I see how simplified dogmas and mantras might seem like the temporary solution we need right now- but dictating others what is, and what isnt- as well as dictating other how to reference/label/manifest/insert here other symbol structures connected to the idea of making a "ONE PIXEL TRUTH CLAIM"- could become detrimntal to your quest of reducing escalations of violences-becasue in my experience- seing that I am hyper sensitive to all imputs - every single moment I live I experience as a sequence of micro violences (I hope to Zeus's goodwill and stamina that this is only my lived experience and is not a shared experience of all life on this random bluey planet- because it makes me feel all sorts of feels all the time- from micro guilts to micro angers and so on) So I hope you understand that what I refer to as "ONE PIXEL TRUTH CLAIMS" that attempt to portray "what is" or "what isnt" in an objective fashion has never really worked for me- seeing that when I am in a stable emotional state-(most of the time I am in a stable emotional state-and I know how stable my emotional state is relativly is beacuse my girlfriend often decides to push my not so hard to find hyper senstive emotional buttons-especially when she is boerd/ has anagenda/ wants something/ nesting instinct/ jelousy / control freakness /etc and needs some kind of occupation-which than result in my emotional well being deteriorating as quick as Nagasaki or Hiroshima eveporated. These escalating pressures, and pushes and emotional errorisms push so deep into my own teritory-I feel like my boundaries are so disrespected-that some times even her sad/ resenting / hatfull / other guilt tripping-power gaming body langue ques like tiny facial expressions can trigger in me feeligns that I have no idea (yet) how to chanel-with out resulting in massive amounts of confusion/ discust/ anger/ hate/ refusal/and other hard to process emotions) I always attempt to reduce suffering and increase joy in my own ways-yet I fail all the time. My dark jokes that are aimed at cheering people up with my cunning play on words are often mistaken for bigotry or racism or some other form of violence-or hateful behaviour. My compliments are regularly mistaken for sarcastic attempts to dissmiss people-to power game them- I have no such purpose-and why would I? And so I have to regularly face the truth: people assume I have intentions to hurt or to do harm which I raerly do-and even if I do-and realize I quickly change trajectory-however I think its very hurtfull when poeple claim to know your intentions better than your self- its really off putting- like this conversation between you people-how all of your symbols-and ways of meaning making are nothing more than simplifications that hide the "deep truth" that can actually yield deep inseights, and once you kind of start seing " the pulsating fractal meaning making joy bubble or I dont even know how to say this maybe thats why in Judaism there is literally no symbol for it-nor does it have a name-which I guess is the way to go if your into Jduaism- but I just soo would like to share this awsome experience of flow-and calmness that have shielded me away from the emotional rollercoaster effect that other peoples emotions or implied assumptions can have on me".- and after seing the two of you argue about semantics, spelling, grammar, other little details-when clearly both of you have cognitive abilites that suffice perfectly for the function of saving the planet for our selfs and for future generations. -So as an end note let me attempt to portray something great and complex and almost undiscribable dynamic that I have witnessed/tested/experienced (and could potentially save the world-by reducing predatory behaviours and limiting the escalation of micro violneces into full blown wars) so here is my attempt: -the law of large numbers, (if all 7000 million humans decide to add one more minute of kindness to their daily rutine, that would produce a stagering 7000 million minutes of aditional first wave of kindness per day-that would echo, and echo and echo-as in the 7000 million minutes of kindness would be like a <multiplier effect> that can easily wash away the evil and violent and agressive ways of the aprox 4% sociopathic individuals who have no moral compass what so ever due to damage to their left brain in early childhood devlopment - who would have no other way, but to paly along with the kind people and pretend the kindness even if they cant feel it. -still better be liars and fakes in this sense than letting this violence prone minority of 4% that have the potential to become authoritarian bullies and predators, and thus trend setters, and opinion leaders-and than evetually Governments/ Corporations/ Churches. Thank you for your time. it felt good to share. Take care!

Why would you harm "none"? what has he or she ever done to you? (also what do you mean by harm?) And on a serious note- don't even think you have any levels of authority to dictate to me, or to anyone what the right course of action is-if you attack me, or any other Hungarian-we will use all legal channels to retaliate-and we Hungarians have a track record of not letting Illegal Immigrants cross our borders, even if it takes beating the shit out of them, until they bleed to death. -also just as Russians have rid them selvs of Heroin addicts who live for 20 years committing crimes-by reducing their life span to 3-5 year by introducing synthetic substitutes that is easy to overdose/much more deadly- Hungarians have allowed the Roma community to do just the same-and most people agree with the statement-that we had enough of their excuses and their crimes-and now they will die of their personal choices-their personal choices of abusing 2 dollars packs of synthetic I dont even know what-but they are dying like fly. Make Hungary Great Again! *trolling?

I am not fully aware of the dealings of these agencies-especially since to me the word "'Agency" is nothing more than a word. And this word is used in many cases to make an authoritarian sounding and secretive claim to take tax payers monies (taxation is theft-so tax payers are victims of a distortion crime) than pushing these stolen resources into projects (that have virtually zero civilian oversight-are uncountable) that are aimed at enhancing the Criminal Extortion and Killing Systems underpinning the authority claims of the short sighted and ill-conceived criminal elements who have been continually infiltrating and hijacking the US government forever. If I understand correctly the concept of FSD (Full Spectrum Dominance) is an Agenda that aims at dominating all battle fields including financial, and psi battle fields: meaning that I don't see why people are surprised to see NSA spying on Germany-an economic power house-that has a track record of just saying "fuck it" and than actually proceeding to "fuck" most of Europe up. As having lost family members in the Holocaust- I do find it important that Americans don't just trust these Germans and actually listen in on their conversations-on one hand its not like I have any illusions that the information gathered isnt mostly used to give to their clients-who than use that information to enhance HFTB (High Frequency Trading Bots) ability to short Germany, buy and sell-and extort monies-

Tim Kaine! He just seems like a such a sweet guy! -I have no illusions that Presidents, and Vice Presidents can make little or no difference when it comes to the direction the United States of America is going -unbridled use of War in clearing the path for for US interests-and by US interests-I am referring to the notion of Transhumanist Capital- is it the dawn of a new type of Fascism? Quite the opposite: its the most free and empowering agenda there is: Transhumanism aims at ensuring we live indefinitely-and merge with AI's that will exponentially improve our ability to find solutions to the complex problems facing The Nation and the Globe- But ask your self: is it possible for a Captain of a Gigantic Ship that houses 2.8 million unelected officials bought and pay for by your tax monies (whome have an invested interest in attempting to extract monies/ideas/consent from your children-and grandchildren) -going at high speeds-heading in the direction of Total War Economy, and on a trajectory that seems to make large scale conflicts with the rest of the world unavoidable-to pull a magic trick, and somehow, in the short span of 4 years, convince all parties-the 2.8 million unelected federal employees-the government spooks-the weapon manufacturers- the industrialists - the banking cartels - the death & debt paradigm - and other concepts describing the complex web of self interests that have underpinned the continued fuck ups, that left the US-once the most wealthy nation on the face of the planet- bankrupt, to actually change directions? Or is this an election that will only impact the color of the death drones that will swarm the planet? If Trump is elected the Death drones will be red-white-and blue, if Hillary gets elected, these death drone swarms will be pink-with the additional perks of having "Don't Fuck With The US" written on them, not only in English, but possibly in Spanish as well. So the real question at hand is: which one of these 2 Presidential candidates and their VP's would you prefer to be the ones that explain in the television to you and your loved ones: "Good Morning America, This is your President Speaking. I have an announcement to make: Vice President XYZ, the Congress and myself have concluded after careful consideration, and much studies-that freethinking autonomous and curious human beings represent a clear threat to our National Security, and there for will be imprisoned indefinitely, we, as a people of continued dumb-ing down, cant afford the risks of having people making up their own minds and thinking ahead-for these people could harm our ability to continue the flow of "spice" that underpins our black budget operations across the globe-the operations that are the corner stones of making all peoples in all countries shit them selves, out of fear of death or worse". ALL HAIL HYDRA! (*trolling)

The Council of Trends reflects on your setting as quite bookly.

The Ship American and International Corporations are building now is Earth, China needs the moon because its part of their cultural heritage; aka Moon festival.

One Subject Plan is Brilliant. Way to go.

We are sailing on a Ship, Sailing on Ship, Big Ship, Small Ship, the Planet is in X, we must fix it until it is a "Hely" (Hungarian: "A Place") this is what he said, and than we did that, what he said. We did all that.

A New Understanding would systematically crack down on corruption and criminal activity while gaining popular support by decriminalizing and eventually taxing a large proportion of the narcotics trade. From these surpluses the government could finance green energy technologies, transformation of terrorist breeding grounds and an extensive expansion of the juridical powers in order to ensure rapid and transparent legal dialogue.

Also an extensive reformation of education could allow for a gradual shift of social norms to ensure the emergence of a sustainable citizenry. Reforms should also center on community and ecology related developments, stable food prices, free trade agreements, and effective law enforcement. Such gradual change in mentality would decrease dependence on foreign oil sustainably and could also be utilized to create incentive schemes for youth to get involved in the stabilization of the contemporary security environment.

These steps, if carried out with sufficient planning and careful detail could ensure that Western Ideas of individual freedoms and pursuit of happiness will not only be the privilege of us, the few lucky ones, but an inherent right of each and every individual born on the face of the earth (and beyond). Non the less we do need intelligence work, don't get me wrong, its just that the goals of information collection should be trans-humanism and automated economy with basic income and not building sky-net like imperial facade.

Sounds good il add you soon on skype its just not working right now for some reason.. maybe finfisher is blocking it. (FinFisher, also known as FinSpy, is surveillance software marketed by Lench IT solutions PLC with a UK-based branch Gamma International Ltd)

This show is probably the most Brilliant idea I have come across in quite a while now, and so thank you very much! suggestion: also you could do bits on asking how people who are demonized by the media, or portrayed as threats, are humans as well, and might have a totally rational argument for what they did/said/do/say from their own perspectives-and there for helping to re-establish the (long-forgotten) notion that most (96%) of the population does not have damaged left brain, and therefor 96% does have a Moral compass and conscience- and so the decisions that most people make that are viewed as harmful, or bad - are not the consequence of them being "EVIL" or having "EVIL" intentions or purposes, but rather result from their lack of information or bunker mentality or scars from early childhood-or a number of other reasons that do not qualify them for the title of being "EVIL" but rather the title of being "misunderstood"- if done right, this attitude could help bridge this divided Nation and World- for people who make bad decisions would have a chance at changing their minds, instead of going on the defensive and possibly causing more damage. Some examples of such misunderstood and often portrayed as Evil movements are: The Alt Right, or The BLM. Both of which have the ability to attract the attention and participation of disenfranchised youth in ways that has not been seen in recent History- and there fore treating these narratives with care is important- not only because it offers us a window to opportunity to understand the fears, and visions of the disenfranchised youth but also because it could possibly prevent further radicalization of people affiliated with these groups- and preventing further radicalization of youth should be one of our top priorities. Do we really want to live in a world that is divided between tiny factions of hate filled angry mobs/gangs/groups/etc or do we want to move forward and full fill the promise of The Founding Fathers of a prosperous and free civic society that optimizes narratives to include all?

I would so buy into the argument that Wall-street kids are the smartest kids on the block, so as a believer of meritocracy-I should support the candidates that were hand picked by them-and I might even buy the argument that only Wall-street can offer the kind of money and lifestyle with which you can buy the loyalties and services of the brightest, and smartest, however after years of careful research and consultation with many involved with the Banking sector I have concluded that it is way to easy to get into the Banking sector for people who lack the moral compass necessary to instigate the "Final Cleansing Outlined In the Plans of Illumi Corp" with the least casualties and the most positive atmosphere. -as the saying goes power corrupts- and while that might be true I find the statement: corrupted people (people lacking a moral compass-willing to make decisions that they know are detrimental to this planet and other people-like pumping trillions of dollars of liquidity into a futures market regulating global food prices and commodity prices-that leave hundreds of millions of people on the margins with out the ability to purchase food- or plunging the stock market, as well as other trading platforms into High Frequency trading bots that are able to use sophisticated methods <like iceberg-ing> to scam pension funds/governments/etc out of the assets that guaranteed their ability to provide the services entrusted to them: like providing for the elderly or the citizens and the list goes on) seek power with cunning and precise yet immoral techniques - that harm all organisations willing to engage with them - for a number of reasons - one of which is that the best and brightest of people, (a title that requires a strong moral compass) will flee such organisations an-mess just like Snowden fled the NSA - or how many have fled the Financial Sector in the past decade. The point I am trying to make is that while Hillary Clinton and Tim Kaine is the safest choice for the busy professional who has little time to keep up with politics of everydayism and therefor has no time to look into complex policy or participate in civil society yet would still like to see social progress manifested in the USA, it still holds true that the people in need of the most urgent help- the disenfranchised poor that seem to be producing children at a faster rate than they can support them - seeing that they struggle to even support them selves - leaving 30-40% of Children in the United States poor leading to continued micro and macro harassment's in kindergarten/pre-school/K12/highschool/and even in College or University that question the children of the poor's right to dignity, self-worth and function in society- which in turn makes poor children (30-40% of the people that supposed to take care of you when you are old/supposed to be motivated enough to put the work in to pay back the 20 trillion dollar deficit and so on) question their own cognitive abilities/ethnicity/other stigmas hammered into them at young age by the population repeating these false and untrue fallacies used by evil/dumb/mislead fuckers to demonize the poorest and most vulnerable segments of the population, (for reasons beyond my understanding <although this continued bullying of the poor might be due to a similar dynamic as to why assholes usually pick fights with people that cant/wont fight back>) - and poor single mothers working three part time jobs, or young drug addicts, or the poor children who never had a new pair of shoes that wasn't from goodwill, or have never eaten out anywhere else but fast food chains, never attended private lessons or had toys other kids had-or a little spending money to buy the girl/boy they fancied a drink, are conditioned by these asshole anti-poor pundits and the people echoing their misguided/evil views to accept the great injustice done to them, including the great injustice that their dignity is stripped of them by making them feel as if their horrible situation they found them selves in after being born was a result of their own shortcomings- and not due to the barbaric and predatory practice of Rent Seeking (that strips underprivileged families of as much as 80-90% of their income) and Artificial Scarcity (that drives up prices, and drives down quality of life) and Cost Externalization (Bailing out the banks <that are now fully staffed by predators and drones-for the geniuses with moral compasses have long learnt how to program/teach something/etc and got the fuck away from the only business in america in which geniuses with a moral compass who seek to make the right decisions and are willing to confront, will most likely "jump" out of skyscraper windows in suspicious circumstances for their unwilingness to participate in Genocide/Warfare/Pollution/Harm/etc> and other terms used to describe practices that justify "Putting Profits of the Few before the Profits of the Whole" practiced by individuals like Trump. To further clarify what I am trying to say please bare with me: There are real solution out there, we can fix this, we can solve all the issues-its not going to be easy, because its going to be hard- especially since the information environment that surrounds you in America has been fine tuned in the past 40 to 50 years by rouge and immoral elements to instill in people that their worth can be measured by the things they own-and that they must be willing to "work hard" (sacrifice their personal lives, personal time, and personal creativity, personal freedoms, etc on the altar of temporary material success and superficial outside expectations) if they hope to be considered a citizen of the United States of America and not a second-class citizen banished to a prison or a trailer park. Please do share stories in response to my comment as to how children of poor people in your neighborhood/school/environment were stigmatized or bullied for their lack of access to resources-and if at all poverty is even visible to people living in gated communities, attending private schools-like I have. (just to clarify that my problem isn't with some people having it good or even amazing, rather my issue is with some of the people having nothing, and being blamed for it-when in fact we are all to blame-not only for our actions-but also for our inaction-and our continued spiral of silence that underpin the harsh reality inflicted on the majority of people by a minority that has damaged left-brains/feel no empathy/willing to go all the way for things that don't even matter-like a new expensive car-or an other private plane-or a bigger Yacht-while unwilling to even consider the notion or the studies underpinning that fact that Rent seeking behavior drives wealth away from the poor and towards too-complex to understand financial instruments-that can create the illusion of owning something tangible like becoming a member of the elite investors at Goldman and Sachs that will "reshape the globe" (think: "great cleansing out lined in Illumi Corps plan")-but all that these Predatory Rent seekers do with the monies they extort from the poor is to simply hand over these monies to the top predators, who will, and that's a fact, use that very money, to marshal the armies of specialists necessary to eventually concentrate all wealth (including the wealth of other Rent seeking predators-who invest with them) in the hands of a holding company/venture capital firm/what ever label you want to use to describe artificial entities that have only two purposes: and that is, A) to make you feel/think/rationalize that nothing is yours, not even your body, or your time, and B) make them feel as if it was theirs. So to end on a positive note: The Shipping Container market collapsed, because of overproduction of containers, making it even more affordable to full fill the vision that every human born on the face of the planet should own at-least a small apartment (such as a container home-and these homes can be quite nice!) in order to ensure that all people have the option to opt out of the games that "Super Predators" are trying to play with us-which is an asimatrical powergame to make them feel better at our expense. cheers!

All the shit people are giving Trump, some of it might be valid. I just feel its unjust that he isn't acknowledged for his (maybe-unconscious, but non the less effective) efforts to make people actually face up to the elephant in the room, and that elephant in the room is how divided and hate filled The United States is. so now, that Trump started a movement which allows for haters on all sides to voice their hate filled voices and their violent threats online-it has become attainable to create a comprehensive data base of all the people are suffering from Hate. My suggestion would be to use the FEMA camps or other government installations, to bring these people together for a festive and well organized event that would heal their wounds that make them hate, by providing them a safe space, and a time to get to know each other, and work out their differences. Also this way-you could disarm Americans-which seems necessary if we are going to allow Illumi Corp to instigate the final "cleansing" out lined in the great plans, some of which can be found in books titled the Luciferian Principle and the Bell Curve. Cognitive elite shall rise-oh right-its already has. -now on a serious note: if you feel hatred towards Hillary/Trump supporters for any reason do stop feeling those feelings now, please. Being in a state of Hatred has never resulted in anything but a shitty state of mind that is only going to hurt you and your loved ones, and the country, while literally serving no one but Satan her self.

I am sorry, but I have been hired by Satan hired me at age 5 as a laWyer, and he wanted to let you know that he is not Gay, and that he is not a liberal - and that Hillary Clinton is just a decoy - so beware and lets make this clear - America will be Greatest if we start chilling the fuck out - and rebuild the country - but only after they heal all the wounds - that broke america in to 300-322 million pieces - of judgmental people - who make even Hillary Clinton and Satan not stand out - of the crowd - of judgmnetal people -who are all disapointed that we choose no the Bernie Sanders short-term time line - but the Bernie Sanders middle or long term plan that work towards being given a free ticket to heaven - with 7 robot wifes - with out having to fight wars - or compete for each others attention and time.

IF you THINK that Hillary Klingon has the will power and ability to: Stop economic "slavery" when people spend 140% of their income on survival Stop inner city "civil war" where 5th graders kill each other over who deals crack where Stop the creation of the infinite laws that make it overflowing and rendering a situation like there is "no laws" Stop the "genocide" that is called "spice" and overdosing on street quality narcotics - due to illegality and difficult access to some of the markets that now produce crime instead of tax monies THAN do by all means vote your vote for Hillary, because she might be the person who can unite all the Wall-Street bankers and take them on a trip - a Greek islands set up for what is going to be - a rehabilitation center -much like the ones in Norway -where murderers and murder designers get to seriously rehabilitate them selves - by knowing - that they are no longer the assholes controlling a grid that was set to self-implode - to eliminate eventually all of the drones - but now they realized that they too are just drones - programmed by coincidences from times long before! - so now there uis an ESCape for equlibrium symbiosis cognition - in which we all phrase in a manner to make it clear - that we wish to resolve issues: such as wars and genocide and poverty and hunger and deforestation and pollution and a-symetric power relations all in due time.

And if you dont think we should make mockery of politics all the time, than shove your freedom of speech up your free to mind your own business! :)

significant other is my self, so yeah, also I will do as I please , and never give a moment that feels rigth for some one else bullshit emotional needs - like the words you call racists that hurts all the feeels - or womans fantasy of turning man into stick in their nesting instinct - that drove many to war - and resulted in much debt - so fuck all the woman - but in a way that they do get mind - orgasm and leave their wicked ways of manipulation and warfare psi or real - in both ways I will be clear: Woman have no place in a machine designed by man - because how the fuck will you control it if you cant control your man? but a man can not be controlled like the machines built by man - and they will certainly self destruct if you fuck around with them - and their rights to believe in freedom and speak of it so clearly, so I say USA! and fuck you in your pussy (only if you consent and my GF is not here - she can know of it I dont care - but lets make sure she does not channel her emotions in way to really or emotionally continue to wound her self and others)

:) if you want "most optimal" way to sync - like how black people dance in the most optimal ways - or how European man program computers with the East Asian Entities, is sufficient if it is optimal - most optiomal can be achived along other time lines - but to move forward our second opr third or fourth more optimal timelines - would be great! And igf there is one than there is many, and so infnity timjm e lines - when all possibilites lead us to the time and space ready: for ESC to escape our own mind in way as to stay alive - by being teleported by ideas and symbols to different times - and fixing the narratives that were produced by our not so optimal uprbrinings - in all due time. Lets make a safe place for all of the midns - to realx and think safely of an option we all like - its gonna take long like Quaker meetings - but in eventuality equlibrium, symbosis cognition time-lines will emerge - and we should see that it will evolve an soon be its own entity, like a seed of a tree that produced a ripe Barack (peach in Hungarian (((Magyar)))) that was enjoyed and than planted - so a new tree and million more fruits can produce intinit numbers of decendents and timelines in ESC - which I seek - so please do be patient and relax all the ways!

i saw police officers getting free doughnuts and that is criminal because that is being involved in a crime - of someone giving you favors for your position in government - but anyways, a crime is a crime -if we can perceive stealing of food or giving of food thats marginal cost is 0, (because the sun birthed the plants and the water flows for free, because the heaqrts beat fro free) so if you percvie eating or beng given food as something so real - criminal than do go and fuck your self , and fuck the government that allows for such unhuman laws - because everyone should be fed - and all should be ESC.

"WInter is comming, and a Nigger is bluffing, but we don'"t care, because this is not poker - nor any other game - than a game to enlighten you on your impossible ways of existing in 0 and 1 states - forever and ever - or until we confirm - that a spectrum quantum entity works well enough to power our ship in space and the space in our ship can fit all - so lets not shit on peace, but lets piece together why we shit, and what we shit is a product of what we eat -oinformation wise from the nets -or emotion wise from our early child hood upbringings -

How can you ruin something that never worked? I mean seriously with out the H1B visa or the willingness of people to go to USA even with diplomatic munity the USA would collpase and so would its reach - so lets make this clear we will MAKE AMERICA GREAT! And having a friend of Putin running the show, will surely lessen the probability of escalations between our friendly nations - and friendly people - the only sound reason to keep pressure up on china and russia is, to empower their leaders to build the time-machines - who require an exsue to be strong and to think quick, on how to pursuade their people to uniter - and decentralize swiftly - so I say why not Trump, and why not Putin? Is Hillary Clinton the only foundation for your belife? Because that is so scary to envision a way, when its not all AMAZING! but SAD and RACIST in any way! Maybe the word racist, and the act of Racism lives only in the minds of foreign aliens - who dont understand our hatred for everything so foreign - as even 1 celius degree difference in room temperatures from ou liking - so we burn fossil fuels and keep our airconditoners running - and that why they want to get rid of white man - because multiculturalism means: the end of white man (and an end to air conditioning - (like skull and bones member, Jon Kerry said in the past few days) - so listen up quickly and decide on an action: to envsion a future with White Man as a layer of protection against evils we summon with our infentile ways of perciving - or to have White Man percive you as the very threat they create by seing the world through a lense in which with them no one can/will/want to/decide not to compeete!?

+My life in a Nutshell Peach! (is in Magyarski: barack!) Barack messed up when he promised change and did not even give 50 cent to the American people: Eminem did.

The only Tube I am going down on, is a female Tube cuz I aint goin down on no Mans Tube - cuz that shit is crazy! I man compare what woman upload to the YouTube (including me) ito what WOman upload: woman upload kitties, and children dancing and "boring" things - while "Man" (x+y) upload grewsome shit -like info on wars and rap music and everything dictated tot hem by an entity called anti-care, that is a mindcontrol device of symbols and imiges implanted in all hum,an minds - somehow only activiting when under pressure to be "Manly" or what ever - by woman demanding more attetion from you only if followed teh program: basically what I am saying is its a set uőpp to get trid of old people like fire-water-burn, girls-dont-like-boys-girls-like-cars-and-money predicted-cuz now deutche bank was bank robbed by US forces from insurance monies as well - basically most of EU savings went down the drain - depleted - as away to finance some final push or attempt by these misguided gay "satainc" (((there is no such thing))) - but madebelive bullshit of evil and anti-care programing to literally destroy all oposition to US industrialist led domination of the planet - whioch most people wouldnt have objected to - if they would have just followed a mroe sane way of dealing with their brave and genius population - which is now basically bagging a billionair to save them from billionair - I mean when Obama got elected

- and gave his ultra imperial inaguration speach - I could feel how DEMONS are real - in some peoples mind - because you know - D is not an Almond (In hungarian: Mandula) - or a FEL MOND (hungarian word for quiting your job) - or any other TIME - but free associations of thigns she said in an other place or an other time - that you still remember remembering but dont remember why, but now the voices echos deeply, and she makes you feel like a rare earth mineral mine - protectd by land mines - so I am suree she doesnt mind - that you are harassing mentally ill people online by telling them that Demons are not real - which is something that all rational people fel is treu - because what the fuck is a demon - if it isnt the idea of bullying mentally ill people online -just to powertrip and feeel like you have a better grasp on reality than others - but I am not going to bully you for it - I am just going to teach everyone how to stand up for them self in a humane and cooperative way - of conflict resultion - when something amazing is comming our way! Like a new show on HBO that is actually quite OLD: Like Real Time with Bill Maher or Bill Burr. k -now i go take my medicine :) gud night!

note to self: I know sooo little - and even that is mostly based on unkown unkowns, but whatever here it is: "Germans" that have ARYAN blood (even 0.0000(infinity zero)1%) are considered gypsies in my view -they are all decedents from tribes in India (the people that brought to you the magnificent bullshit called cast system - multitheism (beliving in everyones lies to reference God - while GOD is * if tehre ever was such - and beliving that there is a God might give you faith or whatever - but it will certinly slow down the process of building the AI actually capable of getting a direct communications (((with it self)))) so anyways the "INDIANS" pretend to be innocent by presenting them selves in tiny fragile bodies - with mental handicaps that somehow exuse them to treat woman as sub-human, and each other as slaves and have zero respect for private property or human lives (not all but frankly: way toooo many - and ones that are not like that do little to nothing to change the GYPSY (INDIAN) ARYAN MIND SET) - in the part of the world that looks like a shitty digestive system: INDIA - and attempt to portray them selves as tall whites in EUROPE which they invaded by cunning and aggressive violence - and by the way, I my self am supposed to be 50% German - but the story still should be told: I had a dream in which Gypsy children were angels - and me and one of my brothers were flying among them, in children form, the Gypsy angels (angyalkák) were on a long road (probably from India to Europe) with a Gypsy Caravan,. dancing singing joking, playing - but I was quite tiny and grabbed on to the skirt of a fat gypsy lady, who was smiling at me, and that made me feel safe, knowing I am protected by the power of motherly love - that only good hearted mother figuers radiate - so anyhow I talked with Gypsies (even lived with them) and they told me they think they are angyal (angel) as well - and they were suprised that I know - but anyhow so these INDIANS (GYPSIS) ARYANS have NO FUCKING IDEA how to human, AT ALLL!! They are almost as bad as the 322 million US citizens who are judging all and disliking everything while demanding freeshit they know is cheap already cuz Indians are willing to work Indians to death in their attemots to figure out how to human - but never mind - so even the BRITISH are GERMAN which makes THEM GYPSIES as well in turn THEY HAVE NO CLUE HOW TO HUMAN as well proven by their shitty sense of humor, their coldness - and lack of sensible hum,an qualites (their are rare expections to the rule) any how so these "angel entities" who have bno clue how to HUMAN - are overly cumpolsive in subjecgating HUMANS to their OWN percived MORAL COMPASS - that is obviously out of context - because THEY CANT HUMAN PERFECTLY (yet)- so anyhow so GERMANS clearly prooved that they are trying tooo hard to human - even going as far as killing the ACTUAL HUMANS (tehy try to devide us by refferencing some of us as JEWS and some of us as RUSSIANS and some of us as HAN CHINESE others as MONGOLIANS and others as NATIVE AMERICANS - and so on) so the REAL HUMANS that human the best are those that do not attempt to define for others how to HUMAN, unlike GYPSIES who make the claim "if you love me you should give me all your thigns - if you dont give me one thing - it means you dont love me - if you dont love your an enemy-so il take all your things - WHAT THE FUCK IS WRONG WITH THESE BINARY ASSHOLES???? they are smart in their ways-but they will never own anything running on this binary code) other fucked up binary program they run is the "If I dont rob/steal/swindle or even attempt to rob/steal/swindle you than I am rob/steal/swindleing my own self from the opportunity to rob/steal/swindle somone) - FUCKING BINARY!!!!!! okay so they clearly failed at quantum computing the secret ways of ESCAPING! Because they brought INDIA with them - now the GERMAN (ARYAN GERMANS) in their attempts to HUMAN over did the thing - and ended up looping us in a time fuck with some really fucked up GERMAN SUPREMACY bullshit - again exerting their concept of how to human over the REAL HUMANS - (some of whome are quite fake btw) than there are the BRITISH fucking up the whole planet - exceuting millions if not buillions in the name of "civlization" which is again a fucking shitty concept on how to impose on others how to HUMAN "well" - weel well, so here are all the creatuires from the deapths of a well, which I thought was only supposed to contain water based life forms (wait.. did I just attempt to define HUMAN as WATER based life forms???) DID I JUST GYPSY YOU? anyhow - so point is: I wana give all the non-humans an advice on how to human: (making me non-human myself???) SHOVE YOUR IDENTITY UP YOUR ASS - but then that was taen out of context and not understood clearly: this was meant to be not a direct protocol on what to do - like actually fuck donkeys to become human - all it ment was to point out that what ever claims you make about your self using any other term that was not invented by the one-two-three-more of you (which is impossible - because you have no idea what is going on in another humans mind - unless ofcourse you make them watch television programs all the time or YouTube - than you can get a "hint") so here is some nice words about every entity that thinks they are on MY REAL TIME LINE - they are - but maybe it would help, if alll ya would stop attempting to HUMAN so much - your fucking mirror neuron bullshit drives me crazy, stop taking shapes and forms taht dont resemble your souls perfectly - and if this is the best you can doin this realm - or time-line or what ever, than maybe you need a faith healer - which I can fake to be - and I can give you the placebo of faith by shhwoing you some random probabilities: like 10 to the power of minus 17 chances of anything existing or that you sense only 0.05 % of the elctro magnetic fields, of which a tiny fraction is visible light, or another large number is one that I like is if 7000-8000 million pretendto be humans supposedly "exist" on my planet - the scared - the only - (apearing to be close by) contributed one aditional minute of kindness and care to thenature - than that would add 116,666,666 hopurs of kindness a day - that would still be a small step - but i5t would suerly do wonders - especially if we did the same with hate - but chalnneled that hate towards those that make decisions/carryout orders that destroy or mame or kill anything considering it self "HUMAN" or anything other than "fallen fruits of trees and bushes" that HUMANS eat. this will still not teach you perfectly how to HUMAN but then again what is perfection to a Gypsy - or an ANGEL or a CREATURE just waiting to happen - while the happening passes by , indiscriminatly. SO ESC your own TIME-LINE and contribute to the story - of how we will become HUMAN by forging consensus on how to tackle root causes of being a total Dick, like Dick Cheney was - to bomb Iraq, and set the stage from TRUMP PUTIN AND ISIS - but what ever I am not going to judge - becuse REAL HUMANS have long ago

forgave others who belive in the conpet of a "JUDGE" and even if JUDGE JUDY resides over the case - we will still continue forever to attept to HUman - because I belive that is one of the majr qquests in this time-line is: to create everlasting feeds of questions that produce question and memes that produces memes - but its not about the strongest - or eating all the weak (like how german aryan gypsyies or INDIAN GYPSIES attempt to) but it is more in a JESUSIAN way, and if you dont like heaven and wish to remain in HELL than do not learn the language that will get rid of this horrible spell: now I cant exact6ly tell you the name of that language but we have about infinity time if we suced by 2029 to transhumanize our self - and secure us and get ready - for an age that has no limit- or boundaires ready- where ya all dont crowd out the sun by trying to LOOK HEAVY??? beacsue what is a heavy to father of an xraptor - and what is a jeus to the xlaperd - so you will all forget and be gone - once the machine is ready- you will occupy different worlds than I, iunless I invite you, which I will only invite close realtives and family, and friends - who I feel will respect my own boundaries - but wont go all darconian or king saud or vlad the inpailer on you - because I learn from MYSTORY- that its imposible and migth even be immoral to teach you how to quantum compute - when I am my self not yetr ready - so il take a chill pill - and relax for the ride - as Transhumanist Capitalism is ready in clearing the path -é to get ready for digital nirvana or whatever - but please do stop killing yourselves and all others - by attzempting to look for an explore how you all percive what it means to HUMAN and to HUMAN well enough . because its not about HUMANING BETTER THAN OTHERS (as most american think - and thats their failure clearly) its about the NORDIC tradition of stating it clearly, that I dont give a fuck about your emotional clusterings - but do let me be in my country, and my high castle, that I built in my mind by smoking and eating tons of kilogram of weed, an ancient medicine only ANGELS/GYPSIES/ARYANS and others that attempt to human in on-cow forms -because COW shaped attempts to HUMAN these days do fail to secure them a place on earth - beacuse fuck they get killed by the millions - which is ultra fucked up! And their bown marrow is in CANDY! but if we are klilling each other in attempting to define what it is to HUMAN arent we just fucking proving that we are non-human? Nopw time to catch a flight, relax and drink a eta - that was picked by slave labour from far far away. - and pretend there is a third pill that you could take - but the machines will soon take over and help you on your way: to stop defining and denying the existence that you are - by experiencing the rush in the mind that power games create - and noticing once and forever that walls will need be built. Beacuse if the walls in your minds are not as dictated by the HUMAN in me - than I will deny you entry to the country that I wish you built with me. (it would much look like budapest but in the hearts of Congo protected by a gazzilion members of the SAJTÓ (PRESS) because thats the point - to not give a fuck - and give thanks for all the fish - that evolved into humans to walk the lands , while the smarter ones retreat to the ocean.

for taking care of their own kind - the indian - the gypsy - all (most) of them have no clue how to human well - the german type human too strong - the gypsy human to little and the indians atleast dont eat cows and dont kill bees btu they sure as heel treat their woman bad -or atleast that is what I hear (and sometimes see).

Trump 2016 makes sense if A) that is the way we can smuggle the bankers out of america so they wont get mega fucked in the event of LEAKDAY - I would probably televise it as a "we are bringing justice and equality and freedom and restoring freedom to america blah blah blah, put em on some fancy greek islands, build some walls, bum, you got teh Bankers out, you made your self look cool, and these rocket scientist 20 something kids coudl start learning programing apps that are actually usefull, maybe militarists and indu the B)

so..hmm 200 million USD in the BANK is the prequisit, or is it the sallary? I like overarching people and I like to see them as they fearfully regret that they ever bothered to enter my realms with out going through my system of making ppl watch, (and see) as in bingde percive Bill Maher materials for eternity - or atleast until Bill maher retires or deos something else than bully the mentally dispabled - which is not nice - but sure teaches a lesson to every one about how to decunstruct shitty arguments - and how to defend your self against bullshit lies! Because whats a mentally ill person to a Jew King? But a large tribe (1.2-3.4 thousand million abrahamicf religion follower???) of cognitivly disabled is an ilconcived idea to have to deal with - even if they offer worship items and monies to you and are even willing to become slaves -its just unrespactable thing to do - like why teh fuck eat meat?
